Receives Fellowship For Special Study

This was announced by Mrs. William Harmon, chairman of the Garrett County Chapter of the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis.

The fellowship will finance extracurricular study for 10 weeks for Mr. Jones at the school. Purpose of such awards is to interest students in the concepts and techniques of rehabilitation by giving them an opportunity for specialized clinical study early in their schooling. Mr. Jones was nominated by the dean of his school.

Such student fellowships are awarded to a limited number of candidates from each approved medical school of the nation who have completed at least two years of their medical course and can devote two or three months' full time to study in the field of rehabilitation under the supervision of experienced clinicians.

March of Dimes fellowships and scholarships are a part of the National Foundation's comprehensive professional education program. The awards and grants have totaled $28 million since the National Foundation was established in 1938.

Beware Of Parasites In Young Animals

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure in control of internal parasites, says Boyd T. Whittle, extension animal husbandman, at the University of Maryland. This is the time of year when farmers should be watchful against parasite problems in young farm animals which have just been weaned.

Some of these parasites, such as tapeworms, rob the host animal of nutritional elements in feed. Others suck the blood of the host animal and cause anemia. Some parasites block small blood vessels or penetrate intestional walls. Still others may damage the liver or lungs of the animals.

Preventive measures, according to Whittle can keep parasite infestation down. He suggests that livestock be kept away from old pastures, low swampy ground, stale ponds, unclean water tanks, and old barn lots.

There are a number of new medicines helpful both in preventing internal parasites and in treating infected animals. However, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Sabres were held high for the bride and groom, the former Miss Sandra Sue Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, of Mt. Lake Park, and her husband, Sgt. Gregory Reynolds, of the U. S. Marine corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds, of Erie, Pa., as they emerge from Bethel Methodist church in Mt. Lake Park where the ceremony was performed on May 3.

MARRIED

Friend-Pullias— Avalon Heights Church of Christ, 28th and Douglas Streets, Washington, D. C., was the scene of the wedding of Mary Anne Pullias, niece of Mrs. Ralph W. Lewis, Mount Rainer, Md., and Jack D. Friend, Hyattsville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Friend, Friendsville. The ceremony took place Saturday, June 7, at 4:00 p. m.

The Rev. B. H. Hood performed the double ring ceremony before a background of baskets of white gladioli, palms and candelabra. The traditional wedding march was played and the vocal numbers, "Because" and "I Love You Truly" were sung a cappella by a group from the bride's church.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, James T. Lewis, Lewisdale, Md., wore a ballerina length gown of white lace over satin trimmed with seed pearls. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a crown of pearls and sequins. The gown was complemented with white lace mitts. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of white rosebuds, baby mums and baby's breath tied with white satin ribbon ending in love knots. Attending the bride as maid of honor was her close friend, Mary Stanbaugh, Tacoma Park. She wore a beige lace gown with matching headdress and shoes. Her flowers were pink roses. Little Linda Lewis, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a white dress and carried a basket of pink roses.

The groom's cousin, William R. Liston, Bethesda, served as best man. The guests were escorted by David Pryor, Baltimore, and Ross Clemensen, Friendsville.

A reception was held in the social room of the church following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake upon which rested a white swan and topped with a miniature bride and groow under a white wedding bell. The table was appropriately decorated with bowls of pink roses and candles. Mrs. Rebecca Parker, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake after the bride and groom cut the first piece. Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. Joy Flinn and Mrs. Harry Piffenburger, Jr., very close friends of the bride's family.

The bride is a graduate of Hyattsville High School, completing her higher education at Strayers Business College and Boyd's. She is employed as a private secretary by the Civil Aeronautics Association, Legislative Dept. Washington, D. C. The groom is a graduate of Friendsville High school and completed two years of work at W. Va. Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, W. Va. He completed his education, graduating from P. I. M. S. Pittsburgh, Pa. He is employed as an embalmer with Gasch Funeral Home, Hyattsville, Md.

Baltimore 14, Md.

The Editor
The Republican
Oakland, Md.
Dear Sir;

I would like to reply to an article, "The Pentecostals among us", which appeared in the Republican, June 12, 1958.

I am a Priest of The Episcopal Church and one who strongly believes in Orthodox Christinanity.

To the author of the article let me first of all state that some of the things set forth are very true. It is too bad that the Christian Church is not more zealous in many of its undertakings, due, no doubt, to the fact that we do not know the full power of the Holy Ghost and its effect on our personal lives and in the world.

Secondly, let me assure the author that the three main branches of the Catholic Church (Orthodox, Roman, & Anglican) agree with him that the gifts of the Holy Ghost are bestowed upon the believer after he becomes a Christian, as is plainly taught in Holy Scripture. This is commonly called Confirmation or the Laying on of Hands. This however, does not deny the fact that the Holy Ghost works in the Christian before this happens. For no one could become a Christian unless he is led to Christ by the Holy Ghost.

However, there are some definite difficulties stated in this article.

In the article the question is asked: "Were the apostles and disciples sinners at this time?" The answer given is: "No! I don't believe so". But the Scripture plainly states that no one is perfect and that all men are sinners. Even after a person becomes a Christian, he is still human, and since he has not yet reached the stage of perfection he is still capable of disobedience to God and sin. Only Jesus Christ was perfect.

With reference to the experience on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2:1-4), the most extraordinary gift was the gift of tongues. We cannot say exactly what this was, but Scripture tells us at least what it is not. It was not intended for preaching of the Gospel. When the Apostles spoke in tongues they did not address the people; they magnified the wonderful works of God in the various languages of those present, so they could understand. When St. Peter had to address the multitude (Acts 2:14) he speaks in the name of all, and being able to speak only one language at a time, naturally speaks his own. As soon as the preaching began, the tongues ceased. The other instances where speaking in tongues is mentioned is Acts (10:44-46 and Acts 19:6.) In the first passage the Centurion Cornelius and his family, after their baptism, spoke with tongues and magnified God. It was the same with the twelve disciples of Ephesus (Acts 19:6) who spoke with tongues and prophesied. None of these people had to preach. Finally, the man who spoke with tongues was not understood by those present unless an interpreter was present. These great manifestations proved visibly the continued presence of the Holy Ghost in the church and symbolized the great Catholic unity and universality of the Gospel, which was destined to speak all languages and to gather together all men in the profession of the same faith.

The specific role of the Christian is to "edify, exhort, and console," (1 Cor. 14:1). Prophecy is better because it has the advantage of being understood by the hearers and being profitable to the unbelievers. Everybody understands the prophet and can acquire benefit from his instructions; God alone understands the speaker with tongues. While the prophet edifies the Church, the speaker with tongues edifies only himself. For what is the use of a language that is not understood? In I Cor. (14:19) Paul says he would rather speak five words in his understanding than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue. In former times God threatened to make his unbelieving people hear a strange tongue which they would not understand (reference to the Tower of Babel). Should men boast so much of a privilege promised to unbelief?

Christians should receive the gifts of the spirit, but nowhere in Scripture does it mention one gift given exclusively and that a person should strive for one only.

I cannot elaborate fully on the statement of St. Augustine because the reference is not given as to the location of it. His literary activity covered a period of more than forty years, during which he wrote not only sermons, commentaries, apologetic, doctrinal, polemic and practical works and a vast number of letters, two hundred of which still exist. However, it is very difficult for anyone to interpret what he meant by the term "new tongues". He did not say unknown or foreign. He could have meant that they spoke with new power, etc. Also Augustine was a Bishop, at this time, he uses the pronoun "we", does he mean that he, a Bishop, as a successor of the Apostles does this by the laying on of hands? However, most Pentecostals do not even believe in Bishops, or care about the Apostolic Succession.

It is surprising to me that some Christians go to the Encyclopedia Britannica as a manual for religion and doctrine. However, Father Divine's Peace Movement, practices speaking in tongues, and it, too, is growing by leaps and bounds. According to this logic God is using this movement, which I seriously doubt, since Father Divine claims to be God himself.

One must be very careful not to bow down to the god of numbers. Just because a group is big, or growing fast, does not necessarily mean that they are the chosen ones. The group of Christians during the life of Christ was always a small group. There is no hope in scripture that people will flock into the Christian Church, the Bible usually speaks of a remnant being saved. Statistics just quoted mean nothing, especially Church statistics because different groups compile membership figures in different ways. They must be explained and clarified to have any meaning. For example, the author of the previous article states that there is an estimated five-six million Pentecostal believers, but Life Magazine June 9, 1958, page 124 states that there is eight and one half million Pentecostals.

In conclusion the whole article shows evidence of lack of complete knowledge of the Holy Scriptures and teachings of the Fathers and practices of the early Church.

Sincerely,
The Rev. John F. Rollman

Editor's Note—Last week's article, "The Pentecostals Among Us," was written by Rev. James L. Addair, and should have had his by-line. For some unknown reason, it was omitted when the story appeared.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Strange word . . . FRESH!

Once it meant young . . . unspoiled . . . without blemish.

But American slang has made it the tag of the impudent, the forward, the ruthlessly agressive youth.

What does this change in a word mean? Do we distrust the young? Do we resent boys and girls today?

On the contrary, it reflects our clearer understanding of our task as parents. For we have given youth greater freedom. But we have understood that this freedom demands careful guidance, particularly in the moral and spiritual realms. We dislike the fresh child. He is the evidence of somebody's failure to provide the essential guidance.

So modern America is turning with fervor and confidence to its churches. They provide the religious training that tempers youthful freshness with respect, reverence and faith.

Who Are Strong?

Lesson for June 22, 1958

IF YOU see a "Strong Man" advertised on the midway at the State fair, you know what he'll be. You expect to see a man with legs like pillars, with arms like bundles of cables, a man who can lift hundreds of pounds without so much as puffing. But a muscle-man isn't necessarily a strong man. It is not our muscles that make us men; gorillas have powerful muscles but they are still gorillas. This is not to say anything against athletes or athletics or healthy bodies. These are all good. But the point is: the characteristically, unmistakably human thing about human beings is not their muscles, it is their mind, their spirit. A strong man is not strong in the full human sense of that word unless his strength shows somewhere besides his bones and muscles.

Dr. Foreman

Lone Wolf

Another wrong notion of what a "strong man" is, can be seen in many popular plots in novels and TV dramas. There the strong man is often the man who is a sort of lone wolf, playing a lone hand, a man without partners or intimate friends. Now there is some truth in the idea that "he travels the fastest who travels alone," but strength is not in stand-offishness, it is not in being a law to oneself. The story of Samson in the Bible has its comic moments, but it is really a tragedy, for it is the story of a man who looked strong, indeed he had no reputation for anything at all but strength; yet he wasted his strength in useless stunts, and never became the strong leader that the times, and his people's needs, demanded. His people, the Israelites, were very much under the thumbs of the Philistines at the time. First and last, Samson caused the death of hundreds of those Philistines, yet when he died his nation was still no nation, only scattered hill tribes dominated by the Philistines' power.

Power of God

Place in comparison Samson and Jesus. Or if you think that is unfair, then contrast Samson and Saint Paul. In a wrestling match Samson could have broken Paul's neck; but only in his muscles was Samson the stronger man. Or if you think that is still unfair, contrast Samson with another of the "judges" or heroes of old Israel, the one his friends called Jerubbaal and we call Gideon. These were both men of the people, called by God to heroic deliverance of their people from oppression, invasion and slavery. Gideon accomplished his task; Samson failed. What was the difference? The student can identify a number of differences; but crowning them all is the fact that Gideon put himself and his abilities at the disposal of God for the benefit of his countrymen; while Samson's powers were used for Samson. Even the spectacular slaughter of his dying moments was—in his own words—revenge for one of his lost eyes. A purely personal vengeance.

Who Are the Strong?

Who are the really strong today? Not the weight-lifters, the professional muscle-men. Not the lone operators, setting their wits against every other man's. The truly strong are those who devote all the powers they have to God and his cause, to justice and peace in the world. The strongest are those who know best the secret of inner strength. Paul was, as we just noted, no giant. But it was little Paul who could say "I can do all things through Him who strengthens me." It was this same small yet mighty man who could write to young Christians in the Roman Empire, men who were not gladiators nor soldiers, about being "filled with all the fullness of God," and prayed for them that they might "know what is the immeasurable greatness of his power in us who believe" (Eph. 1:19). The greatest tragedies of life are not the men in wheel chairs, paraplegics, polio victims. The greatest tragedies are in the lives of men and women who—though they might have been filled with the power of God, might have lived strong victorious lives, have turned away from God, lived only to themselves, and wasted even the powers they had.

Results of Questionnaire — We can now report the results of our questionnaire. Tabulation of the results proved to be a big job, and we had to crowd this work in with our heavy office work whenever we could.

We were particularly pleased with the response. For several weeks, every mail brought an arm load of answers. The questions seemed to inspire many of you to write us in detail about some of the issues, and we appreciated this. We are glad to know exactly how our constituents feel about these governmental matters which are in the public mind.

At a later time, we will offer our analysis of the results. It will suffice now to give the simple results without comment. The Percentages shown here are for the State of Maryland as a whole. The first figure is yes, second no; and third, no opinion, in percentages.

Helen G. Nair
Vs.
Robert David Nair
No. 4849 Equity In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant and the guardianship and custody of the infant child born of said marriage, viz., Mary Ellen Nair, about four years of age.

The bill states that on the 16th day of October, in the year 1952, the plaintiff and defendant were married and lived together as man and wife at Friendsville, Garrett County, Maryland, until the 15th day of December, 1952, at which time the defendant abandoned and deserted the plaintiff.

That although the conduct of the plaintiff towards her husband had always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said defendant without cause or reason abandoned and deserted the plaintiff and has not lived or cohabited with her since said desertion.

That such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than three years and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties is beyond all reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

That the said parties have one child born to them as a result of said marriage, viz., Mary Ellen Nair, about four years of age, and that the plaintiff is advised after making a diligent search for the defendant that he resides somewhere in the State of Ohio, and that he is a non-resident of the State of Maryland. The bill then prays that the plaintiff may be divorced a vinculo matrimonii from the said defendant, that she may be awarded the guardianship and custody of the infant daughter born of said marriage, general relief and order of publication against the said defendant.

It is thereupon this 10th day of June, 1958, ordered by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Garrett County once in each of four successive weeks before the 4th day of July, 1958, give notice to said absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill warning him to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 19th day of July, 1958, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

MARRIED

Wigfield-Sines— Miss Elinor Viola Sines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Sines, of near Oakland, was married to Joseph Lemuel Wigfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley L. Wigfield, of Frostburg, last Friday evening, June 13, in the Assembly of God church, Frostburg. Rev. Hartley L. Wigfield, Jr., officiated.

The chancel was banked with palms, standards of white summer flowers and candles.

Mrs. Hartley L. Wigfield, Jr., was organist, accompanying Mrs. Ana Cross, Cumberland, soloist, and also playing the traditional wedding marches.

Mrs. Luke J. Bowman, Oakland, was matron of honor. Mrs. Neil Grayson, Baltimore, Mrs. William McCoy, Cumberland; and Miss Dorothy Myers, Bridgewater, Va., were bridesmaids. Miss Janice Fike, Keyser, was junior bridesmaid, and James I. Bowman and David L. McCoy, Frostburg, were ring bearers.

William McCoy was best man and Neil Grayson, Baltimore, and William Torbet and Donald Squires, Cumberland, were ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice of lace, long tapering sleeves and scalloped neckline. Front panel tiers of lace and nylon tulle ruffles alternating flowed from the sides into the back of the gown. She wore a fingertip veil of French illusion attached to a lace tiara of tulle and tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and carnations with a natural orchid center.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Frostburg State Teachers college. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the table. White wedding bells, white tapers and bouquets of white flowers completed the bridal decoration.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Fort Hill High school and served with the navy for two years. He is employed by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company. The couple will reside at 733 Hill Top drive in Cumberland upon their return from their honeymoon.

Beall Lauded For His Voting Record

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall's 100 percent record of registering his "Yea" or "Nay" on every roll call vote taken during the first four months of the present session of the Congress was cited last week as indicative that he is "one of the nation's hardest working legislators and a man who refuses to duck issues."

The praise was given to Senator Beall by D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the Republican State Central committee of Maryland. Mr. Rinehart noted that he actually was present 97 percent of the time and by entering a live pair (pairing with another absent member) for the other 3 percent of the votes.

"This record of service becomes all the more impressive when we realize that the average senator responded to only 63 percent of the roll call votes," said Rinehart. The record shows that Beall's record is consistent with his past performance. In 1957 he participated in 95 percent of the roll call votes and had his stand recorded on 98 percent.

Freedom to Advertise . . .

Another invasion of our dwindling freedoms was chalked up last month when the Bureau of Internal Revenue took action to try to gag private industry from using advertising to fight government competition, according to an editorial in the American Press, a magazine for newspaper people.

The ruling in question was that advertising placed by electric utility companies, and presenting their side of the public vs. private power controversy, could no longer be deducted as business expense for income tax purposes.

The American Press declared: "We can't think of a more American way for business to battle for its rights than to take its case to the people by the use of advertising space. Surely this is more to be desired than secret, behind-closed-doors lobbying, which seems to be the alternative.

"It is our hope that the electric companies will not only fight this ruling in the tax courts but will go a step further and use part of their advertising space to acquaint the people with this attempt of the government to 'gag' them. Freedom to advertise is an important part of freedom of the press, and should be guarded with equal care. It is, in many cases, the one vehicle through which business can 'speak out in open meeting'."

This goes far beyond the fight over who is to produce this country's electricity. If a tax penalty can be used to prevent any man, any industry or any group from stating his side of a case, one of the most essential of the freedoms supposedly guaranteed by the Constitution is on its deathbed. And government bureaus, tax weapon at the ready, will decide what can or cannot be said in the advertising pages of our newspapers and magazines. And wouldn't that be a fine mess?

Quotas become effective on approval by two thirds of the eligible wheat growers voting in the national referendum. In Maryland 522 persons or 81.6 percent voted for quotas, 118 persons against. Approximately 16 percent of eligible Maryland voters voted in the referendum.

Lunches at Southern Get In Big Figures

If anyone were to ask you how many lunches were served at Southern High School, during the past school year, how many would you guess—twenty-five thousand? Fifty thousand? Would anyone guess 100,000?

Well, believe it or not, the person who guessed 100,000 would come closest to being correct.

In a special report, completed this week by Carl Everly, vice-principal at the local high school, it was revealed that 95,590 lunches were served to students and teachers.

The report also showed that 172,638 bottles of milk were served in the cafeteria.

Other interesting figures also revealed that cost of food used in the cafeteria amounted to $28,759.13. Total expenditures, including labor and equipment costs came to $37,727.01. The final report showed a profit of $52.39 for the year. "A complete copy of the report is available at the school for anyone who cares to study it," Mr. Everly stated.

The school also served 6,581 free lunches to needy children.

Southern's cafeteria is managed by Mrs. Clarence Rollman of Deer Park. Her assistants are Edna Nicholson, Genevieve Friend, Mae Bell Weimer, Dorothy Simpson and Mildred Harvey. Mrs. Rollman and her staff usually arrive at school between 7:15 and 7:30 each day and begin preparation to serve the students who begin eating at 11:00. The last lunch period ends at 12:50.

In closing out the school year, W. Kenneth Johns, paid tribute to the cafeteria staff members for their "efficient and capable service." "We are indeed grateful for the fine wholesome, hearty lunches served to our boys and girls each day," he said.

U. S. plans to build a radio-radar satellite detection fence.

Hospital Now Using Own Water System

The Garrett County Memorial hospital is now using its own water system and will no longer be dependent upon the town for its suppiy.

Work was started about two months ago to provide the building and storage tank necessary. A block building 10 by 20 feet was constructed in rear of the hospital with hospital labor. It houses a 2,500 gallon water tank.

The well was one dug several years ago by the town but never used to any extent. It is 365 feet deep and was cleaned out and a test made by the county health department.

The well furnishes 38 gallons per minute and the hospital uses on an average of 400 gallons per hour. A ten horsepower deep well pump is used to force the water into the storage tank and from there it is forced through the hospital's water system.

Henry W. McComas, administrator, said it would take about four and one-half years to depreciate the cost of the system, after which time it would save the hospital about $100 per month.

Forestry Officials Inspect Projects

Federal and state forestry officials yesterday took a trip into the county to inspect work done on the Potomac river and Little Youghiogheny watershed projects.

Frank Paradise, of the reginal office of the U. S. Forest Service at Upper Darby, Pa., and A. R. Bond, assistant state forester, were among those on the inspection tour.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said there are three separate programs under way in his district. The Potomac River watershed from Hancock to its source in this county started a number of years ago; the Little Youghiogheny started in 1957 and the Georges Creek project in Allegany county started in 1958.

The department is seeking to promote better forest land use and effective forest fire control and to improve timber cutting and logging practices. He said from the standpoint of watershed protection, skid and logging roads are being located with certain maximum grades and a stabilization of such trails. There is reforestation of critically washing areas as well as abandoned farm land. The over-all program is also designed to increase the water holding capacity of the soil and reduce the immediate runoff of the watersheds.

Around seventy-five percent of the county taxes on real estate have been collected thus far this year, according to figures released by Joseph H. Welch, county treasurer. The discount period for paying county taxes will end on June 30.

Mr. Welch said he had collected $328,720.74 in county taxes in the six months' period up to June 25, and had allowed taxpayers $16,399.63 in discounts. He is expected to collect $423,657.30.

The personal property tax is being paid separately this year, and some $26,000 has been paid thus far out of an estimated $70,000 to be collected. Business personal property is assessed at $1,465,420, and farm personal property at $2,061,127.

Discount will still be allowed on county taxes paid prior to July 1 at the rate of 3 percent. The five percent discount will be allowed on personal property taxes paid prior to July 1. These tax bills were sent out late and the full discount was allowed.

Advise Tree Growers On Pruning Plans

Forest plantation owners who expect to thin some of their trees for sale at Christmas and commercial tree growers are being advised by foresters to prune the trees in their plantation to gain maximum symmetry and bushiness. The Maryland Christmas Tree Growers Association advises that the period from now through the middle of July is the best time to prune Red, White and Scotch pines. Pines pruned during this period produce new buds where cut is made, and after several prunings a high quality tree will develop. Hedge shears are normally used for the operation which begins when the terminal or top leader is cut back to 10 or 12 inches. The remaining lateral or side branches are then cut to conform. Care should be taken to cut only in the new growth. Short needled conifers like Spruce and Fir are pruned during the dormant season from late fall until early spring.

Tree growers desiring further information on shearing or pruning are asked to contact R. Thomas Thayer, Jr., Assistant District Forester, at the Court House in Oakland.

On Dean's List

John White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. White, R. F. D., Oakland, made the Dean's List at Bridgewater College the second semester, according to the Registrar's Office.

To make the Dean's List at Bridegwater, a student must make at least one "A" and "B's" or better on all the other courses he carries. Only 10½ per cent of the total student body succeeded in measuring up to this standard the second semester.

Mr. and Mrs. D. U. Maffett, of LaVale, Cumberland, were Sunday guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. A. A. Scherr.

Comparison Made On Election Costs

A comparative study was made this week concerning expenditures of the Board of Supervisors of Elections during the change-over to the permanent registration system, and the first election where voting machines were used, in comparison to the expendifures for elections where paper ballots were used.

The County Commissioners in 1956 levied $51,000 for voting machines. This was not used until 1958 when 36 voting machines cost $54,648.00.

Expenditures over the past year, exclusive of the voting machines, totaled $12,573.31, with the general election in November yet to be counted. Costs of the continuing registration are also tabulated monthly.

Salaries of the Board of Supervisors members and the board's attorney run $300 per year, exclusive of travel expenses, mileage, etc. The chief registrar received $250 per month, while the Democratic registrar received $167 per month.

The levy in 1956 for the election was $19,050 and of this amount $12,094.20 was expended. In 1954 the levy was for $19,000 with expenditures being $16,695.40.

The levy for 1958 was for $18,074.50 which included $6,700 for registration and election salaries; $8,374.50 for other operating expenses; $1,500 for contingent; and $1,500 for capital outlay.

Already spent for capital outlay is $2,542.22, including a super file for $1,850.25; a cabinet for $216.25; voter cards of $214.20; book case section of $42; storage cabinet of $47.95; miscellaneous supplies of $76; and a legal file of $86, and a clock for $9.57.

Salaries were as follows since last June: Ward Hinebaugh, $300; Rodger Bond, $300; Harvey Gortner, $300; Russell Smith, $1,650; C. C. Nathan, $300; Miss Julia Rowan, $1,000.02. For travel expenses, mileage, etc., there were these additions: Ward Hinebaugh, $317.20; Rodger Bond, $201.50; Harvey Gortner, $171.80; Russell Smith, $140.40; C. C. Nathan, $92.40.

Other expenditures: telephone, $228.80; electric $7; Oakland Printing company for supplies, $194.80; insurance on voting machines (2 companies) $863.44; labor, 2 persons, $10; office machine company, supplies, $11.10; Lou Stemple, painting signs, $10; Economy store, Lonaconing, supplies, $30.96; Sanders Motor freight, moving voting machines, $123.75; Ralph Pritts, rental of building housing voting machines to September 15, 1958, $500; Cumberland office supply for return sheets, $192; specimen ballots, $107; binders, $283.60; ballot labels, $40.50; absentee ballots, Republican, $19; absentee ballots, Democrat, $17.25; other supplies, $124.70.

Browning Hardware, $38.15; Motor Service company, moving voting machine, $5; Supplies from Goldsmit-Black, $13.52; Oakland Lumber, $2.70; The Republican, advertising, $60.10; W. E. Shirer, making file supports, $36.50; Hamill's Stationery, $31.26; Ankeny company, Cumberland, supplies, $34.45; Typewriter sales, $3; Bertie Thrasher, clerical work, $132; Stanley Callis, custodian for machines, $268.50; Joseph Frantz, custodian for machines, $267; office machine, $2.50; Automatic Voting Machine corporation, $6.49; rental of places for election and custodial services $298; salaries of judges of election, $1,394.60.

A complete comparison would not be possible until after the general election in November, but preliminary figures indicate that the permanent registration set-up and the use of voting machines will cost the county considerably more than the former set-up.

Married at Deer Park Church

The Full Gospel church, Deer Park, was the scene of a pretty summer wedding on Wednesday afternoon, June 4, at 2 o'clock when Miss Louise Kitzmiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Kitzmiller, Mt. Lake Park, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert J. Klier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Klier, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar banked with fern and white summer flowers, by Rev. E. W. Blizzard, pastor.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a high round neckline and long pointed sleeves. The full length skirt was of white nylon over satin with lace inserts ending in long sweeping train.

Miss Geraldine Smith, Bulter, Pa., was maid of honor. She wore a full length gown of pink lace net over taffeta with matching headpiece and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of red rosebuds and white pompons.

Miss Patricia Ann Kitzmiller, sister of the bride was flower girl. She wore a waltz length gown of white flocked nylon and pink net with matching headpiece and carried a basket of rose petals decorated with red and pink rosebuds.

Louis Boucher, Milwaukee, Wisc., was best man. Ushers were Dwight Kitzmiller, brother of the bride; Norman and Robert Kyle, Bayard, W. Va. Rodger Shaffer, of Deer Park, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Lo Donna Fitzwater, Swanton, played the traditional wedding marches and also accompanied Miss Jo Hamill, Deep Park, as she sang, "Why Do I Love You," and "The Lord's Prayer."

THE TOWER OF BABEL

(This story is based on Genesis 11)

HELLO BOYS AND GIRLS! Do you know how many languages and dialects are spoken in all the world today? About 2800! How many languages do you suppose were spoken in Noah's day? Just ONE! Just think how much time, money, and effort would be saved if all the world today would speak one language, say, English. You could roam thru any country in the world without an interpreter and feel perfectly at home. All the world would be like one great family! Then why isn't this so? Why have we such a "babel" of languages? The Bible tells us how all this came about.

Do you know how many nations inhabit the world today? Eighty-eight! Just think of it! all these nations sprang from Noah's three sons, Shem, Ham and Japheth. The Hebrew and Mohammedan races came from Shem; the colored races from Ham, and the Caucasian races sprang from Japheth. After the flood, as men began to multiply, God wanted them to scatter all over the earth. Had they obeyed God, all the world would still be speaking but one language. However, some of Noah's descendants, headed by Nimrod, "a mighty hunter," and grandson of Ham, rebelled against God's plain command, and refused to scatter all over the world. They were afraid that another flood was coming, even though God had given His word that there would never be another universal deluge. Even the rainbow in the heavens, the token of God's promise, did not convince them. Disobeying God's express command, they settled on the great "plain in the land of Shinar," and began building the world's first city, and an immense tower, — the world's first skyscraper. Why do you suppose they built this tower? Because they did not believe God's promise, and wanted this tall structure to reach to the clouds, and thus to try to prevent another flood. They called this tower Babel — "the gate to heaven." In this tower they worshipped idols of wood and stone, and also the sun, moon and planets. Higher and still higher rose this tower, and had they succeeded in carrying out their plans, all the world would be idolaters.

What do you suppose happened? The children of Shem and Japheth prayed to God to stop the wicked in their track, and "God came down to see the city and the tower which the children of men built." With one stroke God thwarted the evil designs of those idolaters, and here is how. The tower of Babel was by then as tall as some of our modern skyscrapers. But they did not have elevators in those days such as we have today in tall buildings. So they stationed men on different floors to convey messages down below to send up the various materials they needed up above. Suddenly God confused their language, and as a result no one understood what the other wanted and could not carry out their orders. Angered by the confusion and delay, the workmen began to fight one another, and the work on the tower stopped. Then God sent lightning from heaven against the tower, and the upper section of it fell with a great crash to the ground. God called the city and the tower Babylon, which means, confusion. To this day there is an immense mound in the Near East, called 'Birs Nimrod' where the tower of Babel once stood, and this mound is a reminder of how foolish it is to defy God. And the "babel" of languages in the world today and the confusion and hardship resulting from it is but another reminder that transgression does not pay. So remember, boys and girls, to disobey a plain command of God only leads to confusion and often ends in tragedy. The path of strict obedience is the only safe path.

Bert Ream Knows Indian Who Claims To Be 116

A new story of an Indian chief which recently appeared in the Times-Leader newspaper of Martin's Ferry, Ohio, brought back clear memories for Bert Ream, of Swallow Falls.

Chief Red Cloud of the Black Hawk tribe, is claiming that he is 116 years old and that he is the father of 39 children. He claims birth on March 7, 1842. He has been married four times.

Mr. Ream said he knew the chief well when he lived at Cadiz, Ohio, twenty-four years ago. At that time the chief claimed his age to be 92. Ream returned to this county shortly after that but still remembers the Indian clearly.

A picture of Red Cloud appeared in the Martin's Ferry paper. After he married his present wife, at the age of 92, he became the father of four children. The chief was born in Tulsa, Okla., and has personal memories of every American president since Abraham Lincoln.

About 40 years ago the chief traveled with his own medicine show. He attributes his longevity to the regular use of certain herb medicines which he makes himself. Mr. Ream said he knew the chief was well versed in the use of various kinds of medicinal plant roots.

Fourteen years ago the chief fell and broke a leg. Four years ago he broke an arm in a fall. In both instances the bones knit easily, a thing that doctors say is quite unusual among elderly persons. The chief is mentally alert and in good physical condition.

this is no Steeple!

The Army calls it "Nike," an anti-aircraft weapon that is vital to our defense.

And you and I bought it! Yes—gladly!

Every week a part of our earnings is withheld for our nation's needs. In addition, many of us buy a bond a month to invest in America's strength. We want forever to be free. That's why we bought "Nike."

But a land born of the Pilgrim's devotion needs more than rockets to defend its soul. America needs steeples—steeples strong and sure in their upward aim! It needs steeples that call men and women to the quest for God's peace . . . that lead boys and girls in the search for God's way.

And as many as are conscious of this deep, spiritual need find joy in GIVING to our churches . . . regularly . . . generously.

Voice for God

Lesson for June 29, 1958

WHAT does the voice of God sound like? That is an important question, but perhaps a rare one. For the Bible, and all religious experience, teach us that God more often than not speaks indirectly rather than directly. The practical problem that all serious - minded people have to settle is: Out of all the many voices that claim to be speaking for God, how can I tell which really are voices for God? To name only a few, there are the Pope, and Mary Baker Eddy, and Joseph Smith, and Billy Graham, and Oral Roberts, and the Jehovah's Witnesses, and the local preacher, and maybe your mother-in-law, all laying claim, one way or another to be telling you exactly what God wants you to do. There were, and there still are, true prophets and false. How do we know which is which? How can we tell the genuine voices for God?

Dr. Foreman

A Strange Story

Back in the Old Testament there is a strange incident about an old man and a young boy, Eli and Samuel. The old man was a high priest, the boy was only a helper around the shrine. Yet one morning the boy came to the man and gave him a terrible message, a message which, he said, God had told him to take to the old man Eli. It was one of the most horrifying predictions that could come to a man. Yet after Eli had heard what the boy Samuel had to say, the old priest's only comment was: "It is the Lord; let him do what seems good to him." Now, perhaps we can get some light on our problem, if we inquire, How did Eli know that Samuel's voice was genuinely a voice for God?

God Is No Echo

First of all, this did not sound like Samuel. It was not the kind of thing Samuel would have liked to say. Eli was his oldest and best friend, he was (as we would say) his boss. A word from Eli and young Samuel would have had to go home to his mother. Saying what Samuel did (the whole story is in the Bible material for this week), was likely to lose him an old friend and to risk his position and future. Further, it was most certainly not what Eli wanted to hear. It was not by any means a comforting, encouraging message. There are people who claim that "God" is only a name for the projection of our wishes; a great loud echo in the sky, echoing our dearest desires. Not at all. The true God is no echo. Even a lazy incompetent man like Eli (for priest though he was, he was a mighty poor one) knew better than that.

In the Middle of Conscience

In the second place, Eli knew that Samuel's voice was a voice for God, because it hurt him in a sensitive spot, namely right in the middle of his conscience. Now persons without a conscience, or a conscience seared by sin, or twisted and half-demented, have not this way of knowing. But Eli had still, we may believe, some genuine spark of conscience in him, though he had poured the cold water of indifference on it these many years. This voice that came to him in Samuel's boyish treble was still a true voice for God, because it told him what, deep down, he knew was the truth. He had been doing wrong. He who was expected to be spiritual leader of his people had been (literally) asleep on his job. He knew he deserved no good from God. And when Samuel told him so, Eli knew that Samuel was a voice for God.

Voice for God and Voice of God

A third point is this: The voice for God, any true voice for him, does not contradict the voice of God. Now Eli did not have our Bible; but he did have some of the early part of it. He had some knowledge of the Law of God as it had come to his forefathers in the Ten Commandments. What Samuel told him was exactly in line with what Eli must have understood to be the genuine voice of God. We today have a much fuller and clearer revelation than Eli had, in our Holy Bible. As a New Testament writer puts it, God in these days has spoken to us by his Son. Any voice, claiming to be for God, that contradicts what we know of God in Jesus Christ, we can ignore; for we can be sure it is the voice of a faker.

With Your Congressman
DeWITT S. HYDE

The question of gifts is a thorny problem that confronts public officials—elected and appointed—throughout their careers. The question of receiving gifts is a personal issue of morality and good conscience; it is not a matter of law.

The problem of "influence" deserves much more serious consideration than it has received. Recently, the press and radio have devoted a great deal of attention to the question of "gifts and influence." Yet, three months ago efforts on my part to interest Congress in erecting legal barriers which could be used to support a refusal to intercede in behalf of a friend or constituent received almost no comment or attention.

My bill, H. R. 11624, would make unlawful outside interference with the exercise of the judicial functions of the Federal regulatory agencies. I believe that passage of my bill would create public confidence where it is now badly needed—confidence in the decisions who act as judges in deciding matters involving significant property and personal rights.

For the second time since I became a Member of Congress, I have introduced legislation for a Washington Area Authority to regulate transportation. This time, I introduced a Joint Resolution granting the consent of Congress to the States of Maryland and Virginia and the District of Columbia to enter into a compact for the regulation of public transportation in the Washington Metropolitan Area by an interstate authority.

Hearings on my C & O Canal National Park bill will be held June 30 and July 1 in Room 1324, House Office Building, at 10 A. M.

I am happy to report that the House has passed and sent to the Senate my bill to provide for additional stream valley parklands for Maryland.

TO THE CITIZENS OF GARRETT COUNTY

Those Additional Tax Bills:

Those tax bills that we have recently received for taxes on personal property, such as farm machinery, stock in trade, etc., have been the cause of much concern and I have been asked to explain the reason.

It all came about as follows:

Sears Roebuck & Company lodged a suit against the State Tax Commission to prevent the collection of taxes assessed on their stock in trade at full cash value, without making allowance for inflation. The Court of Appeals ruled that the assessments were unlawful because, as the Court interpreted the law, if allowances were made for inflation on real property, then the same allowance for inflation must also apply on personal property, including stock in trade.

Assessments had been made on all personal property without allowing for inflationary factors for many years. Taxes likewise had been collected on that basis also. All but a few big corporations had paid their taxes for 1957. The Court ruled that the taxes collected unlawfully should be returned.

To require the State and all the counties to return the taxes to all the taxpayers would have created quite a problem. The taxes that had been paid by all the farmers on farm machinery and other personal property were involved. The taxes had been collected and the money spent. To raise the money and return the taxes would have required a heavy increase in real estate taxes, and then hundreds of large corporations with millions of dollars worth of machinery and stock in trade would have escaped taxation on their personal property altogether.

Faced with this dilemma, the Legislature when it went into session in February of this year passed a law making the past methods of assessment valid. The Act that was passed had the effect of setting the decision of the Courts aside. The Act of the Legislature did not change the law, except to make valid the method of assessment on all personal property that had been practiced for many years.

The law reads in part as follows:

"Whereas, it is the intention of the General Assembly to classify real property separate and distinct from personal property for assessment purposes to the end that allowances for inflation may be made in respect to real property, but not in respect to personal property; And

"Whereas, the State will lose substantial revenues as a result of the Sears Roebuck decision unless remedial legislation is enacted, and made retroactive to January 1, of 1957; And

"Whereas, the great majority of taxpayers have paid taxes upon stock in business without protest, leaving only a small number of protesting taxpayers to whom the Sears decision will be applicable unless remedial legislation is made retroactive; And

"Whereas, it is the intent of the General Assembly to effectuate the policy of the State Tax Commission and the other taxing authorities of this State as it existed prior to the decision in the Sears case, this policy being to allow for inflationary factors in real estate assessments, but not to allow for such inflationary factors in assessment of personal property."

The law then goes on to provide that for purposes of county taxation such stock shall be assessed at sixty per centum (60%) of fair average value for the twelve months preceding the date of finality.

The decision to split the tax bills this year and send them out at different times with the real property on the first tax bill and the personal property on the second tax bill, which was recently mailed out, was arrived at by the County Commissioners. I did not know that they were planning to do it that way. Their reason, however, was that they wanted to wait and see what action would be taken by the General Assembly this year.

It should be remembered that we have always paid this tax, the only difference being that we have heretofore received tax bills with both our real estate and our personal property assessments included. The law enacted this year only validates the method of assessment on personal property that has been in use for many years passed. There is nothing in the law that makes higher assessments necessary, or that will justify any increase in your taxes.

Yours truly,

There's Gas—at 8,700 Feet!

Deep-well drilling for natural gas by companies of the Columbia Gas System is expected to provide new supplies of this "wonder fuel" within our operating area.

Natural gas was discovered and first put to work here in the Appalachian area. And here, too, more people are using more of this fuel than in any other comparable region in the United States. To meet this ever-increasing demand, much of the gas you use now comes to you from the Southwest. Our deep-well drilling program aims to develop hitherto unexplored gas-bearing formations closer to home.

This constant search for additional reserves is your assurance that sufficient quantities of modern, efficient natural gas will be available to meet increasing demands in the future.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Helen G. Nair
Vs.
No. 4849 Equity In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant and the guardianship and custody of the infant child born of said marriage, viz., Mary Ellen Nair, about four years of age.

The bill states that on the 16th day of October, in the year 1952, the plaintiff and defendant were married and lived together as man and wife at Friendsville, Garrett County, Maryland, until the 15th day of December, 1952, at which time the defendant abandoned and deserted the plaintiff.

That although the conduct of the plaintiff towards her husband had always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said defendant without cause or reason abandoned and deserted the plaintiff and has not lived or cohabited with her since said desertion.

That such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than three years and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties is beyond all reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

That the said parties have one child born to them as a result of said marriage, viz., Mary Ellen Nair, about four years of age, and that the plaintiff is advised after making a diligent search for the defendant that he resides somewhere in the State of Ohio, and that he is a non-resident of the State of Maryland. The bill then prays that the plaintiff may be divorced a vinculo matrimonii from the said defendant, that she may be awarded the guardianship and custody of the infant daughter born of said marriage, general relief and order of publication against the said defendant.

It is thereupon this 10th day of June, 1958, ordered by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Garrett County once in each of four successive weeks before the 4th day of July, 1958, give notice to said absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill warning him to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 19th day of July, 1958, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Reviving the Fourth . . . .

President Eisenhower's suggestion that everyone pitch in to aid in celebrating the Fourth of July this year is a reminder that there seems to be a revival of interest in the nation's prime national holiday.

Governor McKeldin also proclaimed a responsible citizenship week and urged groups of the Maryland Committee of the Theodore Roosevelt Centennial Commission to have some special observance in honor of the former President on the Fourth of July.

He asked that the day be made an occasion for each of us "to review the foundations of freedom, renew his faith in freedom, respond to the challenge of freedom, accept the responsibilities of freedom, and give his heart to America, his symbol of freedom."

Theodore Roosevelt was one to support and promote the principles of good government.

Boisterous celebrations on Fourth of July began to wither on the vine thirty to forty years ago, but this is no reason for the fundamentals back of the Fourth of July to wither too.

The American Newspaper Publishers' Association this year has repeated its customary promotional effort in behalf of the "Primer for Americans," which is set forth as a creed of patriotism and a declaration of our intention to perpetuate the observance of our nation's natal day. The "Primer" is a recital of a list of American beliefs, rights and principles, all of which are familiar to citizens. The conclusion is a list of principles of individual responsibilities like "the individual is responsible for himself and his family," and "the only way we can have more is to produce more."

We don't need the bang-up celebrations of former years, but there is every reason for making a serious study of our freedoms and make a determined effort to keep them before us at all times.

Oakland FFA Group Wins in Farm Safety

The Oakland chapter, Future Farmers of America, won the Western Maryland farm safety contest sponsored by Nationwide Insurance company and was presented a medal by H. M. McDonald, state supervisor of vocational agriculture at the Maryland FFA convention last week-end at College Park. The farm safety contest, according to Richard Bishoff, vocational agriculture instructor, concerns itself with identification and elimination of hazards on the farm. He said twenty-three boys of the Oakland chapter participated in the program and made safety surveys of their home farms under his direction. Walter Livengood, student chairman of the program, was named to attend the national farm safety council meeting in Chicago on October 22.

Attending the convention last week were Tom Glotfelty, Raymond O'Brien, Ken Bachtel and Mr. Bishoff. The former was chosen vice-president of the Maryland FFA organization for the coming year. Corrects Impression On Fishing For Pike

Edwin M. Barry, chief of fish management for the State Game and Inland Fish Commission, has advised that many anglers have the wrong impression about the stocking of predator fish in Deep Creek Lake.

Barry said these fish, such as northern pike and pickerel, are not placed in the lake to provide sport for anglers but are being used in an attempt to bring the fish population into balance.

Following a test a few years ago at the lake it was determined that the waters had too many yellow perch. The predators were placed in the lake to kill off the over supply of perch.

Barry has asked anglers who catch either pike or pickerel to return them to the lake.

Tractor Upset Kills Woman at Short Run

Beulah Mae Calhoun, 44, wife of Elmer Clinton Calhoun, a farmer in the Short Run area near Kitzmiller, was killed instantly early Tuesday evening when a farm tractor overturned.

Mrs. Calhoun had been operating the tractor in a wooded area near her home, and about 4:30 p. m. her husband went to the house. She started homeward with the machine. When she did not arrive her husband investigated. He found her about 7 p. m. along the road, with the tractor turned over. She apparently was thrown from the vehicle in such a manner that her neck was broken.

Polio Campaign Fund Far Below Average

A report was issued this week that the infantile paralysis campaign in the county early this year raised a total of $1,946. This is less than half the amount raised the previous year and came at a time when most people were of the opinion that polio was licked.

Campaign chairman Charles L. Briner said this week that polio was not licked and noted a recent case in this county that the local chapter is caring for financially. He said that in the past two weeks the Garrett County chapter had spent $350 on this case and expected to spend nearly $1,000.

There are three cases in the county that the local chapter is continually spending money for braces, shoes, etc., and this year expenditures have amounted to $285 for these cases.

In order that there will be no need for further cases of polio, the local chapter is urging everyone to contact their physician or the health department in order to get their three inoculations that will make him immune to the disease. Briner said every one up to age 40 should have the three shots.

The county chapter received a check this week for $3.00 from the Allegany Ballistics laboratory, near Cumberland, to be applied to the 1958 polio drive.

Mt. Lake Voters To Elect Two As Councilmen

Will Also Vote On Proposed Amendment To Charter

Mountain Lake Park citizens will elect two councilmen at an election to be held on Tuesday, July 8, from 1 to 7 o'clock, daylight time, and it will also vote on a proposed amendment to the town's charter.

Council candidates are Arvey M. Ritchie, Orville Kitzmiller, Earl Sebold, Joseph Turney and Clinton Shrout.

The proposed amendment to the charter of Mt. Lake Park would give the Mayor and Council the power to increase the tax rate on property up to $1 on each $100 assessable property. The limit under the present charter is 60 cents.

H. M. Weeks, mayor of the town, said it was the intention of the council not to raise the rate any more than ten or fifteen cents on each $100 of valuation. He also indicated the council did not propose to employ a tax assessor. They have had authority to do this since 1931 but have never exercised that authority.

Anticipate Record Number Vacationers In Area Over Fourth

A record breaking crowd was anticipated around Deep Creek Lake for the Fourth of July holiday period. This was being aided by favorable weather which was scheduled to continue throughout the week.

Most cottages and motels were filled and there was a rush of activity on the waterfront.

This will offset somewhat the meagre business in June caused by the unseasonably cool weather. The cool weather was not only in this area but all through the Eastern seaboard. Business men in the Pocono mountains, at Ocean City, and along the New Jersey seacoast all complained of the lack of customers during the month just passed.

The Deep Creek Lake section will be the only area teeming with activity, with the possible exception of Accident and Terra Alta. At Accident a Fourth of July celebration is planned by the Accident Volunteer Fire department. A parade is set for 10:30 Friday morning with visiting firemen and local organizations participating. A picnic will be held in the Spoerlein Grove where kiddie rides are set up.

A parade also is scheduled for Terra Alta, W. Va., on Friday morning.

The Mothers' Auxiliary and sisters of the Little Leaguers, under supervision of Mrs. Norman Wine, president, will sell Booster tickets and decals. The tickets will help finance the league for the coming season.

Following the Booster game an all-star team will be picked to meet Frostburg in the district playoffs at Oakland on Monday, July 21. William Finch will manage the all-stars and will be assisted by Harrison Stewart. Clarence Stem, president of the Little League, will be tournament director.

The teams are wearing new uniforms purchased for them by their sponsors.

Bloomington Road Contract Awarded

A contract for road construction in Garrett county amounting to $610,808, was among road contracts awarded in June by the State Roads Commission totaling more than three and one-half million dollars.

The contract was awarded for the low bid submitted by Burkholder and Burkholder, of Washington, D. C.

The project will begin at Bloomington-Swanton road, route 135, and continue along Backbone Mountain southwesterly to a junction with State route 38. This construction when completed will provide a direct connection between Bloomington, Kitzmiller and Oakland without using the Baltimore and Ohio grade crossing at Swanton.

The improvement is due for completion, weather permitting, by October, 1959, and includes grading, drainage and surfacing of 2.561 miles of flexible pavement.

Summer Playhouse Set To Open 4th Season on Tuesday

The summer theatre is all set to open its fourth season next Tuesday evening, July 8, with the presentation of the play "Janus." There will be a performance each evening, Tuesday through Saturday, starting at 8:30 o'clock at the former Arden Boat club at McHenry.

All members of the summer theatre arrived in Oakland last week-end and are located at Hemlock Hollow, summer home of the director and his family, Gene Yell. Mr. Yell and family arrived a few weeks ago and he has been at work since that time getting the theatre in shape, arranging new seats and making necessary changes.

There are five characters in the first play of the season and will feature Neil Flanagan, Helen Camp, and Bill Pappas, veterans of previous summers, plus Bill Lang and Dee Ann Mears, both new this year. Lang is a student at the University of New Mexico, is a resident of New Jersey, and actually played a small part in "My Three Angels" here two years ago, replacing Tom Turney, local talent in a Saturday night performance. Miss Mears is from New York at present but is a native of Maine. She will appear in a major role in the second week's play.

Harvey Jean Peterson, also a newcomer, is working with the local property committee this week, headed by Mrs. Charles Briner. Al Hadley, newcomer, will be the technician and will play parts during the summer. He is a native of New Mexico.

Helen Camp will take the part of Jessica, wife of Neil Flanagan, the school teacher. This part originally was played on Broadway by Margaret Sullivan. Flanagan plays the same role he took at Pinehurst, N. C., earlier this spring.

D. G. Buckles is back this year but in the role of a director. He will assist Mr. Yell in the various productions.

The sale of season tickets, under the direction of various organizations of Oakland is progressing satisfactorily, Mr. Yell said. Organizations receive a percentage of the ticket sale.

Ushers met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Stanton.

The season subscription includes eight admissions for $10. General admission is $1.76 including tax. Children under 12 are admitted for $1.10.

The cast will go to Frostburg Monday night to present the play in the Community Series being held in that city. Rehearsals have been held all this week.

Condemnation Suits Entered In Court

Two petitions for condemnation have been filed by the State Roads commission with the clerk of the Circuit court Richard L. Davis, and will be heard within the next several weeks.

They are against the H. Weber and Sons company, Ralph Weber, president; and Mary Bond Weber, mortgagee, in the one case, and Mrs. Anna Bittinger, Lawrence E. Bittinger, Keith Worting and Mae Beckman, in the second case.

Several months ago the Roads commission notified these and other parties of their intention to take property for the improvement of U. S. 219, and state route 135, between Oakland and Mt. Lake Park, and toward Gortner.

It offered the H. Weber and Sons company $12,765 for 17.45 acres of land, also 6.178 acres for drainage, easements, etc., and 1.73 acres for stream changes. It offered Mrs. Anna Bittinger and others $7,920 for 1.44 acres of land, .05 of an acre for slope and drainage, and .02 of an acre for stream change. There are frame dwelling on both properties, one across from the Weber greenhouse, on the first property, and one at Gortner, across the highway from Shorty's Service station, on the second-named property.

The parties have refused the offers of the Roads commission. The money is already deposited with the clerk of the circuit court.

Workmen during the past week have been engaged in clearing the right of way from the 9th street area of Oakland eastward toward Mt. Lake Park, veering southeast from the present roadway just beyond Cee Dee tavern.

County Roads Group To Start Screening 40 Miles Roadway

State Roads Completed Its Work Last Friday

The State Roads workers in Garrett County last Friday completed the oiling and chipping of some twelve and one-half miles of state roads in the county according to Edward P. Kahl, state roads engineer.

The improvements were made to six and one-half miles of route 495 between Swanton and Bittinger, two and one-tenth miles of U. S. 219, from Red House to Gnegy church; three and nine-tenth miles of U. S. 219, from Red House to of the Oakland-Crellin highway.

The state has some 160 miles of state roads in the county, but some of them are concrete pavement and do not require the surface treatment.

County To Start Monday

The County Roads department will start Monday, July 7, in its program of oiling and screening and plans to improve some 40 miles of county roads, it was announced by W. W. DeWitt, county roads engineer.

He said that the tremendous cost of snow removal during the past winter will curtail some construction and resurfacing work this summer. A total of $40,000 was set up in the road budget for snow removal and the county spent about $160,000 or four times as much.

However, some work is being done. He pointed out that the county had completed a mile of black top on the road from Sebold's turn to Hoyes, that a new bride had been contructed across Deep Creek near Sines; that there was a road improvement job under way in the New Germany section, an improved road from Kitzmiller toward Bill Upperman's and a mile of improved road was under construction at Fairview-Corunna.

Browning's Seeks Injunction Against Mayor and Council

Latter Wants To Construct Curbing Along Business Property

Browning, Inc., grocery and hardware store in Oakland, is seeking an injunction against the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland to prevent the construction of curbing along several hundred feet of the Browning property in front of the store.

At the June meeting of the council the council had authorized curbing a part of Third street in front of the Browning store, leaving a 30-foot opening at the alley, an opening at the junction of Green and Third streets, and an opening of 40 feet at the northern end of the lot.

At the April meeting, and upon recommendation of Corporal Sam Conrad of the State Police, it was decided to try a three-lane traffic system on Third street, from Browning's store to the Court House alley with no parking meters on the east side of the street.

In the petition for an injunction, filed in the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit court, C. H. Browning, president of the corporation, declares that there has not been a curb there for several years, that the curbing was removed several years ago by order of the Town Council and state officials, that other business places in the area are not curbed, and declares that the Mayor and Council has singled out Browning's and ordered the curb to be so constructed that access to the premises "would be discouraged and hindered."

He claims that the action is "arbitrary and capricious and that construction of the curbing is not in any sense essential to safe and convenient use of U. S. route 219."

He further claimed that route 219 was a part of the state highway system and that the council was without legal authority to order such curbing.

He asked that an injunction be issued restraining the council from placing the curbing.

Construction work got under way Monday morning but only for a short time.

It was ordered by the Circuit court Monday, Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley presiding, that the Mayor and Council show cause within fifteen days why the injunction should not be issued.

ENGLANDER'S PHARMACY Monthly News

A Message from
Clinton W. Englander,
"Your Pharmacist"

Every July 4th we celebrate Independence Day.

In this wonderful country people are not regimented by the state and forced to give up their own way of living.

Everybody is free to live their own lives as long as they do not take away the privilege of others to do the same.

That is why socialized medicine will never be popular here. People want to be able to choose the particular physician they prefer, not one directed by the state.

Another freedom is the privilege of selecting your own pharmacy to compound your prescriptions.

Recognizing this principle, physicians in veteran hospitals are instructed by law to write a prescription for patients who want their own personal pharmacy to compound their medicines.

When it is more convenient for a prescription to be telephoned to a pharmacy, your physician will welcome your telling him the phone number of the pharmacy you prefer.

Should you select us to be the pharmacy of your choice, we will always appreciate your preference.

WARNING!

Maryland law provides a heavy penalty for cutting trees on other people's property.

From date of this notice, further cutting will bring prompt arrest and full enforcement of the law. I sincerely regret this is necessary.

Income Taxes Went Up Tuesday, July 1

A three-cent tax on each pack of cigarets also took effect the same day which made it four cents in this county. These levies are a sort of "warm-up" for what lies ahead.

Next January 1 the sales tax will rise from 2 percent to 3 percent on purchases of more than 50 cents. Then the taxpayer will be responsible, when he files his state income tax return in the spring, for a half year of the increased tax which was not withheld.

The two big taxes, income and sales, were increased by the General Assembly after a floor battle to provide $33 million needed to balance a record fund budget of $177 million. The Legislature, overriding the veto of Governor McKeldin, enacted the cigaret tax to provide a salary increase for teachers.

With the beginning of the increased withholding the effect of the tax measures thus first will be felt at the beginning of the fiscal year. Actually, however, the legislators made the income tax increase, from 2 to 3 percent on the taxable base, retroactive to last January 1.

Machinery for withholding only now is completed, and the taxpayer will have to provide a lump sum for the first six months of the calendar 1958 when he files his return next spring.

By making the income tax increase retroactive the legislators were able to defer the sales tax increase until next January 1, the eve of a new legislative session which may face more heavy tax problems.

The state cigaret tax will be paid in addition to local taxes in several jurisdictions. The law forbids importation of more than two packs of cigarets from outside the state but the comptroller's office has promised to be reasonable in its enforcement program.

To Make Air Study Of Oak Wilt Spread

Final plans for an air reconnnaissance next week for oak wilt infection in forests of the four westernmost counties of Maryland were made Tuesday by William H. Johnson, district forester, and A. R. Jeffrey, entomologist, who is oak wilt coordinator for the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture at Harrisburg.

The two took an air trip over Piney mountain and other areas in an effort to spot the disease.

They located five possible infected areas during their flight 600 to 800 feet above the tree-tops. They also met with two men, Rex Davis and Carl Brown of the Division of Forest Disease Research of the Northeastern Forest Experiment Station, Upper Darby, Pa.

They are establishing a study of plots in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland in order to do research work relative to the spread of the wilt.

The area selected for study will be marked and posted requesting that it will not be disturbed for a period of three years.

Maryland and Pennsylvania forestry officials are cooperating in the survey next week. Areas believed to be infected in Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties will be marked on a map and ground crews of Johnson's office will go into the woods to make a closer check on the areas.

Plans for a joint dinner meeting sponsored by the Republican State Central committee and the Republican Women's club were discussed at a meeting of the Republican women at the Grantsville Fire hall Monday evening, June 30. A dinner committee was named including Mrs. George Edwards, chairman; Mrs. W. W. Grant, Mrs. Newton Coplin, Mrs. Louise Renwick, Mrs. Paul Fisher, Mrs. Pauline Selby, Mrs. Elizabeth Ridder, Mrs. Virginia Keller.

The part women can take in promoting the party's welfare and growth was discussed. Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, president, quoted Miss Bertha Adkins, Republican national committeewoman as saying that women should get all information possible about their party and world affairs. She said they should give warmth and friendliness to the party.

The voting record of DeWitt Hyde was distributed and discussed. Members were urged to get people out to vote in the general election in November. Mrs. Maxine Broadwater, Grantsvile, was listed as a new member. All were urged to seek new members.

The group will have a county-wide picnic at Bittinger recreation area Monday evening, August 11. Women from Grantsville served refreshments at the conclusion of the business session.

New Driver Cards Irking Operators

The new auto driver licenses being issued by the State are being termed by neighborhood operators who have received them as "cheap, flimsy, easy to copy or forge, and in some cases illegible."

The relicensing laws require that all of Maryland's drivers renew their permits between June 30 of this year and December 31, 1960.

The deadline for those whose last names begin with A, B or C was Tuesday The D, E, F and G group has until December 31, 1958; the H, I, J and K licenses expire on June 30, 1959; L through O have until December 31, 1959; P through S until June 30, 1960; and the rest until the last day of that year.

The type of copies being received are only photostatic copies of the applications and are made on paper used for photostatic reproduction.

Recipients are pointing out that the paper is easily torn and in no way resembles the sturdier permits possessed by Maryland drivers. It was said there was nothing to stop a person from having 50 or 100 photostatic copies made from the ones received.

The Legislative Council of the General Assembly has received complaints from state officials claiming that many minors could get forged drivers' permits to use for proof of age in taverns. The photostats are taken from an application made out in the applicant's handwriting. The reproduction process, coupled with individual handwriting peculiarities, has made many of them almost illegible.

James B. Monroe, commissioner of the Department of Motor Vehicles, has been asked to appear at a meeting of the Legislative Council in Baltimore to discuss the new form.

In the process of mailing out the applications to the first group it was found that more than 50,000 motorists are not living at the addresses shown in the department's files. Of the 329,000 forms mailed in the first group about one of six was returned by the postoffice department stamped "unknown," "moved," "left no forwarding address," or "no such address." The law requires that the Department of Motor Vehicles be notified promptly of any change in address. While a number of the 50,000 missing drivers are certainly dead or have moved to another state, authorities feel that thousands of auto operators in Maryland are using permits bearing incorrect addresses.

Senate voted approval of a repeal of taxes on freight.

MARRIED

Baum-Thompson— Miss Ann Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Finley Thompson, Cumberland, became the bride Saturday, June 28, of Paul Harold Baum, son of Mrs. Harold D. Baum, Grantsville, and the late Mr. Baum, in a ceremony solemnized in Centre street Methodist church in Cumberland. Rev. Carlton M. Harris officiated.

The chancel was decorated with baskets of white gladioli, babysbreath and lighted cathedral tapers in candelabra standards.

Miss Pauline House sang "O Perfect Love," with violin obligato by Miss Pauline Cira, and accompaniment by Mrs. Robert Gormer, organist, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Miss Peggy Thompson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Carolyn Baum, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Charlotte Barnes, Virginia Beach, Va., were bridesmaids.

Donald Legacy, Fredericksburg, Va., was best man. Michael Shaffer, Cumberland; Kenneth Railey, Grantsville; and Joseph David, Bryn Athyn, Pa., were ushers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of re-embroidered lace over clouds of soft nylon tulle and satin. The regal silhouette, with sabrina neckline was enhanced by the front and back redingote effect of the skirt. A tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of French illusion and she carried a white Bible covered with white orchids with a shower of stephanotis.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church reception room. Arrangements of white gladioli, white asters, ivy and white tapers were used in the decorations of the table and room.

Mrs. Charles A. Nuzum, Mrs. Calvin Keiter and Mrs. N. C. Johnson were hostesses. Mrs. Walter N. Hedrick and Miss Lois True presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Herbert Nesbitt served the cake.

The couple left for a northern wedding trip, the bride wearing a two-piece blue mesh chemise dress, with white accessories and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride was graduated from Narrows, Va., high school in 1952, and from Madison College, Harrisonburg in 1956. She was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority, Kappa Delta Pi education society. She is also a member of the Orchestra, Music and Arts club and A. A. U. W., of Cumberland. She has been a teacher of music at Cresaptown Junior High school.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Grantsville High school, class of 1948, and is a senior at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in architectural engineering. He served two years in the army signal corps and is employed with Neilan Engineers, Somerset, Pa. The couple will reside in Somerset.

Grantsville Team Wins One Loses One

Zihlman snapped the six-game winning streak of the Grantsville Sluggers in a game played Sunday at Zihlman 8 to 4. It was the third meeting of the teams and Grantsville had won the first two games of the series by the scores of 9 to 7 and 8 to 4.

Haberlein, Zihlman pitcher, shut out the visitors until the 9th inning when an error on a double play ball set off a Grantsville rally that produced four runs. Haberlein yielded eight hits and fanned five. Earl Gracie went the distance for the Sluggers, gave up nine hits and struck out five.

Ronnie Diehl and Junie Perry shared four of the losers' eight safeties. One of Perry's wallops was a two-bagger.

The loss failed to knock Grantsville out of the runner-up spot. Barrelville and Hyndman are tied for first place with 12 victories and two losses.

Grantsville won its Saturday game against the Mt. Savage team 12 to 9 at Grantsville. Bobby Dawson came on to relieve Earl Gracie in the Fifth inning after the latter took over mound duties for starter Rabbit Keister in the same inning.

Junie Perry blasted a three-run homer in the third inning and added a double and single to his achievement to take batting honors. He accounted for four of the winner's tallies. Jim Keister rapped a double and single in five trips. Cain had two hits and Keister had three singles and Ralston doubled in two runs to carry the brunt of the Sluggers' attack.

What does he see? A school of minnows? A shining pebble? Or his own wavering reflection?

Whatever it is, he sees through the wonderful eyes of a child. God's creations are new and bright to him. He is fascinated by the sight of a bee searching for pollen. He marvels at the color of autumn leaves. He is enchanted by the brilliance of a star.

Somewhere along the line, most of us lose our childhood vision. We forget to wonder. We forget to marvel. Sometimes we even forget God.

We can get our perspective back into sharp, clear focus through the Church. We can recapture and strengthen our love for God.

If you haven't noticed, lately, how many miracles take place in your daily life, start going to Church. You'll soon see.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
International Uniform Sunday School Lessons
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Justice and Mercy

Lesson for July 6, 1958

FOR the next three months, the 80 denominations using the "International Uniform Lessons" which these columns follow week by week, have chosen the general theme of Social Justice. Since some of our readers, or friends of our readers, may have some questions in their minds about this, let us clear up one or two points right away.

It Won't Wash Out

One thing that preachers hear sometimes, when they preach on social justice or any part of it, is something like this: "Why don't you stick to the Gospel? Social justice is the affair of courts, of politics, it belongs anywhere but in church. You stick to religion and leave social justice alone." Indeed, believe it or not, some ministers who have said a brave word for social justice in exceedingly unjust situations, have been called communists for their pains. Such objectors just aren't familiar with their Bibles. This week's Bible material is mostly from the Old Testament, the next week's is going to be from the New. In either Testament it is made quite clear that social justice is part of true religion.

Dr. Foreman

Not An Invention of Cranks

Some people have an odd misunderstanding about social justice. They think it's a hobby of eggheads, an invention of cranks; at best a special interest, something to be taken or left as you like. At worst (though it is hard to realize any one could be so stupid) it is supposed that social justice is a sort of copyright interest of communism,—a lie which communists themselves are only too happy to spread. The simple fact is this: Social justice means treating all human beings with justice and with mercy. Admitted, it is hard to strike a balance between mercy and justice; nevertheless that is the way every sane person wants to be treated, himself; and the principle of social justice means no more nor less than giving everybody, so far as we can, the same sort of treatment we want (and sometimes demand) for ourselves.

What's Religious About It?

Social justice is everybody's affair, not a hobby for a few. But if this is so, what can be specially religious about it? There are religions that take no interest in this; but we are speaking for the Christian religion, the faith of the Bible. Two facts are a vital link joining social justice and religion. One is the fact that the irreligious man is pretty cold to what other people need and rightly want. If I can "get my cut," that's all I ask. When blessings are passed out, I want to be near the head of the line. That's the way the irreligious mind works. Such proverbs as "Look out for Number One," "Every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost," express this selfishness. The second fact linking religion and social justice is that in the Bible, God himself is known as the God of justice and mercy, or as our newer translation puts it, justice and "steadfast love." Human justice is rooted in the fact that we are created by, and responsible to, the God of justice; and human mercy is likewise rooted in the character of the God who made us in his image.

Love Without Hypocrisy

"Let love be without hypocrisy," said St. Paul to the Romans. (Rom. 12:9, A.S.V.) The one commandment Jesus singled out as First, is, Love God with all your heart and mind . . . not half of it! Now it is hard to love God and not love what he stands for. It is impossible to love God and not love the kind of God he is. A person who claims to love God, but who at the same time low-rates or brushes off social justice, raises doubts as to the sincerity of his professed love for God. Can one truly love God and not wish to be like him? Perhaps the greatest single obstacle to Christianity, that is to believing that its claims are true, are the people who with their lips (let us say in hymns or otherwise) profess to love God, and yet in their daily lives show the love only for themselves.

With Your Congressman DeWITT S. HYDE

The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill to exempt the unique features of professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey from the antitrust laws. Our antitrust laws are not designed to regulate team sports. Their purpose is to prevent monopolies and to insure competition and free enterprise in trade and commerce in goods, wares and merchandise.

Sports are a business, and in many instances a profitable business, but they do not lend themselves to regulation under the antitrust laws. Congress should draft legislation designed specifically for sports if regulation is needed to protect the interest of the participants, the spectators, and the public.

I testified before the House District Committee, of which I am a member, in favor of higher pay for our school teachers. My bill to provide for salary increases places the Principals and Assistant Principals of the D. C. Vocational Schools in the same category as all other Principals for salary purposes. My bill will leave the classification of positions in the school system with the Board of Education.

My Joint Resolution authorizing the D. C. Commissioners to issue special regulations for Shrine meetings in Washington in September was passed by the House.

The Frederick County Health Center has received $111,000 in Federal money under the Hill-Burton Act toward the cost of remodeling and alterations. The total cost of the project is $539,320.

The Joint Committee on Washington Metropolitan Area Problems will hold public hearings on economic problems, July 8, 9 and 10.

I would like to call the people's attention to special registration dates in Montgomery County for the forthcoming elections which will begin on August 25. My office will be glad to provide specific information on dates and locations, or you may contact the Supervisor of Elections at the Court House.

A Cadaverous Record

Since 1948, the tyrants in the Kremlin have endeavored to construct a facade of respectability about the Iron Curtain with the illusion that communism has "changed." With beguiling smiles, empty gestures, and disarming platitudes, the world has been told that international communism is improving, that it is different, more democratic.

Those whose minds have been captured by this insidious propaganda must have had their fanciful notions shattered last week by the heinous execution by the Russians of four leaders of Hungary's courageous 1956 revolt. Vile, brutal, beastly - these adjectives hardly seem adequate to describe another in an ever-increasing list of detestable atrocities which have been committed by the communists.

Khrushchev's path to power has been paved by the cadavers of those who dared to resist. To stamp out "Bourgeois Nationalism" in the Ukraine, this emerging Soviet leader, drunk with the taste of power, ordered the 1938 massacre of more than 10,000 people in the city of Vinnitsa. These unfortunate victims were shot in the back of the neck in the same manner as in the murders in North Korea of some 6,000 American POW's by Soviet Red Chinese and Soviet North Koreans. It might also be timely to recall that the self-styled symbol of virtuous communism, Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia had American fliers shot in cold blood, and doomed hundreds of Hungarian refugees to slaughter by refusing them sanctuary.

While all of this goes on, unknowing and unwitting Americans rush to give the Russian Ambassador Menshikov every opportunity to spew the communist line. The press, radio, television and many of our more sophisticated citizens are not guiltless. To them, it should be emphasized that Menshikov made sure that food and spite of his glistening smiles and studied charm. At a time we were trying to aid the destitute people of Poland, this Soviet paragon occupied the strategic position of Deputy Director of the UN Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. Menshikov made sure that food clothing donated by the American taxpayers went only to communists and their followers, while Polish patriots starved.

More than 10 years ago, a process of psychological deception was started by the Kremlin. Even our good deeds have been made instrumentalities of communist propaganda. How much more evidence than is needed to prove that we are still being duped and that the process will not end until freedom reigns universally?

How will he celebrate July 4, 1978?

Twenty years from now, will he be free to read the Declaration of Independence?

Will he have the right to worship in the manner he wishes?

Will he be at liberty to go where he wants, say what he pleases, work at the job of his choice?

Will his home and family be safe from agents of an all-powerful government which he had no voice in choosing?

In large measure, that's up to all of us who are older. Only we who are older can provide the schools that will develop his mind and talents. The homes and churches we maintain will shape his character. The way we meet day-to-day challenges to our freedoms will set the limits to his independence and opportunity.

How will our children celebrate July 4, 1978? That depends: How well are we adults living up to our responsibilities on July 4, 1958?

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Helen G. Nair
Vs.
Robert David Nair
No. 4849 Equity In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant and the guardianship and custody of the infant child born of said marriage, viz., Mary Ellen Nair, about four years of age.

The bill states that on the 16th day of October, in the year 1952, the plaintiff and defendant were married and lived together as man and wife at Friendsville, Garrett County, Maryland, until the 15th day of December, 1952, at which time the defendant abandoned and deserted the plaintiff.

That although the conduct of the plaintiff towards her husband had always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said defendant without cause or reason abandoned and deserted the plaintiff and has not lived or cohabited with her since said desertion.

That such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than three years and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties is beyond all reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

That the said parties have one child born to them as a result of said marriage, viz., Mary Ellen Nair, about four years of age, and that the plaintiff is advised after making a diligent search for the defendant that he resides somewhere in the State of Ohio, and that he is a non-resident of the State of Maryland. The bill then prays that the plaintiff may be divorced a vinculo matrimonii from the said defendant, that she may be awarded the guardianship and custody of the infant daughter born of said marriage, general relief and order of publication against the said defendant.

It is thereupon this 10th day of June, 1958, ordered by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Garrett County once in each of four successive weeks before the 4th day of July, 1958, give notice to said absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill warning him to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 19th day of July, 1958, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

The original tax law enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland in 1931 and which is the present Charter provision for the Town of Mountain Lake Park reads as follows:

Sec. 14. And be it further enacted, That the said Mayor and Council may from time to time cause an assessment to be made of all the property liable to the State and County taxes within the corporate limits, and to levy a tax thereon not exceeding sixty cents on the one hundred dollars in any one year and that said property shall be assessed at its actual cash value. And the said Mayor and Council may appoint an assessor and collector of taxes and fix his salary or compensation, and provide for a method of collecting the taxes by ordinance, and also the method of making assessments; and any person aggrieved by any assessment made under this provision shall have the right of an appeal to the said Mayor and Council of said town of Mountain Lake Park.

The proposed amendment to the Charter of Mountain Lake Park is as follows:

That the said Mayor and Council may from time to time cause an assessment to be made of all the property liable to the State and County taxes within the corporate limits, and to levy a tax thereon not exceeding one dollar on the one hundred dollars in any one year and that said property shall be assessed at its actual cash value. And the said Mayor and Council may appoint an assessor and collector of taxes and fix his salary or compensation, and provide for a method of collecting the taxes by ordinance, and also the method of making assessments; and any person aggrieved by any assessment made under this provision shall have the right of an appeal to the said Mayor and Council of said town of Mountain Lake Park.

The proposed amendment to the Charter of Mountain Lake Park does not change the existing law in any way except authorize the Mayor and Council of Mountain Lake Park to increase the tax rate on the property up to one dollar. However, the Mayor and Council does not contemplate raising the tax rate, if the amendment is adopted, more than ten or fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars of valuation. The Mayor and Council does not propose to employ a tax assessor as they have had the authority to do so since 1931 and have not exercised that authority.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

Maryland Ranks High on Hospital Schedule—Only five States are to receive as much Federal assistance as Maryland is to receive under the new nation-wide program for construction of hospitals and other medical facilities. The schedule of anticipated construction under the Public Health Service Act has been released by sponsors of the appropriation bill for the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for fiscal year 1959. The five States heading the list are the five top-ranking States in population; Maryland, which ranks 24th in population, comes sixth on the list. Under this program, Maryland would receive $33,557,000.00 in Federal funds.

Slum Clearance For Baltimore—Federal funds in the amount of $602,490.00 have been granted to aid in clearing out a residential slum adjoining Johns Hopkins University. The project area contains 202 dwelling units, most of which are sub-standard. The 202 families now living there will be offered relocation in better dwellings. The area after clearance will be used for new residential, community, and commerical installations. The Federal grant includes an amount for aiding in relocation of site residents and covers two-thirds of net cost, which is the total cost of acquiring, clearing, and preparing the land for its new uses minus the return from its resale. Baltimore's contribution will cover the remaining one-third of the deficit.

Federal Grant For Rockville's Development—The Maryland State Planning Commission has been granted $12,610.00 in Federal funds to cover half the cost of proposed comprehensive planning for Rockville's development. Activities under this grant will include: preparation of base maps; studies of population, economic base, present and future land uses, housing conditions, transit, and parking; preparation of plans for thoroughfares, community facilities and utilities, and a public improvement program; neighborhood analyses; and review of zoning ordinances and subdivision regulations. Results will be presented in the form of reports, maps, plans, charts, and other graphic material.

Similar grants, under authority of the Housing Act, are available to official State, metropolitan, and regional planning agencies for work in metropolitan areas and urban regions.

Air Museum—When the Anderson Air Museum bill was called on the Senate Calendar, we objected because it provided for locating the museum on the Mall in Washington, D. C., while provisions of our own bill would place the air museum at College Park, Maryland. It seemed to me to be fitting that the museum be placed at the College Park Airport, which is the oldest airport in the world and possibly the most historic. College Park was the first military training airfield in the world, a terminus of the first continuously scheduled commercial airmail service, the scene of early helicopter experiments, and the place where radio navigation of aircraft originated.

Frederick Health Center Gets Federal Assist—The U. S. Surgeon General, Dr. Burney, assures us that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare will advance $111,000.00 as the Federal share of the cost of remodeling Winchester Hall in Frederick for the County Health Center. Application for the Federal grant was received from the County Commissioners and was approved by the Maryland State Department of Health.

Pay Raise For Teachers, Police And Firemen—The D. C. Fiscal Affairs Subcommittee, of which I am a member, has acted favorably on legislation which would raise the pay of District teachers, police and firemen.

1960 Census To Cover Radio Question—The Director of the Bureau of the Census, Dr. Burgess, has informed me that the Bureau has definitely decided to include a question in the 1960 Census relating to radio ownership in homes. Earlier it had been decided to by-pass this question. My contacts with the radio broadcasting people convinced me that it would be important to determine any changes as to radio ownership. A request for review was made, and the Census Bureau has now agreed to include the question. This should be helpful to all branches of the radio industry.

Taxes And National Defense—It is interesting and significant that 70 percent of those who answered our questionnaire are opposed to a reduction in Federal income taxes. You in the majority apparently believe that we cannot do much about reducing income taxes as long as our national defense needs remain high.

Of your tax dollar, 62 cents goes for national defense, 11 cents for interest on the national debt, 7 cents for veterans, 6 cents for agriculture, including subsidies, 5 cents for welfare, old age, and education, and 9 cents for all the rest of government including the Congress, the courts, the Foreign Service, public works, civil defense, housing, and numerous other Federal activities.

How can we hold down defense spending while remaining strong? The answer is: selective spending—our defense dollars must be spent only where they will do the greatest good for us.

Civil Defense Waste—Referring again to the results of our questionnaire, we note that 60 percent voted "No" on increased Federal spending for local Civil Defense and 13 percent voted "No Opinion", while only 27 percent voted "Yes". Could this suggest that the general public is again a step ahead in realizing the doubtful value of air raid shelters in a nuclear attack?

Another Observation on Questionnaire Returns — The overwhelming 70 percent voting in our questionnaire against income tax reduction was equaled only by one other vote, that favoring the placing of a single organization in charge of the development of all U. S. long-and medium-range missiles. Yes, 70 percent; No, 17 percent; No Opinion, 13 percent. It would appear that the great majority of our people feel that we can no longer afford the luxury of interservice rivalries.

Children's Bible Story

BY S. A. KAPLAN
Assisted by Mrs. Kaplan

ABRAHAM — "THE FATHER OF THE FAITHFUL"
(This story is based on Genesis 12)

HELLO BOYS AND GIRLS! If you were asked to give the name of the great American who is nicknamed, "the father of his country," everyone of you without a moment's hesitation would be able to correctly answer, "George Washington!" Now if you were asked to tell who is called "the father of the faithful," in the Bible, would you be able to answer just as quickly? I hope so, for every boy and girl should know about Abraham, the grand old man of the Bible.

Did you know that over 4,000 years ago, God said regarding Abraham, "I will make of thee a great nation and I will bless thee, and make thy name great, and thou shalt be a blessing." This prophecy about Abraham was made when Abraham was unknown among the millions of earth's inhabitants, and lived in Mesopotamia, in the city of "Ur" of the Chaldees. And just think of it, boys and girls, Abraham never wrote a book, he was not an explorer, nor a great statesman, nor even an orator, and yet, true to the above divine prophecy, the name of Abraham to this very day, is known and revered by millions of Christians, millions of the Hebrew race, and millions of Mohammedans. You may rightly ask, "What has this man done to be loved by so many millions of men and women and boys and girls the world over?" For one thing he was a man of character, and you remember how character is formed — by choosing the good and refusing the evil. In today's story we shall learn of a very important decision that God asked Abraham to make, and because Abraham did what God asked him to do, God fulfilled the above prophecy to him.

At this time Abraham was a rich man, and lived with his father, Terah. He had three brothers, and a nephew, by the name of Lot. After the people were scattered from Babel, idolatry again rapidly overspread the world, and even in the home of Abraham where God had been worshipped, they began to serve "other gods," with the exception of Abraham who still remained true and loyal to God. And so, when God wanted a man whom He could use to teach others about the true God, He chose Abraham for that very important work. One of the very first things God asked him to do, was to leave that part of the country, and his father's home, "unto a land" that God would show him. And the Bible says, that "Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken unto him." Abraham was asked to leave everything he held near and dear — his home, his loved ones, his friends, his business associates, and he was not even told where his stopping place would be. But Abraham did not question God. He did not ask God whether that land was fertile, the climate balmy; or, whether the surroundings in that strange place would be pleasant and the new neighbors nice people. Nor did he ask God whether he could get more riches there. It was enough for him that God had spoken to him, and he obeyed regardless how unpleasant the duty may be.

Boys and girls, when you are asked by mother or dad to perform some unpleasant task, do you try to get out of it, or do you cheerfully obey? May you learn the lesson from Abraham who gladly obeyed, and remember how God greatly blessed him for it.

He has served Maryland well . . . RE-ELECT

THE REPUBLICAN

This and That . . . . .

We are thankful for a number of things. Garrett county came through the Fourth of July holiday period in extra good shape. Just two accidents were reported and they were considered minor. One happened on the sharp turn at the edge of Hutton, the other at Keyser Ridge. No one was injured in either one.

Cottages and beaches around Deep Creek Lake were crowded. The Lake was full of boats. The nearest thing to an accident occurred when an inboard motorist pulling water skiers didn't watch where he was going and took his boat onto the shore about 20 feet. A few were firing rifles and some fireworks went off illegally. There was the usual number of inebriates but by and large the holiday crowd was orderly and "an enjoyable time was had by all." It could have been they were safety conscious.

Throughout the country almost half the holiday fatalities were drownings. Here again Garrett county was fortunate. Thanks to regulations on the lake which require life preservers in all boats, drownings have been very rare.

The county will have to maintain a high degree of activity to more than make up for the inactivity in June due to the cold and wet weather, but we'll make it. The Playhouse is off to a good start and should provide additional pleasure for people on the mountain top. It looks like a good summer.

There are some things we are wondering about. For instance the way the State Roads commission keeps "throwing its weight of authority around." They changed a curve at Mt. Lake Park, took property which it said it needed for road improvements, forced people to move, and now are fixing up that house, repainting and attempting to rent it. They are forcing the Tennis club to move its courts for just a few feet of right of way. There are other unpleasant occurrences as the state comes barging in, apparently giving no consideration to anything but selfish interests. Perhaps it is time for people to give this some thought.

Another thing we wondered about was this. The state employment service had all the employes it needed to distribute unemployment compensation. When the word came that unemployment payments would be continued an additional thirteen weeks they announced they would hire fifty additional employes to take care of the extra work involved. We'd call that a bit peculiar.

Otherwise things are moving along peacefully. Politics are dormant and the Mt. Top is buzzing with activity.

4-H Dress Revue Is Set For July 17th

Fashion conscious 4-H girls will show they can "sew a fine seam" as they participate in the annual 4-H Dress Revue to be held next Thursday evening, July 17, at 8 p. m. in the Methodist church social room in Oakland.

Prior to the dress revue, on July 16, garments will be judged for construction details and will be classified in a blue ribbon group, red group, or white group. During the Style Revue, garments will be judged on the girl according to fit, style, color, and choice of accessories.

Cynthia Nace, Monte Vista club, is chairman of the County 4-H committee working with Dress Revue arrangements. Susan Bowman, North Star club, Jane Hanst and Nancy White, Monte Vista club, are committee members. Mrs. Cecil Edwards, McHenry, and Mrs. Robert Rodeheaver, Oakland, will serve as judges for the Revue.

The public is invited to attend.

Held For Contributing To Delinquency Of Minors

Leonard Kasecamp of near Frostburg, was lodged in the county jail yesterday on a charge of contributing to delinquency of minors.

Two minors also were apprehended on charges of larceny of a power saw from the home of Elbert Buckel, in the Bittinger section. Sheriff James E. Frantz said the two youths broke into the Buckel home while members of the family were absent, and took the saw.

The youths were released in the custody of their parents. All three will be tried before Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley in the juvenile court.

Sheriff Frantz said they also had a fifteen-year-old youth from West Leisenring, Pa., who had run away from home Monday evening. He was being held for his parents who planned to come for him today.

For sewer taps: $52.50; outside the corporation, $78.75.

Agree on Fire Hydrant

The council also agreed with the Oakland Fire Department about keeping a fire hydrant where it has been for a number of years. There had been some agitation for the removal of a fire hydrant in front of the Sanders and Hershman garage on Liberty street. The council wrote to the Oakland fire department for an opinion.

Firemen discussed the problem at a meeting and they told the council they felt "that the fire hydrant should remain in its present location, but if found advisable to move it, that it should be located about 20 feet west on the same street, and directly across the highway, to the south side.

The council decided to let the fire hydrant remain where it is and to place curbing there.

At the four and one-half hour session, the following also were disposed of:

Agreed to place curbing in front of the property of the First National Bank which would be done after Labor Day. The Bank has indicated its intention to place a new concrete sidewalk there.

Bloodmobile to Visit Accident on July 30

The next trip of the Johnstown Red Cross bloodmobile unit in Garrett county will be made to Accident. This is one of those extra summer time trips known as the "flying 48" and will be made to Accident on Wednesday, July 30. The hours will be from 2 to 6 p. m.

Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman, was stressing the urgent need for blood again this past week and pointed out that the Johnstown unit has distributed practically all its surplus blood to hospitals where needed.

The quota of the Johnstown unit in June was 3,833 pints. The intake was 2,948 pints and the distribution was 2,984 pints. Mrs. Stemple said that calls for blood had been made by the local hospital to the unit and the word has come back that there is no blood available.

Mrs. Stemple has procured 13 blood donors since June 14 who have been giving direct to the hospital, but these volunteers are never credited at Johnstown. Only the blood that goes through that organization is credited to the area, she said.

Mrs. Stemple said she had spent several hours this week calling for contributors for emergency use at the hospital and would appreciate it if the people would cooperate in this endeavor.

She repeated again the urgency of the blood program.

Mt. Lake Voters Say No To Amendment

Mt. Lake Park voters issued an overwhelming "No" to a proposed amendment to the town's charter at the annual election Tuesday afternoon. They also elected Orville Kitzmiller and Earl Sebold as members of the city council for a two-year term.

The proposed amendment was voted down 154 to 21. It would have given the Mayor and Council the power to increase the tax rate on property up to $1 on each $100 of assessable property. The limit under the present charter is 60 cents. H. M. Weeks, mayor, said the council had planned to raise the rate some ten or fifteen cents.

Sebold was high man on the ticket with 125 votes while Kitzmiller received 100. Defeated candidates included Joe Turney with 85 votes, Clinton Shrout with 48 votes, and Arvey M. Ritchie with 37 votes. Two hundred thirteen votes were cast.

Moose and Lions Tied For First

The Moose and Lions were tied for first place in the final stage of the Little League first half season. The Legion was knocked out of the running when the K. of P. team won 6 to 5 in a Saturday afternoon game. The playoff will be at a later date as two attempts to play the game were rained out.

In games played Tuesday the K. of P. defeated the Moose 9 to 7 and the Lions defeated the Legion 7 to 1, to start the second half of the league season.

Monday, July 21, the Oakland Little League all-stars will meet Frostburg all-stars on the Oakland diamond. This is the first game in the tournament play for the state championship, to determine the representative in the regional play-off.

Little Yough Water Level To Rise Again

The water level of the Little Youghiogheny river will rise again. An agreement was reached Monday evening between the Mayor and Town Council and M. V. Kildow, owner of the Kildow dam.

Several weeks ago Mr. Kildow opened the sluice gates, lowering the level of the river several feet, and exposing a number of sewer lines. Dr. Arthur F. Jones, health officer, wrote a letter citing that the water level could not be raised or lowered without authorization from the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources. Dr. Jones also pointed out that it created a health hazard and asked that the gates be restored.

At the Council meeting Monday evening the town agreed to pay Mr. Kildow $100 for use of the dam and gates and agreed to keep the dam repaired at town expense.

Parties To Confer On Injunction Plea

Members of the Mayor and Town Council are scheduled to confer this evening with Horace Whitworth, Jr., attorney for Browning's Inc., in regard to the curbing difficulties in front of the Browning Grocery store.

The store went to court last week seeking an injunction against the town which would prevent it from constructing along several hundred feet of the Browning property.

Corporal Sam Conrad of the State Police, at the April meeting of the council, recommended a three-lane traffic system on Third street to lessen the congestion in that area. Northbound traffic desiring to turn left at Alder and Green streets many times tie up traffic greatly, and it was his suggestion that a third lane be provided, removing all parking meters from the east side of the street from the Browning store on Third street to the alley at the Court House.

The Council authorized curbing a part of Third street at the June meeting, and town employees began work there on Monday, June 30. The petition for an injunction was filed shortly thereafter. The store owners declare that curbing in front of their place of business would discourage and hinder business.

It was the intention of the council to leave a 30-foot opening at the alley across from the city council chamber and also an opening of 40 feet at the northern end of the Browning lot.

Whether some compromise will be worked out at tonight's meeting or whether the concern will press its petition is not known at this time. The Mayor and Council were ordered by the Circuit Court to show cause within fifteen days why an injunction should not be issued as sought.

Baptist Church At Deep Creek To Be Rebuilt Right Away

The Deep Creek Baptist church will be torn down, starting next Monday, and work will be started immediately upon the construction of new building. This word came as the result of a meeting last night at which time it was voted to enter into a building program.

It was voted to tear down the old building as soon as possible and definite plans were formulated immediately after this vote and next Monday morning at 8 o'clock was decided as the time to begin.

Sunday, July 13, will be the final Sunday for services in the present building. Announcements are to be made from time to time as to where services would be held.

Summer Theatre Getting Ready For Next Week's Play

The summer theatre will continue to present its opening play, "Janus," the balance of this week. Attendance for the first two nights was considered good.

Characters for next week's play, "I Have Been Here Before," have been selected and are working on their parts. Rehearsals are being held and properties for the production are being collected.

The plays are offered Tuesday through Saturday, each week, with a different play each week.

Home Destroyed By Fire at Corinth

The frame dwelling owned by Lloyd Sylvester at Corinth, W. Va., was completely destroyed by fire of undetermined origin early last Friday moring about 5:30 o'clock.

Oakland firemen answred the call and made the six mile run in record time but the flames had gained too great headway. The fire fighters did however, prevent the loss of two nearby homes. Also assisting were firemen from the Terra Alta fire department.

The house was occupied by Maude Sylvester and two other adults.

The home was located on the sharp turn just before crossing the overhead bridge.

Construction At State Parks Is Being Rushed

Construction projects in State parks and recreation areas in Garrett county are being pushed to completion this summer.

William A. Parr, superintendent of state parks, was in the area yesterday to discuss the improvements with district forester William H. Johnson.

At the new Deep Creek Park along the lake plans for the bath house are nearly complete and construction will be started by department workers next week.

The 24 by 89 foot bath house will be of the self-service type and will include toilet facilities, shower and dressing booths. There will be separate sections for men and women and the central portion with the toilet facilities will be equipped with a translucent plastic roof.

Also to be constructed at the park is a wash house with laundry facilities, toilets and showers near the camping area. One camping area already has been completed. A water main from a deep well also is being installed but completion of this project is being delayed, awaiting shipment of the pump.

Bids will be received by the end of July for construction of a 12,000 gallon reservoir at the park. Construction also will start next week on an access road leading to parking areas at the park. One completed area can handle 150 cars and a second lot will be able to take care of 200 more cars.

At the New Germany Recreation area a wash house is nearing completion. A camping area has been laid out and the Roads department has contracted to build an access road to the camping area and hopes to have it open within two weeks. County road workers also are building a parking area there.

Grantsville's Bank Profits Incorrectly Quoted in Last Issue

The undivided profits of the First State Bank of Grantsville were listed incorrectly in last week's issue of The Republican. Just one little figure failed to get in the total but it made a whale of a lot of difference. Instead of $176,283.60 which it should have been, last week's issue said only $17,283.60. The total of all four banks of the county was correct at $477,271.62.

Wed at Terra Alta June 22

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Whittaker, Jr. of Terra Alta announce the marriage of their daughter, Sandra Kay, to Paul A. Markley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Markley of Hutton.

The impressive double ring ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock June 22 at the Terra Alta Methodist Church before an altar decorated with white gladioli, carnations, shasta daisies, and greenery. Johnny Whittaker and Roger Markley, young brothers of the bride and bridegroom, wore black and white choir robes and lighted the tall tapers which shed a soft light on the kneeling bench which held a white satin brocade pillow. White satin bows marked every other pew.

Prior to the ceremony which was performed by Rev. S. D. Sawyers of New Martinsburg, W. Va., and Rev. Edward Seibert, nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Vivian McConnell at the organ. Vocalist Mr. Robert Wilson sang "Always," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of rose-point lace and nylon tulle with a lace bodice, Sabrina neckline, short lace sleeves, and lace mitts. The bouffant floor length skirt was accented by a lace panel highlighted by iridescent sequins and seed pearls and chapel train. Her French illusion fingertip veil was held in place by a matching jeweled coronation crown. Her only jewelry was a small pair of cultured pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried her Rainbow Bible topped with a white orchid trimmed with satin streamers tied in love knots and feathered carnations.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Ann Roberts and Miss Nancy Jane White. They wore pink gowns and picture hats identical to the maid of honor.

Miss Carol Louise Crane, small cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Crane of Morgantown, was the flower girl. She wore a blue dress with a white pinafore. She wore a head band of blue and white miniature daisies and carried a white basket containing carnation petals.

Richard Markley of Cumberland, served as best man for his brother. Ushers were James Breeden of Terra Alta and William Teets of Oakland.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the bride's home. The home was attactively decorated with pink and white summer flowers. The bride's table was set with crystal, adorned with pink candles and pink carnations on a white cloth. A three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and surrounded with pink carnations and greenery centered the table.

Miss Opal N. Worring, aunt of the bride from Fullerton, California, served the punch, and Mrs. Evelyn Markley, aunt of the bridegroom from Gowanda, New York, served the cake.

Serving at the attendants' table were Mrs. Pat Hollen of Morgantown, W. Va., Mrs. Virginia Gnegy of Oakland, and Mrs. Betty Parsons, aunt of the bride from Hyattsville. Aides for the occasion were Mrs. Eloise Sines of Hyattsville, Mrs. Helen Crane of Morgantown, W. Va., and Mrs. Mary Ellen Markwood and Mrs. Marie Roberts, both of Terra Alta.

When the couple left for a wedding trip through Virginia, the new Mrs. Markley was wearing a green dress with a lace cummerbund, matching lace hat, white accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Markley is a 1958 graduate from Terra Alta High School where she was valedictorian and president of her senior class. She is a past worthy advisor of the Rainbow for Girls and served as worthy associate advisor at the 4th District Meeting. She plans to attend West Virginia University in the fall.

The bridegroom is a 1954 graduate of Southern High School in Oakland, Maryland and is a senior at West Virginia University where he is majoring in electricial engineering.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear brother, William H. Sharpless, who departed this life one year ago, July 5, 1957.
We loved him, yes, we loved him
But Jesus loved him more.
And He has gently called him
To heaven's shining shore.
The golden gate was open
A gentle voice said, "Come."
And with farewell unspoken
He gently entered home.

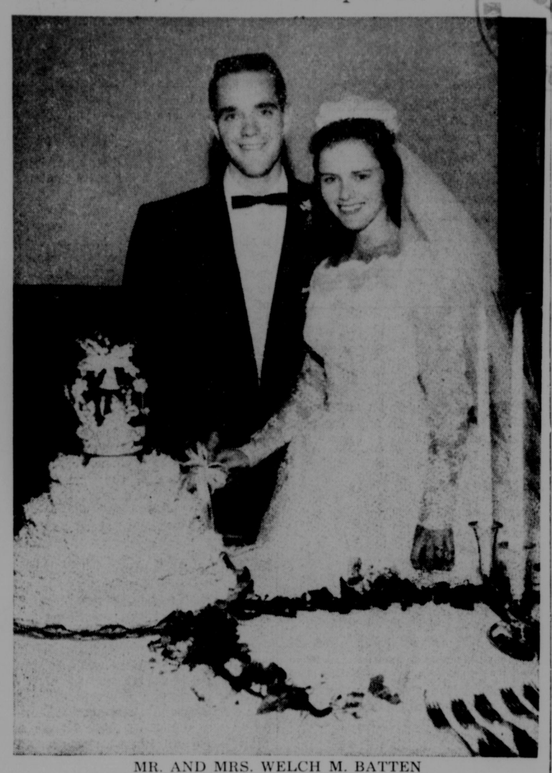
Ceremony Unites Couple In Welch



MR. AND MRS. WELCH M. BATTEN

A background of white floral arrangements, tall, slender tapers and greenery provided a setting for the wedding of Miss Esther Jeanne Grogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stafford Grogan, of Kimball, W. Va., and Welch M. Batten, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Batten, Jr., of Welch, on Friday evening, June 20.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock in Houston Methodist church in Kimball. Officiating were Dr. Byron E. Kelly, of Williamson, and the Rev. James Moore, pastor of the church.

The couple exchanged vows in a setting of white glads, mums, pompons and baby's breath, arranged in tall vases against a background of palms and white cathedral candles.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. M. T. Jones, of Kimball, church organist. Miss Pamela Grubb, of Welch, was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace with small flowers enmeshed in detail. Scallops of lace agleam with pearlized sequins outlined the pleated tulle yoke. Tiers of lace bordered the widely scalloped skirt and chapel train. Her finger-tip veil was attached to a cap of pleated tulle ornamented with buds and tiny flowers.

Mrs. John Stafford Grogan, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pale green organza, sashed with satin above a deep-hemmed skirt. The draped cowl neck was caught with self piping. Her matching cap was adorned with tiny yellow roses in a colonial bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Misses Betty Jo Hubbard and Miss Janet Belcher, of Kimball, and Misses Gale Mooney and Betty Sue Chalfant, of Welch. Their gowns of rose organza were identical to that worn by the honor attendant. Small matching caps completed their ensemble. They carried bouquets of garnet sweetheart roses with pink net and pink satin streamers.

John Edward Batten served his son as best man. Ushers were Messrs. Donald Vejveda, Weirton; Bary Shrout, Welch; John S. Grogan, Jr., Blacksburg, Va.; and Richard Grogan, Kimball, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Grogan, mother of the bride was in a powder blue lace frock with matching hat and accessories. Her flowers were pink sweetheart roses fashioned in a shoulder corsage. Mrs. Batten was dressed in rose beige lace with matching accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of Eleanor pink carnations.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Grogan entertained at a reception in the social room of the church. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white larkspur, pompons, baby's breath and pink sweetheart roses entwined with seed pearl hearts.

Following their honeymoon the couple is residing in Welch where Mr. Batten is employed by the Flat Iron Drug company.

The bride is a graduate of Welch High school and last winter attended Madison college in Harrisonburg, Va. Mr. Batten is also a graduate of Welch High school and was graduated in Pharmacy from West Virginia university, Morgantown.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. John Edward Batten III, of Nichols, S. C.; Mrs. Charles H. Rawls, sister of the bridegroom, of Suffolk, Va. Mr. Batten is the son of Ellithorpe "Billie" Welch, former resident of Mt. Lake Park, and the grandson of the late S. K. and Margaret Mosser Welch. Review of the Play

By MARY JANE SCHUNCKE

Janus, a sophistocated comedy about a pedantic husband and an imaginative wife who collaborated on best selling novels opened the fourth season of the Garrett County Playhouse Tuesday night. Had the husband and wife been married to one another the play would not have been nearly so amusing. The plot was further complicated by a confused tax collector and a stupified husband.

The first night audience howled with delight at the cleverly written play by Carolyn Green—a good recommendation for any playgoer who enjoys a light amusing evening.

Helen Page Camp returned to the Playhouse with a convincing portrayal of Jess, the adventurous wife. Her performance carried the show through a series of hilarious twists of fate, but was possibly only surpassed by her amazing mimicry of Margaret Sullivan, who played the role in the Broadway version.

An especially professional job was done by DeAnn Mears in the role of Miss Addy the literary agent whose only love was money. Miss Mears whose roll was comparatively small managed to portray the career woman so vividly that he short appearances in stage made a lasting impression.

Neil Flanagan, in the role of Gil the ship-owning husband who innocently walks into a double nightmare, was highly amusing. His rival in love and antithesis in manhood was handled by William Lang in the role of Denny. Mr. Lang who managed to portray a scholarly professor with a good degree of reality, however seemed disconcertingly young most of the time to be completely convincing.

William Pappas in the role of the officious gentleman from the Internal Revenue Department added much to the success of the play.

Under the able direction of D. G. Buckles and the imaginative guidance of Gene Yell the first effort of the Playhouse's season can be called a very good production.

This play which can only be labeled as entertaining adult amusement is bound to tickle the fancy of anyone wishing for an evening of light sophisticated wit well done.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	4	31-38
Monday	Matthew	9	35-38
Tuesday	Luke	10	1-9
Wednesday	John	15	1-8
Thursday	John	15	12-17
Friday	John	4	19-24
Saturday	Matthew	28	18-20

Jesus had that piercing perception of spiritual opportunity!

Others saw teeming cities and quiet villages. He saw fields white to harvest. People were not simply people—they were souls to be brought to God.

It is a mistake to think of our churches as institutions. It is inaccurate to measure their strength by the size of buildings, or the number of members on the roll.

The strength of any church is its outreach. Constantly it seeks to win souls. And as it wins them, it enriches lives! It inspires men and women, boys and girls, with the same intense eagerness to win still others to the Christian faith.

The fields are white to harvest . . . with souls like yours and mine!

Jesus on Justice

Lesson for July 13, 1958

IF any one is an authority on the subject of justice, it should be God Almighty himself. Christians believe that God's mind is revealed to us in Jesus Christ. So it is extremely important to find out what Jesus had to say on any topic. Now Jesus never once used the expression "social justice." He didn't have to. For the question of justice never comes up at all unless there are as many as two persons involved in a situation. And if there are as many as two, you have a social situation and any justice there is social justice. Furthermore, the kind of justice that counts is social. Court-room justice isn't worth much if it does not produce social justice.

Dr. Foreman

Nothing Cancels Out Justice

Some people have supposed that living in the New Testament light, we have outgrown the need for justice—that Christians live by love, or grace, or faith, or mystic vision, or something else, anything else but justice. Some people will tell you that the gospel cancels out justice, that justice is an Old Testament word and we Christians have outgrown it. This is not true. Nothing cancels justice. For one thing, most of Jesus' teaching dealt with right relationships among men, and the short name for that is justice. For another thing Jesus did speak directly of this thing. He condemned the Pharisees severely because they had forgotten it. According to Luke's account, Jesus said the Pharisees had neglected justice and the love of God. In Matthew's story, Jesus said the Pharisees had neglected justice and mercy and faith. Note in both cases: Justice and . . . He mentions justice first always.

Is Justice Impossible?

About the only way to get around this (or to try to do so) is to fancy that somehow or other Jesus' teachings do not apply to us. All one need say about that point of view is that when a "Christian" reaches the point where he will not take his orders from the Lord Jesus, he had better consider whether he rates the name of Christian after all. However, there are a pair of further objections we should consider. One is that since only God knows what is finally fair, we must leave all matters of social justice to him. He alone is judge of the whole earth; and our own "justice" can never be based on full knowledge of all the facts, as God's is. So let's give up the whole thing, shall we? NO! Such talk is unadulterated nonsense. The grain of truth in that argument is that perfect justice—like perfect mercy or faith or love of God—is not attainable in this life by us mortals. Nevertheless, mercy and faith and love are the Christian's business—and so is justice. We need God's forgiveness for the injustices of our "justice;" but we would need his forgiveness far more if we never tried to be just at all.

Isn't Ours a "Different" World?

Another way people try to bypass Jesus' teaching is to point out that we are living in a different world from his. One very important difference is this: Most of the people we deal with, in our complex, industrial, urban civilization, we never see and do not even know who they are; whereas in the world of Jesus' time a man knew all his neighbors and he never dealt with any one else. It is a difficult business just to live right with people you know. But how is a dairy farmer going to be fair with the consumers in a distant city he never sees? How is a stockholder in General Motors going to live right with, and do right by, Mr. Reuther? How is a plain citizen of the U.S.A. going to do the right thing by a plain citizen of the U.S.S.R.? These are terribly difficult questions. Any reader can write out a page full of such problems between now and church time. He will not find all the answers in the book. Perhaps no one knows the answers—yet. But remembering how our Lord put justice first, we cannot dodge the duty of thinking hard and long on how we in our time can make justice a real thing.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

"Step by step, the Supreme Court has enacted all the measures in the program of our Committee. But we must not act as if the whole fight has been won."

This statement, which was made by Mr. Corliss Lamont, Vice Chairman of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, at a "victory celebration" on June 18th in New York City, reflects the rejoicing which has taken place within the ranks of communist front organizations as a result of certain decisions of the Supreme Court.

What is the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee? What is its program? For enlightenment one need only turn to the records of the Congress. The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee was formed in October, 1951. And from that time until the Daily Worker ceased publication, this strange organization had the active support of that communist newspaper. Since its inception, it has supported issues which have paralleled the line of the Communist Party and its interests. It is not openly led by Party members, but a number of its sponsors and supporters are known to be either communists or fellow travelers.

The program of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee has included opposition to the Internal Security Act, denunciation of Congressional investigating committees ,opposition to lists of subversive organizations prepared by governmental agencies, opposition to State sedition acts, support of the cases of individual communists, opposition to the cooperation of partriotic citizens with the Government in giving information regarding shbversion, opposition to the non-communist oath of the Taft-Hartley Act, and so on.

Of this type of agitation, F. B. I. Director J. Edgar Hoover observes in his recent book, "Masters of Deceit" that the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee is a classic example of a communist front. He also says that "fronts probably represent the (Communist) Party's most successful tactic in capturing noncommunist support . . A front is an organization which the communist openly or secretly control."

With these facts as a background, the conclusion of Mr. Lamont's alarming statement should be repeated. He promises that the next step in the enactment of the program of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee will be directed - " . . . against the F. B. I. - the Federal Bureau of Intimidation —under that man J. Edgar Hoover. We must move against the illegal activities of the F. B. I." I predict that the F. B. I. will survive this onslaught without tarnish upon its escutcheon.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

Maryland Fares Well—We have been talking with Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell and some of their expert statisticians about employment figures, and we are glad to report that, although the figures for the nation as a whole show a steady month-by-month improvement, the figures for Maryland are better in every instance. Maryland remains one of the favored States.

We have known right along that Maryland economy was healthy and humming and was improving week by week on a sound basis, but it took the actual statistics to lend real significance to the fact.

First, though, we ran head-on into misleading figures involving the June unemployment of young boys and girls just out of school—figures which include youngsters 14 years of age who are willing to work. It seemed incongruous to us to see included Maryland 14-year-olds when our State law prohibits children under 16 from working. Each year there is a rise in unemployment figures between May and June, due entirely to the influx of young people into the labor market at the close of the school year, some of whom are looking only for temporary summer jobs.

Incidentally, this May-to-June increase in "school-boy" unemployment was greater in each of the last three Truman years, 1948, 1949, and 1950, than it was in 1957.

The really significant figures cover the employees who are under Social Security. In March, the unemployment figures for Maryland was 47,300, which is a 6.4 "rate", as compared with a 7.9 national "rate". In June, unemployment had dropped to 40,300, "rate" of 5.3, as compared with a 6.7 national "rate". The decreasing "rate" indicates an economic improvement nationally and a greater improvement in Maryland. Note the month-by-month improvement in the following table:

Month March, 1958 unemployment 47,300, rate 6.4, national rate 7.9. Month April, 1958, 46,500, rate 6.3, national rate 7.9. Month May, 1958, unemployment 42,900, rate 5.7 national rate 7.1. Month June, 1958, unemployment 40,300, rate 5.3, national rate, 6.7.

School Children's Transportation Fare—This week I introduced two bills having to do with street car and bus fares for D. C. school children. One of my bills provides that the District of Columbia government purchase tickets from common carriers and sell them at reduced rates to school children.

International Development—As a member of the International Finance Subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, I approved and gave my support to a Senate Resolution which would provide for a study of the feasibility of establishing an International Development Association to supplement the work of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Restricting The Import Of Crude Oil—On Wednesday, I was co-sponsor with Senator Long of Louisiana of an amendment to the Trade Agreements Extension Act that would limit the imports of crude oil and all petroleum products to the same ratio that these imports bore to domestic production in 1954. The amendment would also give the President authority to award import quotas on a competitive basis and suspend or modify quotas during any period of threatened shortage of domestic supply to meet current demands. A feature of the amendment was aimed at preventing the Middle East from monopolizing the quota.

Mail Heavy On Railroad Assist—It is interesting to note that our mail during the last several months has been predominantly in support of legislation to aid railroads, particularly legislation for repeal of the excise taxes on transport of passengers and freight. Since our successful campaign to put through our bill repealing these excise taxes, we have received a great many "thank you" notes. In all, I believe we have received more letters on the repeal of excise taxes on passenger travel and freight movement than we have received on any other legislation.

1 Pair Equals 1 Yea Plus 1 Yea—There seems to be misunderstanding in some quarters as to what it means to be "paired" on a roll call vote in the United States Senate. On any question where a mere majority is required for a decision, for a Senator to be "paired for" has exactly the same effect as a "Yea" vote, and for a Senator to be "paired against" has exactly the same effect as a "nay" vote. Over the years, the practice of agreeing to a "live pair" has became standard procedure as a courtesy to Senators who find it necessary to be absent from the Senate Floor during a roll call vote. The reason might be: absence due to committee work in Washington or elsewhere; absence due to a conference at the White House; absence due to other official business; or absence due to any one of a dozen other reasons.

When a Senator finds he must be absent from Capitol Hill at a time when an important vote is expected to be taken, he finds a "live pair" —that is, he finds a Senator on the opposite of the question and asks him to "pair." That means that the second Senator, instead voting "yea" or "nay", will announce the "live pair", indicating which of the "pair" is "for" and which is "against", or he will have the Party Floor leader do so, even though the Senator may be present on the Senate Floor during the vote-taking.

An illustration of this was the final vote taken last week on Alaska statehood. I was paired for statehood, and Senator Ives of New York "paired against" statehood. Senator Ives found that he could not be present, and I agreed to "pair". During the several days of debate, I had voted against all "crippling" amendments and Senator Ives had voted for them. It was evident that we were on opposite sides of the Alaska statehood question all the way. Had Senator Ives been able to be present for the final vote, he would have then voted "yea" thus adding one vote to each side. would have voted "nay", and I Our "pairing" had exactly the same effect as though we had voted "nay" and "yea" respectively.

Story Features Trip Of Frank Glotfelty

An article in the Daily Chronicle of Spokane, Washington, of June 24, had a feature story on Frank O. Glotfelty, 82, a former resident of Oakland who has spent almost forty years in the west coast state.

The story was titled "Far Hills Still Draw Octogenarian." It was as follows:

Frank O. Glotfelty, E4134 Frederick, undoubtedly one of Spokanes's leading travelers, plans still another trip this summer. His jaunts so far have covered 40 states, hundreds of thousands of miles and nearly every vacation site in the country.

He's driven through floods and landslides, been robbed by three of the more than 1000 hitchhikers he said he's picked up, and had his life threatened once by a "madman" he offered a lift.

Still, Glotfelty retains his faith in humanity and, if on his summer trip to Pennsylvania he encounters more hitchhikers, he said he will offer them rides, "if they don't look too rough."

"I can's refuse most hitchhikers," Glotfelty said. "I've had some wonderful experiences with people and some that weren't so wonderful."

Born in Oakland, Md., Glotfelty lost his right arm in a machine at his father's mountain mill at the age of 13.

"The accident," Glotfelty said, "occurred at noon. I rode an oxen-driven wagon two miles down the mountain and had to wait until about 10 p. m. before a doctor arrived."

Arrived Here in '20

The globe-trotter said he came to Spokane in 1920 and went into the lumber business. During World War II he delivered trailers from city to city for the government.

While most people would give a great deal to have visited the hundreds of scenic sights Glotfelty said he's taken in, few would care for his hair-raising adventures with hitchhikers.

"I'll never forget the time the fellow said he was going to kill me," Glotfelty said. "He rode with me 200 miles out of Los Angeles before he threatened me. I finally argued him out of it, and when he went into a tavern along the way, I got out of there fast."

Besides his life, his wallet occasionally is threatened.

He said two fellows robbed him of $90 once at a hotel. Later he said he saw them on the street, called for help and captured them, getting almost all his money back after they were turned over to the police.

Near Dubuque, Iowa, Glotfelty said, he was robbed of $310, every cent he had. He reported the theft to the police, who loaned him enough to wire relatives for money.

"When I reached Maryland, a message was waiting stating that police had captured the thief, who had only $53 of my money left, plus a full wardrobe of new clothes. The police gave me the money and the clothes.

One recollection brings smiles to Glotfelty's face and helps him forget the few sad times he's had traveling. He said he loaned $50 to a lad of 18 once for a new suit at Christmas. Twenty-five years later, Glotfelty said he received a letter from the man containing a $100 check and a note saying, "My ship has come in."

Month Was Full

Glotfelty said that one month he traveled 20,000 miles. He once drove a 1941 model car 400,000 miles before he got rid of it, he said.

He will have no fears on his intended trip to Pennsylvania to visit relatives: "I always trust in God for safe delivery."

Along The Potomac

With Your Congressman
DeWITT S. HYDE

I wish to express my appreciation to all of my Western Maryland constituents who submitted statehood or appeared before Mrs. Gracie Pfost's Interior Subcommittee in favor of my C & O Canal National Historical Park bill. Mrs. Pfost, as chairman of the subcommittee, indicated that hearings would be scheduled for those who so far have had no opportunity to express their views. No dates have been set for these hearings.

I am hopeful that consideration of my bill would not become involved with questions of dams on the Potomac. The question of dams for the river is a subject which is not pertinent to the bill under consideration. The problem of whether or not there should be a dam built at any point along the Potomac would be the same whether the area is made a National Park or not.

The House has considered and passed a bill prepared by my Judiciary Committee on the question of the admissibility of confessions in criminal trials made during interrogation by police. It prevents a reasonable lapse of time between arrest and arraignment from making a confession inadmissible. Enactment of the bill into law would go a long way toward clearing up the misunderstanding prevailing in the lower courts over the Mallory decision. The bill as it passed the House does not violate constitutional rights of the individual, but it does provide protection to the public. The bill also gives to an arrested person protection which he does not now have in that it requires the police to tell him, before he is questioned, that anything he says can be used against him.

The Joint Committee on Washington Metropoltian Problems will hold public hearings on 'Economic Problems" on July 8, 9.

Responsive Chord .....

That little remark about the State Roads commission in our editorial last week really struck a responsive chord. We had no idea of the pent-up resentment against the Roads commission for the way it has moved through certain areas of the community, cut itself a wide strip of right-of-way through field and house, and deposited a sum of money with the court which they considered a fair amount for the ground. A lot of people are wondering why, for instance, the highway could not have followed the railroad from Mt. Lake to Oakland instead of cutting through valuable land in Mt. Lake Park and on the outskirts of Oakland.

Unnecessary acquisition of land by the armed services is the subject of an article in the July issue of the Readers' Digest. The American Farm Bureau Federation has come out strongly in opposition and points out the alarming rate at which the armed services are gobbling up our land. Perhaps the public better be concerned with the amount of land the roads commission is taking, and where and why they are taking it.

We realize that many things must be done for the sake of progress, but there can be a difference in the way that these things are done, which has nothing to do with progress. Everybody talks of the excessive cost of roads. Taking the most expensive path through valuable property may have a lot to do with that.

In regard to the armed services, the Farm Bureau, in resolutions passed last December, states: "The acquisition of additional land and the reservation of public lands by federal

City Council Files Answer To Browning

The Mayor and Town Council of Oakland filed an answer to the petition of the C. H. Browning grocery and hardware store asking for an injunction to prevent the construction of curbing in front of their place of business.

The answer denies a number of the allegations made by the Brownings through their attorney, Horace P. Whitworth, of Westernport.

The mayor and council declares there has been a curb in front of part of the said property and that the curbing which was removed during 1954 was removed by Mr. Browning upon request to the mayor and council.

They further deny that all other business premises located along 219 are not curbed and say that other business places are curbed except for such entrances as may be necessary.

They further declare that the council has not singled out the petitioner but had planned to construct a curb in order to attempt to eliminate a traffic hazard which is peculiar to the location of the property, and declare that the curb would not hinder access to the property and would not discriminate against the petitioner.

They declare the action is the valid exercise of the police power and control by a municipal government and that the property had not been transferred to the State of Maryland for use of the State Roads commission except insofar as maintenance of the street is concerned, that is from "curb to curb."

The mayor and council claim that a traffic hazard has existed for a considerable period there and that it was becoming increasingly dangerous because of the increase in traffic. They said the petitioner Browning had promised to attempt to control traffic entering and leaving the premises but that he had done nothing.

They point out that they had proposed three entrances or exits, one at the South end of the property, of 30 feet; one in the middle at the intersection of Third and Green, of 40 feet, and one at the north end, of 40 feet, which would leave the petitioner the authority to control traffic on his own property.

They asked for a dismissal of the petition for injunction.

The case probably will be heard before the court at an early date.

Denmark was fighting divorce rate but it still was estimated that every sixth marriage there ends in divorce courts.

Jury Awards Harry F. Paugh $3,000.00

A circuit court jury on Tuesday awarded Harry F. Paugh and his wife $3,000 for two pieces of land that had been taken by the State Roads commission, having been deemed necessary for the improvement of State route 135, between Mt. Lake Park and Deer Park.

The Roads commission took .78 of an acre of land in fee simple and .29 of an acre for slope and drainage easements. The Roads commission previously had offered the Paughs $255.

The jury members were twelve men from the regular March Term petit jurors who had been recalled to hear the proceedings.

Considered Outstanding Architectural Draftsman

Harold Lear, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lear, now of Denver, Col., and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schell, of Deep Creek Lake, recently won the sweepstakes award and first place as the outstanding scholastic architectural draftsman of the year in the state of Colorado.

His architectural drawings along with the Aurora High school art students' selections were entered May 2 and 3 in the Colorado State Industrial Arts exhibit held in Fort Collins.

Lear's drawings are now in the national exhibit, sponsored by Ford Motor company in Dearborn, Mich.

Lear, 16 years old, was chosen by teachers of Aurora High school in Denver, where he is a student, to receive recognition for his superior work and outstanding scholastic achievement during the past year. This award is the highest scholastic citation issued by the school.

He was known here as "Lefty" Lear, who played baseball in the Pony league as first baseman on the Rotary team managed by William Finch.

Not All Residents Are Affected By New Tap Prices

Only residents on dirt streets will be affected by the advance in price of water and sewer taps in the town of Oakland, it was pointed out this week by Carroll E. Miller, member of the city council.

Citizens who live on hard surfaced streets will see no change in price, as prices agreed upon by the council, already were being paid by these citizens. The new ordinance makes the price the same for every person in the community, regardless where the property is located.

Man Is Drowned As Boat Upsets

Irvin Thomas Turner, of 1534 McFarlane Road, Pittsburgh, who was on a vacation trip with his wife this week, drowned about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening in the Bulls Arm sector of Deep Creek Lake near Penn Point. He was 62.

It was the second drowning in two days.

The man was reported to have been a "pretty good swimmer."

His body was recovered about 7:40 p. m., by Deputy Sheriff Bruce Close, and Robert J. Stanton. Close located the body with a grappling hook and Stanton assisted him in bringing up the body which was about 15 feet from a dock and in about seven feet of water. Fred Tichnell also assisted in bringing in the body.

Authorities said the man had been riding in a small outboard motorboat in the vicinity of the cottage. He apparently made a sharp turn in the craft, lost his balance and toppled into the water.

The boat went out of control and circled the immediate area a couple of times.

His wife, who was in the cottage at the time, heard her husband shout for help and saw him floundering in the water before he sank beneath the surface. Sheriff James Frantz said Mrs. Turner had to go by auto about two miles to a telephone where she called his office.

After the man's body was recovered artificial respiration was administered for nearly half an hour but the efforts were futile.

Volunteer firemen from Oakland and Deer Park as well as forestry personnel and two game wardens, were also on the scene. Corporal Sam Conrad and Tfc. D. A. Tucker, of the State Police, also assisted.

The body was examined by Dr. James Feaster, deputy county medical examiner who declared officially "death by drowning". He said there were no marks on the the body which would have indicated that he was struck by the boat.

Mr. Turner is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. H. B. Child, and Mrs. D. S. Charvell, both of Pittsburgh; three grandchildren.

School Improvement Is Being Completed

Four major county school improvements have either been completed since the closing of schools in June or will be completed by the time schools open in September, if everything moves as scheduled. One of the major improvements referred to are the offices of the Garrett County Board of Education. Renovation of the Annex building for use of the Board of Education and staff was completed June 14, and the offices of the school board were moved from the Court House to the Annex building at that time. Three other major improvements now underway are the construction of a new band room and connecting corridor at Southern, a new two-room school at Swan Meadow, and the complete renovation and modernization of the present Grantsville school.

Progress on the modern band room facility and connecting corridor at Southern has been delayed due to difficulty in securing matching brick. However, the brick are now on hand and weather permitting, rapid progress is expected. The Swan Meadow school is well along the way and is expected to be ready for occupancy when school opens. The Grantsville school, the last in the three year program of school remodeling and renovation for the county, is also to be completed and ready for occupancy when school opens in September. Major repairs and alterations are being made to the entire school plant. When completed it will be one of Garrett County's finest elementary school facilities, according to Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools.

Visitation days will be planned just prior to the opening of school in order that interested parents and citizens might see these new school improvements.

School board plans for other improvements in the immediate future call for a library for the Kitzmiller school and a general education room for the Center Street school. The board hopes to complete both of these projects by the time schools open in September, 1959, Mr. Hawkins said.

He was well known in the tri-state area, having been a salesman for the C. A. Turner company, of Pittsburgh, since about 1921.

Oakland Equipment Burglarized Sunday

The burglar or burglars gained entrance to the building through a rear washroom window. They used chisels and other tools on the safe door in an attempt to force it open. Merle Willard, one of the owners, said that some $2,700 in checks and money were in the safe.

Authorities were notified and an investigation is being conducted.

Investigate Robbery

Authorities were still investigating this week the robbery at the Mt. Lake Hotel which occurred last Wednesday night.

A robber or robbers broke into the hotel through a window and made off with the cash register. This was later found abandoned near the Weber greenhouse. Only a small amount of change was in the register, and as far as is known, nothing else was disturbed.

Jury Awards $15,000 In Suit For Slander

The operator of a service station and restaurant in this county on U. S. route 50, has been awarded $15,000 damages by a Washington County Circuit court in a slander suit.

Cecil Lewis, owner-operator of Whitie's Truck Stop, had only asked $5,000 damages from Robert Broderick and the Accelerated Transport-Pony Express, Inc., the defendants.

William J. Dwyer, of Hagerstown, Lewis' attorney, contended that Broderick, acting as safety director for the truck firm, made slanderous statements against Lewis' place of business at a meeting held in the offices of AT-PE on October 7, 1956.

The defense arguments, presented by Francis H. Urner, Hagerstown, declared that Broderick was acting outside the scope of his employment and was not acting as an agent for AT-PE firm. It was explained that Broderick is no longer with Accelerated Transport-Pony Express.

Judge D. Kenneth McLaughlin instructed the jury to bring in a directed verdict against Broderick and to decide what damages should be allowed the plaintiff from the company and also Broderick, and to decide whether Broderick was acting as an agent for the company when he made the slanderous remark.

After 45 minutes' deliberation the jury returned an award of $10,000 against Broderick and $5,000 against the truck firm.

Firemen Are Called

Oakland firemen were called to the Rainbow motel, Deep Creek Lake, last Friday evening.

Firemen said that a vent pipe on an oil hot water heater had become filled with soot and it was thought there was a fire. There was no damage.

The motel is owned by Mrs. James E. DeWitt.

Body Of Allegany County Youth Recovered After Four-Hour Search

He was identified as Robert Neel Flora, Jr., only son of Robert N. Flora, Sr. and Margaret L. DeWitt Flora. The lad would have been a member of the Junior class of Fort Hill High school this fall. Mrs. Flora is a sister of H. Robert DeWitt of Oakland.

The victim, decribed as a good swimmer, was with a group who were receiving swimming instructions about 10 a. m. in the recreation area lake.

James B. Arnold, assistant county agent, said the Flora boy had been swimming with a companion and the two had gone out to a rope which restricts the swimming area. The boys were swimming near the end of a pier which juts out into the lake about 40 feet. The water in the area is six or seven feet deep.

The companion swam back to a ladder on the pier but when he looked around for his friend Flora was nowhere in sight.

Others were summoned to join in the search. At 2:45 his body was recovered in about five feet of water.

Thomas Nally, 20, of Oakland, who is lifeguarding for a few weeks at Herrington Manor, located the body and pulled the victim from the water.

The victim was pronounced dead at the Newman Funeral home by Dr. James Feaster, Oakland, deputy co. medical examiner who said death was apparently due to drowning.

Mr. Arnold said they had begun to drain the lake when the body was discovered.

A lifeguard was on duty at the time the group of boys went into the water for the first of a series of swimming instruction courses at the camp. He is a Red Cross swimming instructor and has been a life guard six years.

Conducting an investigation were Troopers First Class Donald Wade, D. A. Tucker, Robert Henline, along with Foresty Department personnel.

James B. Arnold, who is serving as the director of the 4-H camp, expressed his extreme regret over the unavoidable accident. He said this was the first serious accident in the 20 years the 4-H camps have been operated at the 4-H recreation center.

At the time of the tragedy Flora was in a group of 23 boys. The "buddy" system was being used and he apparently dropped below the surface without on outcry. He had been to the camp for several seasons and was considered an excellent swimmer.

Flora was born in Cumberland, was a member of Elliott Memorial Methodist church, 4-H club, and also a member of the Glee club and baseball team in high school.

Surviving besides his parents are his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Edith Flora, Bedford road; and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Sadie DeWitt, of Romney, W. Va.

Funeral services are being conducted this afternoon at 1:30 from the Kight Funeral home in Cumberland, with Rev. Louis L. Emerick, pastor of the Elliott Memorial Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in Zion Memorial burial park.

Man Files Suit

A county resident has filed suit for $50,000 damages as result of suffering alleged personal injuries in an auto accident.

Lewis Carl VanSickel placed the action against the Penn Machine Company and Ronald Fisher, an employe of the firm, in the U. S. District Court at Fairmont, W. Va.

VanSickel's declaration alleges the accident occurred on West Virginia State route 26, about three miles north of Brandonville, Preston county, on July 9, 1957.

VanSickel added that the company vehicle struck the rear end of another in which he was riding, causing him permanent personal injuries.

Fisher is a resident of Johnstown, Pa., and the company has headquarters in Pittsburgh.

Gigantic Swindle?

Editor, The Republican,
Oakland, Maryland.
Dear Sir:

In your editorial "This and That", you refer to the way in which the State Roads commission keeps "throwing its weight of authority around."

That puts it mildly, for some of us prefer to believe that a gigantic swindle is being perpetrated with full cooperation of local talent. If not, then all signs are misleading.

A certain state senator remarked to me recently: "Yes, that law (Maryland's dictatorial road law) was passed in 1952. It ought to be changed." A letter from the SRC says: "Chapter 59 of the Acts of Maryland General Assembly of 1956." Who's lying? (Again???)

Mr. Martin's valuable dairy farm will be completely severed. He said they had refused to provide an underpass, or pay for the enormous amount of fencing that will be required. Does not the Bill of Rights say: "Without due process of law, and fair remuneration"?

One man was paid the price of a dog's kennel for his home, and wound up in the hospital with a heart attack.

The offer $100 per acre for land that has cost me over $400 per acre. The value of the remainder of the property will be reduced over $1,000, and to provide access to both lots will cost another $1,000. Delay in settlement has already cost over $500. They want to settle the whole claim for $450.

Let the reader consider. It can happen to you too. Flags flying on July 4th, though few in number, still had the Stars and Stripes. (No hammer and sickle, as yet!) How much longer can we sleep?

Let's have the truth about our Soviet road law, and a list of "Who Voted How" in the 1956 (not 1952) legislature. This will be useful in the coming election.

Yours very truly,
ERNEST G. GNEGY

agencies should require approval of Congress. Such agencies should be required to demonstrate conclusively the public need for such action." Perhaps the same thing could be said in regard to taking land ruthlessly for public roads.

Progress doesn't necessarily mean taking out a curve that merely allows an automobile to go faster, thus creating more danger and more accidents.

Many people we hear talking would gladly take their case to court if they knew that the costs of the case wouldn't more than offset any favorable action they might receive from a jury. They have a feeling of futility, and their thoughts about their federal and state governments reach a new low.

This is not the same as when the state obtains property for reforestation and conservation purposes. This is when good land is taken, chopped up, separated and housing demolished when apparently there is no good reason for it. Can we give some thought to what will eventually result?

Double Wedding Is Performed July 3

A double wedding ceremony was solemnized July 3 at 8 p. m., at the United Church of Christ, New Germany, with Rev. Paul Westcoat, pastor, officiating, when Miss Ann Miller, daughter of Mrs. Carrie Miller and the late Everett Miller, Keyser Ridge, became the bride of Donald Wengerd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Logan Wengerd, Grantsville; and Miss Susan Wiebrecht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wiebrecht, Frostburg, became the bride of Edgar Mickey, son of Mrs. Irva Mickey and the late Roy Mickey, Grantsville.

Place Poults Under Hover Early

When is the right time to put the turkey poults under the hover in the brooder? Well, turkey growers have found it best to place the poults under hovers or in batteries as soon as they are sturdy enough to walk well and start to feed, according to Wade H. Rice, extension poultry husbandman. At the University of Maryland, early March-hatched poults are usually moved from incubator to battery brooders as soon as they are hardened off. At first these young poults sleep instead of eat . . . and after several hours of sleep they start to eat. This means they usually get off to a good start.

Poults less than 48 hours old are likely to start eating without much trouble, but if they're over 72 hours old, they are likely to become more obstinate. So it's a good idea to get the poults to a place where they can have access to water and feed as soon as you can.

When baby turkeys are first placed under brooder stoves or in batteries it takes several hours for them to learn to move away from the heat, or toward the heat, to find the most comfortable temperature. If you place them in the brooding pens by noon, they have the afternoon to adapt themselves to their environment by sunset, and are not so likely to pile up and crowd the first night. Experienced turkey growers report that placing the poults in the brooder before noontime is advisable, especially during hot weather when there is less contrast in temperatures under the hovers and other parts of the pens or batteries.

Dutch Elm Disease Destroying Many American Elms

In a year when dry weather causes wilting, how can one examine an elm tree to determine Dutch elm disease? Dr. L. O. Weaver, professor of plant pathology, University of Maryland, says the leaves of infected elms wilt, become yellow and turn brown; then they fall. On a wilted branch about one-half inch in diameter, peel the bark back to the wood. If diseased, the current or recent sapwood of the tree has a brown discoloration.

To prevent spread of the disease to nearby healthy elms, prompt eradication of diseased trees is necessary, he says. Since elm bark beetles, which spread the fungus, breed only in elm wood that has become infected and on which the rough bark is still tight, destruction of this wood holds down the local beetle population and reduces the amount of disease spread.

The first and important control measure is the removal of diseased elms. Sanitation also means the prompt destruction of entire elms that are dying or have died from any cause. It is suggested that all broken or dead branches large enough to have rough bark removed. Do not pile cut elm wood or brush unless bark has been peeled and burned.

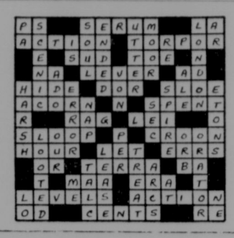
By MARY JANE SCHUNCKE

If you knew you were reliving your life again in a reincarnated state and that you were headed toward tragedy, would you have the courage to change your destiny by just growing up? Well, this is the challenge that is offered Walter Ormund in "I Have Been Here Before," a brilliantly conceived play, by J. B. Priestly, playing this week at the Garrett County Playhouse.

William Lang rendered a faithful portrayal of Walter Ormund, who as a successful industrialist enjoys power, but mistrusts life. Mr. Lang's re-creation of Ormund's confusion, fears, escapes and final rebirth, on which all other lives depend, was very convincing.

DeAnn Mears in the role of Ormund's intelligent but frustrated wife who discovers herself and is finally freed from her unhappy fate, rendered once more, a quality performance. To Helen Page Camp, as the dour phlegmatic Sally Pratt, must go the laurels of being most "in character." Al Hadley, as Sam Shipley; William Pappas, as Dr. Gortler; and Neil Flanagan, as Oliver Farrant, were also very good.



Perhaps the weakest part of an otherwise excellent production was the disconcerting lack of attention to dialects and accents. The Priestley play is all English and was supposed to take place at the Black Bull Inn in North Yorkshire, but might as well have taken place at the Wayside Inn in North Carolina. Except for Miss Camp, who sounded more Scotch than Yorkshire; and Mr. Pappas who was supposed to be German, but sounded at varying intervals to be German, Scotch, American and maybe French, all the others were as American as apple pie.

This amazing play, whether one believes the metaphysical philosophy or not, cannot help but fascinate anyone who has ever pondered the questions: What am I? What am I doing here? What is this life all about? This is a thought-provoking play and will stimulate your mind. However, it is not one of those deeply depressive intellectual efforts for it not only advances a hypothesis, but also solves it and with a happy ending.

This play is a must. Go see it!

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

BY EDITH BROCK

Donations of books and magazines have been received this week from Simon N. Schrock, Noah Petersheim, Byron Moon and family, George Hanst, Mildred Smith, Mrs. Margaret Liller, Christopher Hoving ,and Mrs. Walter Bowman.

A pitcherplant contributed by Harold Harned is the center of interest in an exhibit on nature study. Many attractively illustrated new books for readers of all ages are included in this exhibit. John Kieran's "Introduction to Nature," Donald Culross Peattie's "Rainbow Book of Nature," Jeannette Klute's "Woodland Portraits", and W. J. Holland's "Butterfly Book" are among the most colorful of the new books. Handbooks for the identification of trees, birds, snakes, ferns, mosses and rocks are in constant demand. Dr. Joseph E. Harned's "Wild Flowers of the Alleghanies" is still a favorite among the nature books. Several copies of this are available for borrowing.

Anyone interested in nature will enjoy seeing the collections made by eighth grade science students which are now on display in the large exhibit case. These include the work of Joan Ritchie, George Porter, John W. Wildesen, John Beckman, Beverly Dean, Mary Ann Burgwald, Carolyn Simmons, and Sue Yutzy.

Visitors and summer residents are cordially invited to visit the library and to borrow books.

Miss Stickel Weds Mississippi Doctor

Against a background of tall baskets of white gladioli, potted palms and ferns, the Rev. Orville Melquist, pastor of the First Baptist church of Connellsville, Pa., united Miss Barbara Gale Stickel and Dr. Norman J. Scheibling in marriage. The double ring ceremony was performed Friday afternoon, July 4, at 2 o'clock. Music was furnished by soloist Mrs. Samantha Gallentine, an aunt of the bride, and organist Mirian Snyder.

Serving as best man was Evan Schiebling, brother of the groom. Ushers were James Stickel and Robert Egolf, Somerset, Pa.; Dr. John Somerndyke, of Milwaukee, Wisc., and Dr. Richard Corson, of Paulsboro, N. J.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Stickel, summer residents of Deep Creek Lake, and former residents of Oakland. Dr. Scheibling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Scheibling, of Aneram, N. Y.

Miss Linda Weis, Philadelphia, Temple university classmate of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Jean Taylor, Bristol; Miss Janet Yost, Elwood City; Miss Olivia Naylor, Oakland; and Mrs. Penny MacMurdo Schenck, Somerset. Their gowns of silk organza had scoop neckline bodices, the detail back being sheer chemise. Hats were of imported silk organza woven into small leaflets to match dresses, covered by over-the-face veil. They carried carnations with ivy streamers to match gowns of yellow, nile green, pink, blue and lilac.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She selected a gown designed by Denny of Philadelphia; white pure silk organza. The bodice had a Sabrina neckline, re-embroidered lacelon medallions covered with seed pearls. The sleeves were short and fully gathered. A princess waistline topped a full skirt ending in a chapel train. A headdress of irridescent pearls in orange blossoms was covered by an imported nylon tulle fingertip length veil. The flowers she carried were cascade type of white carnations, lily of the valley and ivy.

The Baptist chapel was the scene of the reception that followed. On the bridal table was a four tier wedding cake and several bouquets of white flowers. The couple left for a trip to Delmarva peninsula and will continue on to Jackson, Miss., where they will reside. For travel the bride wore a turquoise linen suit.

The mother of the bride wore a steel blue silk organza sheath, having a brocade trim neckline. Her feather hat matched the dress. Mrs. Scheibling selected a powder blue lace dress and matching feather hat. Both had red rose corsages.

A graduates of Somerset High school, the bride is a registered nurse. She is a graduate of Temple University hospital school of nursing.

The bridegroom received his A. B. degree from Yale university and his M. D. degree from Temple university School of Medicine. Having served as first lieutenant in the air force, he is now employed as resident in Pediatrics, University of Mississippi Medical Center, Jackson, Mississippi.

His First Steps...

He stands with his legs quivering ever so slightly, ready to put forth first one foot . . . and then the other.

This is a great moment, and it might be frightening if it were not for the strong, steady clasp of his mother's hand. She is there to guide him . . . to catch him if he falls.

But the time will come when he'll have to let go of his mother's hand, and go forth on his own. Even then, he will need guidance. His mother is taking care of that, too. Already, he attends church with his parents on Sundays and slowly but surely he will begin to learn the meaning of faith. Children must be taught to take spiritual as well as physical steps. The Church stands ready to teach them.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It Begins at Home

Lesson for July 20, 1958

JUSTICE, like charity, begins at home. People who don't practice it there are not likely to practice it anywhere. A home is often called a retreat, a place where one can get away. But the home is no place to get away from the human race, no place to get away from God, no hide-away from duty. In one sense the home is the easiest place to live. When some one wants to express the idea of a delightful situation he will say it is like "one big happy family." On the other hand the home is a very difficult place to live, just because those who make it up are so very different. Anywhere else in the world, for instance, a man has other men he can team up with; but in the home father is the only man. He has only a woman and children for company. They love him and he loves them; but they are all so different that they are hard to understand.

Dr. Foreman

Social Justice in the Home

It is hard to comprehend the meaning of "social justice" in society at large. The whole thing is so complex and enormous that we seldom feel certain of the answers. But when we look at a single home, the problem is in some ways clearer. For example: The home makes it plain that "justice" is not the same thing as treating every one precisely alike. A good diet for mother may be a poor one for father, and what both of them eat may be poison for the baby. Father, mother and child have different parts to play in the home, they have different contributions to make, they need from the home different benefits. The Bible at many points deals with the home, and if what is said sounds too simple and commonsense for inspired Scripture, we must recall that the home itself which we take for granted, is itself a product of the religion of the Bible. One thing the Bible makes plain is of the essence of justice: rights and responsibilities go together. The father and the mother between them furnish the support, they command and teach.

The Teaching Mother

No one will try to make light of a mother's willing sacrifice in bringing a child into the world. But if all a woman does for her children is to give them birth she is not the Bible's idea of a good mother. A woman who has a child who, because of her neglect, is only a future thief or killer, might better not have had the child at all. The Bible (as in Proverbs) often brings out directly or indirectly the importance of a good mother in a child's life. And the thing often mentioned is her service as teacher. She is the principal teacher—or she can be, if she gives her time and mind to it—of her child for his first six years.

What has all this to do with "justice"? This much, at least: One important feature of justice, in society or in the family, is giving each person an opportunity to render all the service of which he is capable. Hence if mothers are going to be good teachers, we must see how important the education of girls is. "Educate a boy and you educate a future man. Educate a girl and you educate a future family." If mothers are to be teachers, then justice requires that everyone, husband and community alike, give them every encouragement and opportunity to live with their children.

The Children

In the Bible's teaching about the home, one feature is stressed which is not at all popular today, though our country would be a better one if it were more popular: namely the idea of obedience. What is the best contribution a child can make to the well-being of a home? Two things every child can bring: Cheerfulness, and obedience. And what has this to do with justice? It should be obvious: Justice does not require that everybody in a given group or situation should be the equal of everybody else there. There is such a thing as subordination which is fair and right. Justice in the home does not call for children to be treated like grownups. There is no conflict whatever between love and obedience; indeed the best obedience is the obedience of love.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

One Week's Work In The U. S. Senate—I believe it would interest you to observe the variety of work done in the United States during just one week—say, the week of July 2 to 8, inclusive. Generally speaking, the work of the Senate Bills Referred to Committees, President's Messages, Consideration of Legislation (debate), Bills and Resolutions Passed, Consideration of Presidential Nominations, and Committee Meetings.

It would be too lengthy to list all the week's items under each of the subheadings, but let's look at some of the highlights:

Bills Introduced

There were 14 bills and 4 resolutions introduced.

Bills Reported

(This means bills which had been acted on favorably by the respective committees and were recommended to the Senate for passage.) S. 3557, a bill to amend the International Claims Settlement Act with regard to claims against Czechoslovakia. S. 4100, a bill to provide for increased use of agricultural products for industrial purposes. H. R. 12858, a bill providing fiscal 1959 appropriations for public works. H. R. 11414, a bill authorizing grants for the provision of training and services in the field of public health. S. 4036, the Domestic Stabilization Act. S. 3736, a bill relating to the construction of a stadium for Washington, D. C. S. 2769, a bill providing salary increases for D. C. Police and Fire Departments. S. 3957, a bill to increase salaries of D. C. teachers. And 11 more.

House Bills Referred to Committees

Forty-nine House-passed bills and one House-passed Resolution were referred to appropriate committees.

President's Messages

Atomic Energy: Message was received from the President, transmitting an Atomic Energy Exchange Agreement with the United Kingdom relative to cooperation on uses of atomic energy for mutual defense; read and referred to the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

Passports: Message was received from the President, transmitting recommendations for legislative limitations on issuance of passports in certain cases; read and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Consideration of Legislation

There was extensive debate on the Senate Floor on the Long-Beall amendment to the Trade Extension Act of 1958; on S. 1615, a bill prohibiting removal to U. S. district courts of actions commenced in State courts under State workmen's compensation laws; on H. R. 12858, a bill providing fiscal 1959 appropriations for public works; on S. 3817, a bill to provide a program for the development of mineral resources; and on other measures which were subsequently passed.

Bills and Resolutions Passed

Without amendment and cleared for the President: H. R. 12457, a bill authorizing appropriations for the Atomic Energy Commission for fiscal 1959; H. J. Res. 479, resolution designating the first day of May of each year as Loyalty Day; four D. C. bills as follows: designating holidays for employees, relating to the regulation of executing bonds in criminal cases, amending the charter of a society, and relating to the authority of the municipal court officers to administer oaths; and 5 other bills.

Passed and cleared for the House: S. 3916, a bill to extend for 2 years those provisions of the Shipping Act of 1916 which relate to dual-rate contract arrangements; S. 3817, a bill to provide a program for the development of mineral resources; S. 3735, my own bill to amend the charter of the National Union Insurance Company; and 5 other bills.

With amendment, to be sent back to House: H. R. 985, a bill to provide that chief judges of circuit and district courts shall cease to serve as much upon reaching the age of 75; and other bills. (In each of these cases, should the House not agree to the Senate amendment or amendments, the bill will go to a specially selected Conference of members of the two Houses of Congress so that the differences may be ironed out.)

Consideration of Presidential Nominations

Nominations of Charles W. Yost to be Ambassador to Morocco and Waldemar J. Gallman to be Ambassador to the Arab Union were received, along with 1 nomination to a UN group, 3 judicial nominations, and numerous postmaster and armed services nominations. These were referred to appropriate committees.

Nominations were confirmed: Philip Ray Rodgers, of Maryland, to be member of N. L. R. B., along with 11 other civilian nominations, including 8 to be members of National Science Board, National Science Foundation, and numerous postmasters.

Committee Meetings

Senate committees and subcommittees were busy, as usual, working on many things, such as some of the Presidential nominations, appropriations for the various Executive Departments for fiscal 1959, the reorganization of the Defense Department, appropriations for public works, the Trade Agreements Extension Act, the Domestic Minerals Stabilization Act, the possible racketeer infiltration into legitimate labor unions, mutual security, new national parks, and problems of the domestic textile industry. Our own Senate D. C. Committee finished work on the several bills reported and worked on my bills for the further development of the Maryland Steam Valley Parks.

This gives you an idea of the manifold nature of the matters to which your Senator must give his attention and the scope of his activities during the course of one week's time.

THREE VISITORS FROM OUTER SPACE

(This story is based on Genesis 18 and 19)

HELLO BOYS AND GIRLS!

Did you know that the Bible contains many TRUE stories telling of visitors from outer space? The Bible tells us where these celestial beings come from, what they look like, and what their work is in behalf of the human race. You see, boys and girls, in the Bible God, as it were, draws aside the curtain that separates our world from the rest of the universe, and gives us a glimpse of what is taking place behind the scenes. In today's story we will learn about three heavenly visitors who appeared in the form of men, and who came all the way from heaven, God's dwelling place. The Bible calls that glorious place the THIRD heaven. You see, the atmospheric heaven is the FIRST heaven, the starry heavens are the SECOND heaven, while the THIRD heaven, or Paradise, is where God dwells. No one can possibly compute the tremendous distances between these three heavens. We know that the nearest star is 24 billion miles from us, but the farthest stars are millions of light years away, and beyond them is God's dwelling place! Yet we know from the Bible that it takes but a few minutes for heavenly beings to traverse these vast distances!

In today's story we see three strangers approaching Abraham as he sat in his tent door. Abraham ran to meet them and persuaded them to partake of his hospitality. Quickly he and his wife Sarah prepared a meal for the men, and the record says that "they did eat." As the story develops we learn that two of the men were angels, while the third was none other than the Lord Himself, Whom Abraham later addressed as, "The Judge of all the earth." Just think of the great honor that was conferred upon Abraham, and all because he was hospitable, and was willing to put himself out a little for others. We never know what may be the result of a kind, thoughtful act of ours, insignificant though it may appear at the time.

In our story we find that Abraham was richly rewarded by the Lord for his unselfish act. The long awaited and looked for son, Isaac, was born to Abraham, even though it took a miracle for God to bring this to pass. Besides, God took Abraham into His confidence and revealed to him that He was about to destroy the two wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, where Lot, Abraham's nephew, lived with his family. While Abraham pleaded with God for the life of Lot, the two Angels went on to Sodom, where they were entertained by Lot who invited them into his home for the night. Because of this act of hospitality, and in answer to Abraham's prayer, Lot's life was spared, as well as that of his two daughters who lived at home at the time. Lot's wife was turned into a pillar of salt because she disobeyed the angel's express command not to look back as they fled from the city. To this day may be seen great masses of salt, some resembling the human form, near the place where the two wicked cities once stood.

Why do you suppose, boys and girls, that these acts of hospitality with their far-reaching results are recorded in the Bible? To encourage you and all of us to follow Abraham's example. Let us ever remember that it is the little attentions kindly bestowed that sweeten the life and make up the sum of life's happiness.

Frankly, we don't expect you to take our word for it when we say the Swept-Wing 58 Dodge is unlike any car you have ever driven. We don't expect you to believe it rides smoother, corners better and handles easier just because we say so.

You want more than claims. You want proof. You want to be shown, to be convinced.

That's why we invite you to come in and Take the Wheel . . . Get the Swept-Wing feel. Take a '58 Dodge out on the road and compare it with any other car you have ever owned or driven.

Is it everything we say it is? Does it actually ride smoother? Corner better? Handle easier?

We'll leave the answers up to you. You be the judge. Just see and drive and compare the Swept-Wing 58 Dodge. That's all we ask.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Who Is Kidding Whom?

Some weeks ago, following my newsletter opposing the recognition of Red China, the Baltimore Evening Sun printed a castigating editorial, titled "Kidding Himself," in which I was accused of making "wild and fanciful statements." This tirade brands my position as "nonsense" and concludes with the contemptuous statement: "We don't know how many other people he (Senator Butler) is kidding, but he sure is kidding himself." Curiously, the editorial did not appear in all editions of the Evening Sun for May 26th.

The vehemence of this criticism of my position prompted a deluge of encouraging messages which convince me that the shoe might well be on the other foot. Or, who is kidding whom? The Evening Sun, and its pro-ADA editorial writer, ignore the unanimous consensus of the Congress which was expressed by a 91-0 vote in 1954. My colleague, Senator Beall, found as a result of his more recent questionnaire that 64 per cent of those Marylanders who responded likewise oppose the recognition of Red China.

Secretary of State Dulles reflected the sentiments of the Administration on this issue in these words on January 17, 1958: "So long as the Communist regime (in China) is dedicated to opposing by all possible means the things which we believe to be in our interest, we do not see that there is any advantage to be gained by increasing its authority, its influence and prestige to be used against us."

Our Ambassador to the United Nations, Henry Cabot Lodge, tells me on June 5th last, "I know of nothing which has happened that would cause me to revise the statement (opposing the seating of Red China in the United Nations) which you quote from my letter to you in 1956." Ambassador Lodge also said at the same time: "At the most recent session of the General Assembly a motion to discuss the question of Chinese representation at the United Nations was defeated by an overwhelming majority of the member States . . ."

One Marylander defends my assertion, that to recognize Soviet Red China would be to create "another Frankenstein," with this rebuttal: ". . . to some readers of the Evening Sun, there appears to be a sound factual basis for holding that the granting of American diplomatic recognition to Russia in 1933 laid the groundwork for those subsequent developments whereby Russia was enabled, very largely by what it got from the United States, to become the power it is at the present time."

Again, I say, who is kidding whom?

DeWITT S. HYDE

It is a pleasure to report that the Small Business Administration is to be a permanent agency. The legislation extending indefinitely the life of S. B. A. also reduces the interest rate on Federal loans to small business from 6 per cent to 5½ percent and raises the maximum amount a concern can borrow at one time from $250,000 to $350,000.

Another measure that will go a long way toward helping solve some of the small businessman's problems is the Small Business Investment Act of 1958. The purpose of the Act is to make equity-type capital and long-term credit more readily available to small firms. This would be done through the establishment of privately owned small business investments companies.

Federal assistance would be confined to the initial capital requirements of the new investment companies and to funds for expansion of their operations. There would be no direct Federal investment in any small business concern under the proposed program. Small firms would obtain their needed equity capital and long-term credit from the investment companies.

Provision is made for State chartered small business investment companies and for the ultimate transition from Federal chartering to State chartering.

My Joint Committee on Washington Metroplitan Problems held hearings last week on questions of economic growth. A variety of witnesses indicated some regional direction to economic development is necessary in the Metropolitan area.

I have introducted a bill which would authorize the transfer of the old Pension Building in downtown Washington to the Smithsonian Institution to be used as an Air Museum. The conversion would result in considerable savings to the taxpayer and provide a satisfactory solution to the difficult problem of a suitable location for the Air Museum.

Yacht Club Races Set For July 26-27

The sixth annual Deep Creek Yacht club regatta will be held July 26 and 27 with Maryland championships to be decided in two classes, Snipes and Rebels.

The two-day sailing show will be marked by the first appearance of the Flying Scots in the waters of Deep Creek Lake. Largest sailboat ever to ply the Garrett county waters in competition, the Flying Scot has a fiberglas hull with aluminum spars. It is 19 feet long.

This gives the regatta four classes as Thistles will be racing for the fourth straight year.

Highlighting the show will be the appearance of two national champions, Ludwig Fromme, Toledo, O., and George S. Brown, Baltimore. Last year Fromme with his brother Edward, won all three races at the regatta.

Brown wound up as national champion last year in the snipe class. Now 17, he will begin in the senior division this year.

About 25 snipes are expected to compete along with ten Thistles, 15 Rebels and four Flying Scots. Sailors from Schenectady, Syracuse, Akron, Cleveland, Toledo and Indianapolis, as well as from Baltimore, Washington and Pittsburgh, have already entered.

Races will start at Turkey Neck point and finish in front of the Yacht club. Length of the races will vary from a mile and a half to six miles.

Skippers in all classes will meet July 26 at 9 a. m. The first race will be in the Thistle class, starting at 10. The Flying Scots will start at 10:10, followed by the Snipes at 10:20 and the Rebels at 10:30. The afternoon card will follow the same order with races at ten minute intervals, starting at 2. Single races are scheduled for Sunday.

Grantsville Knocks Off League Leader

Bobby Dawson and the Grantsville Sluggers broke the six-game winning streak of the Barrelville team Sunday at Barrelville by the score of 5 to 2 and the upset enabled the Hyndman team to tie Barrelville for the first place in the Pen Mar Baseball league.

The Sluggers moved within a half game of the deadlocked first place teams. It was Dawson's fifth win of the season against a single setback.

Barrelville nicked the offerings of Dawson for 10 safeties but they were unable to do much with the righthander in the pinches. Barrelville was limited to one run in the third and one in the fourth in Sunday's game. Dawson fanned five.

John Keister obtained two of the Sluggers' six hits while Tucker Cain rapped a two-bagger. Harold Hudson smacked a double and two singles.

Barrelville had beaten Grantsville in the first two games of their series by scores of 9-2 and 13-2.

Grantsville also won over Wellersburg on Saturday 14 to 3. Six runs were scored in the third inning. The winners obtained eight hits. Earl Gracie was the winning pitcher.

Jim Keister tripled and his mates came through with five singles, all in the third inning.

THE REPUBLICAN

It Must Be The Weather . .

Don't look for anything profound in this space today. The editor is away, and while the mice haven't exactly been playing the ceaseless rain hasn't quite been conducive to deeper thought.

The weather hasn't been kind to us this year—except to those who enjoy risking their necks on a ski slope. First the record—breaking snow and cold of the prolonged winter, and all summer (to use the word loosely) we've been plagued with cold weather and rain, rain, rain. This, of course, played the dickens with business at the lake, and farming too. Many farmers don't have their hay in yet, and small prospect of being able to do so in time to save much of it.

We can't quite bring ourselves to apologize for our weather—the majority of the time we enjoy its variety even when snow flies a little too long. We've found that someone usually benefits even when someone else might suffer a little.

But this long wet spell has helped no one except perhaps those who sell rain coats and umbrellas, and most folk had these articles, anyway.

So you see, there's nothing profound here. Just a nice, griping little essay on a nice little non-controversial subject. People may talk about the weather, but we don't believe many quarrel over it.

Or are you going to give us an argument?

Two County Men Land In Lebanon

Two county service men were among the first 1800 Marines that landed in Lebanon July 15 when President Eisenhower ordered the reinforced Second Battalion, Second Marine Regiment ashore in Beirut to meet the Middle East crisis.

Pfc. Rodeheaver is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rodeheaver, of Deer Park, and Pfc. Lowers is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil C. Lowers, of Route 1, Swanton.

The Marines making the landing were part of the Fleet Marine Force assigned to the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. The amphibious battalion is commanded by Lt. Col. H. A. Hadd.

In addition to these Marines, one Oakland Navy man arrived off Beirut, Lebanon, on July 17 as part of the Sixth Fleet assigned to the troubled area.

He is John F. Ruff, aviation structural mechanic airman, son of Mrs. Edna E. Ruff of 50 Bartlett street, Oakland. Ruff is aboard the attack aircraft carrier U. S. S. Saratoga.

Club Members At Conservation Camp

This camp consists of classes on forestry subjects. The campers will learn about forestry and tree planting, Christmas tree growing, woodland improvement and forest fire fighting. One day will consist of a conservation tour of Swallow Falls, Herrington Manor and visits to farmers in the area.

Those attending from Garrett county are Martin Conn, Friendsville; James Buckel, Bittinger; Glenn Canan, Oakland; Stuart Stanton and Allen Folk, Grantsville.

"January Thaw" On Playhouse Card

"January Thaw," a fast paced comedy, is being rehearsed for the fourth presentation of the Garrett County Playhouse. The New England story is based on a novel by Bellamy Partridge.

The action centers around two incompatible families, who, by strange circumstances, must share the same house. Neil Flanagan and DeAnn Mears will appear as the New York couple who have brought their family to the Connecticut house. Liane Wheeler will appear as Barbara, their charming eldest daughter. Al Hadley will play her confused fiance. Jennifer Yell and Kay Brown will make their first appearance as the teen age daughters of the New York couple.

The second and rather eccentric couple will be played by William G. Pappas and Helen Page Camp. William Lang will play their wild and strange son who provides the twist to the story.

"Miranda," a British comedy, will play through Saturday of this week. "January Thaw" will play Tuesday through Saturday of next week.

Foley To Speak

John Foley, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth district, has been announced as the principal speaker at a dinner planned by the Democratic State Central Committee for Garrett county.

The affair will be held at the William-James hotel in Oakland on Wednesday, July 30, at 7:00 p. m., DST.

Future Policies Of Polio Group Are Explained

Four members of the Garrett county Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis were given a preview of the work outlined by the Foundation for the next fifty years.

The plans were disclosed at a closed television circuit meeting in Pittsburgh on Tuesday by Basil O'Conner, president.

Attending from this area were Mrs. Helen Harman, Accident; Ralph Beachley and Mrs. Ivan Humberson, Friendsville, and C. L. Briner, Oakland.

The National Foundation, it was pointed out, while continuing its winning fight against polio, plans to expand its activities to include a wide range of health problems. Initial new goals will be arthritis and birth defects. Virus research and investigations of disorders of the central nervous system will be expanded.

"Our chapter will continue to meet its obligations to polio patients in Garrett county for as long as they need assistance," Mrs. Harman said. "Mr. O'Conner made it very clear that this is our primary responsibility. But the idea of a voluntary association dedicated to improvement of man's health, ready and able to move in whatever direction scientific discoveries lead it, not confined to a single disease, is a tremendous challenge.

Medical care in arthritis and birth defects is much like that for post-polio, Mrs. Harman poined out.

Rainfall Continues

As this is being written, it is raining.

As a matter of fact, as everything this week and last was written it was generally raining.

In short, we have had plenty of rain, including several good thunderstorms.

During a storm Monday evening, which partially knocked out the power system, there were a few tense minutes in downtown Oakland when it appeared a flood was imminent. The sewers were unable to carry off the water, and it backed up to the doors of several business establishments. However, it soon subsided and returned to its normal soggy state.

July 20, .51 inch; July 21, .20 inch; July 22, .74 inch; July 23, .99 inch; since last evening, .11 inch.

Wet, isn't it?

Premium Books Are Available For Fair

Garrett County Fair premium books are now available. These books can be obtained from Department superintendents, Fair Manager Claude Wagner, Sr., or the County Agent's office.

According to James McHenry, now is the time to start planning for your exhibits at the fair. The county fair offers an opportunity for farm families to exhibit articles which represent the best of their produce. "Exhibitors should remember that an exhibit is representative of the best they have and is offered in free competition with exhibits from their neighbors," he said.

Points to consider in selecting exhibits for the fair are trueness of type or variety, uniformity, freeness from blemish or faulty craftsmanship, and standards of quality.

Many people only consider one department when exhibiting at the fair, however, the fair offers an opportunity for exhibition of all phases of farm and home products. County Agent McHenry suggests that the family sit down around the supper table with their premium book and plan all the exhibits their family could make at the fair. The county fair is unique in that it is a family-type fair with the competition coming from all the same class of farm folks.

Frostburg Tops Little League Play

Frostburg's All Stars eliminated the Oakland nine Monday from the district Little League championship play by the score of 8 to 1.

Billy Diehl, pitching ace of the Frostburg Orioles, pitched a one hitter and struck out 14 batsmen for the Allegany countians, which advanced the team to the second round of the tourney.

Dennis Shaffer's single in the fifth inning was the only hit credited to Oakland in Monday's game.

The Frostburg team collected six hits, three of which were credited to Tom Wilson, who garned two doubles and a single. Wayne Miller had two hits for the winners. Gary Orr went the distance for Oakland.

The field was wet, which made it difficult for the pitchers to control the ball and for the fielders to hang on to it, accounting for a large number of errors.

Following Monday's game, Frostburg on Tuesday went on to win over Hancock on the latter's field to the tune of 4-2, thus getting two legs on the championship.

The winners will meet Williamsport today at 6. p. m. at Frostburg.

Man Killed By Train At Hopemont

A 45 year old Terra Alta man who was killed instantly Sunday night when struck by a Baltimore and Ohio train east of the Hopemont crossing in Preston county has been identified as Delbert Likens, of Terra Alta.

J. T. Dailey, Jr., prosecuting attorney for Preston county, said Likens was killed when struck by Train No. 97 hauling 89 cars from Cumberland to St. Louis.

Dailey said the engineer stated he saw something that looked "like a keg of nails" on the tracks, but did not see it in time to stop the train.

Trooper Jack T. Gibben, stationed with the State Police at Kingwood, obtained the identification Monday. No papers were found on the man's body at the time of the accident. Police said the man was married and had several children.

For the first six months of 1958, Garrett County achieved 26.9% of its yearly goal of $380,000, and is in 24th place in Maryland. The county needs $87,964 additional purchases of bonds to pass the 50% mark for the full half-year period.

Fish Program At Deep Creek Termed Success

Concluding an extensive 3 day study, the Maryland Department of Research and Education and the Game and Inland Fish Commission released an extremely optimistic report about the success of the fish management program at Deep Creek Lake.

Now in the third year of a 5 year management program, the two departments have concentrated on ways and means of reducing the over-abundant yellow perch. In line with this attempt, large, predator fish were stocked. These include Northern Pike, Chain Pickerel, Walleyes, and Striped Bass.

On July 9, 10, and 11, Harold Elser, Maryland fisheries biologist, and his assistants explored the feasibility of electro-fishing for perch and also the practicality of shoreline rotenoning at night.

The results were encouraging. Many yellow perch can be caught at night with electricity. It is also possible to retenone yellow perch without destroying large numbers of bass. Both processes can be used to reduce the yellow perch population.

As to the adaptation of the predator fish, Mr. Elser reports, "During the three day study, we found Pickerel have spawned very successfully. Hundreds of small 3½"-4" Pickerel and also scores of Pickerel hatched in 1957 were found. These year old fish average about 11 inches. At this rate of growth, they will be of legal size (14") for next fishing season.

In addition, the staff found several specimen of Northern Pike averaging about six inches in length which were hatched from eggs of the April, 1958 planting or from naturally spawned eggs of Pike planted in early March, 1958. According to Elser, "this indicates that Northern Pike will at least survive and probably will spawn in Deep Creek Lake."

Although the management program is only in its third year, there is already good evidence that it is paying off in better fishing at Deep Creek Lake for everyone.

County Girls Score At District Meet

Tuesday, seven county 4-H girls traveled to Hagerstown to participate in District Demonstration Day. Four 4-H girls from Carroll, Frederick, Washington, Allegany, and Garrett counties competed for top honors in cherry pie, dairy foods, general foods, baked foods, poultry foods, clothing, electricity, home management, home furnishings, and family life classes.

Mrs. Ross Crowe, Mrs. Howard T. Oursler, and Miss Johanna Magaha, Assistant Home Agent, accompanied the group.

Phone Directories Being Distributed

Delivery of Garrett county's new telephone directory will be completed by July 29, according to Clarence Stem, manager of the local office. Approximately 6,200 new books will be delivered to home and business places throughout the county.

Stem said, "Telephone users will note there are many changes in the method of dialing calls to their respective local calling areas. These changes are being made to standardize the dialing procedures throughout the areas. Although each customer has been notified, it is important that all telephone users refer to the information pages of the new directory for complete details."

He also pointed out, "Since there are a great many changes in telephone numbers, it is important that users look up all numbers desired before calling." Old books should be destroyed.

Miss Rush Wed To Robert King

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Accident, was the scene of the wedding on Saturday afternoon, June 21, at 2 o'clock, of Miss Kathleen Marie Rush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Rush, Cleveland, Ohio, and Charles Robert King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Y. W. King, near Oakland.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a white gown of imported Chantilly lace and pleated nylon tulle designed with a Sabrina neckline edged with sequins trim and a lace bodice. The full length skirt had tiers of lace and tulle with a lace panel down the front and back, and a chapel train. A queen's crown with sequins and pearls held her French illusion fingertip veil edged with hand cut lace. She carried a White Bible topped with a white orchid with satin streamers and lilies of the valley.

Miss Patricia Egensperger, Cleveland, Ohio, was maid of honor. Her ballerina length gown of white embossed nylon marquisette over aqua taffeta was fashioned with a scoop neckline, bouffant skirt, and taffeta cumberbund with bow and streamers in back. She wore matching shoes and a semi picture hat of net trimmed with taffeta to match dress, and scattered pearls, and carried a cascade arrangement of Mamie Eisenhower carnations tied with variegated ribbon.

Miss Beverly Speicher, Accident, was a bridesmaid and wore a yellow gown identical in style to that of the maid of honor, matching hat and shoes, and carried a cascade arrangement of pink carnations tied with variegated ribbon.

Miss Bonnie Rush, Cleviand, Ohio, sister of the bride, was a bridesmaid and wore a Nile green gown with matching shoes and hat, and carried yellow carnations tied with variegated ribbon.

Miss Audrey Rush, Cleveland, Ohio, sister of the bride, was a bridesmaid and wore a Nile green gown with matching shoes and hat, and carried apricot carnations.

Leroy Carr, McHenry, served as best man. Ushers were James Bowman, Accident; Samuel Bowman, cousins of the groom; and Edward Rush, Accident, cousin of the bride.

Miss Gail Kesner, Accident, played the traditional wedding marches and also accompanied Miss Helen Selby, Friendsville, as she sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride's mother chose a screen print silk dress with white accessories and wore an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a yellow print chiffon dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Accident Fire Hall. White bells, white, yellow, and pink streamers were used in the decoration. Mrs. Melvin Kesner cut and served the five-tiered wedding cake. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. Deleon Rush, Mrs. Mitchell Rush, Mrs. Charles Ringer, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Harold Kahl, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Ethel Seibert.

Mr. and Mrs. King will reside in Titusville, Florida.

Letter to the Editor

Editor, The Republican,

This letter has reference to the several statements that have appeared in your paper about the State Roads Commission.

The General Assembly granted the State Roads Commission Eminent Domain for rights-of-way at least fifty years ago. Later, about 1951, I think, their power was extended, giving them the right to go ahead with construction of roads without waiting for condemnation trial in court, provided they deposited funds with the court that may be required to pay damages awarded to property owners through law suits in the court. The property owner always has the right to seek higher damages in the court than the State Roads Commission offered him.

When the Twelve Year Roads Program was enacted, about 1952, providing for expenditures of well over a half billion dollars, to modernize our State Roads, the powers that had been granted long before became more noticeable to the public. Since then, many communities have been disturbed by what some people honestly feel is an abuse of power by the State Roads Commission. The effect of such a law in action, where vast sums of money are placed in the hands of public officials to be expended very much as they see fit, is just beginning to make our people sit up and take notice. The Twelve Year Roads Program seems to be too large for efficient administration. Then too, on some roads, such as Route 219 where there is participation by the Federal Government, our State Roads Commission must meet certain federal requirements in order to obtain the Government funds that help to pay for the project.

It would seem that if condemnation powers are necessary for any agency of our State Government they would be most feasible and necessary in the procurement of rights-of-way for roads. I believe that no other agency of the State, except the State Roads Commission, ought to be empowered to take private property for public use, and then, only, after proof of need. Yet, there are many other departments of our State Government that have such powers. I think they are dangerous and ought not to have been granted.

In 1956 the General Assembly passed an Act amending the 1951 law, Powers of State Roads Commission, which amendment set up "property review boards" in each county. The members of these boards are appointed by the Circuit Court judges. It is the function of these Boards to make appraisals of property and place a value upon the damages sustained by the property owners where rights-of-way are taken. This law has not helped. The Roads Commission has paid little heed to the values set by the local "review boards." It has apparently resulted in a more lengthy and expensive procedure. It has not worked out in practice, and there is strong sentiment in the Legislature for its repeal. I had serious doubts about its usefulness and I voted against it.

CLIFFORD FRIEND,
State Senator

* * *

Editor's Note: Mr. Friend is correct in his statement that the State Roads commission has long had the power to acquire property by condemnation. In recent years this power has been implemented by legislation which permits immediate use of property by the deposit of funds with the court. We have never questioned the legality of the action of the Roads commission. However, we have questioned the wisdom and good judgment of some of their actions.

Is Your Name BRAY?

Bray, an old and honored surname, is principally of English origin. It admits of a few derivations. According to some authorities on nomenclature, it was often bestowed in mediaeval times upon those having homes located on the "bray" or brow of a hill. It is said that it was applied to newcomers in a community who came from places by the name of Bray in Berkshire County and Devonshire Counties, England, and also in France. In addition, it is stated that Bray signifies "brave man".

Asa Bray (1741-1815) and Daniel Bray (1751-1819) were captains respectively in the Connecticut and New Jersey troops during the Revolutionary War.

A genealogy of the descendants of Thomas Bray (1604-1691), who was born in England, settled in Gloucester, Massachusetts about the year 1650 and was the father of nine children, was compiled by George Burbank Sedgely of Farmington, Maine and published in 1928. Married In Oakland Church

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne B. Hamilton, of Red House, announce the marriage of their daughter, Rebecca Ann, to Charles Hall Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Grant Fleming, 544 Stamford Road, Baltimore.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Godwin, at St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland, Sunday afternoon, July 13 at 2:00 o'clock. For the ceremony the altar was decorated with white gladioli, carnations, greenery and potted palms.

Mr. Brooks Hamilton, brother of the bride, lighted the tall tapers which lighted the chancel for the service. Julius B. Littman played a program of wedding selections before and during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a ballet length white gown of lace and Peau de Soie designed with fitted bodice, short sleeves and matching lace mitts. Her short nose veil was attached to a seed pearl crown. The veil was an imported French design. The bride's only jewelry was cultured pearl earrings, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with satin streamers. The bride's father sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The mother of the bride wore a blue silk dress with white accessories and had a shoulder corsage of white roses. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a pink dress with which she wore a white lace and velvet hat. Her shoulder corsage was pink and white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held on the lawn of the Hamilton home at Red House. Rhododendron and pine were banked to form a backdrop for the bride's table. A four tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom and the table was decorated with roses which had been used throughout by the bride and her party. Refreshments were served to about one hundred guests. Assisting at the bride's table were Mrs. Mervyn Wheeler, Rowlesburg, aunt of the bride's mother; Mrs. Curtis Gildard, Warren, Ohio, Mrs. Hamilton's sister, and Mrs. John Wheeler, Oldfield, N. Y., sister-in-law of the bride's mother.

By MARY JANE SCHUNCKE

For the first time in the current Playhouse season, the actors—all of them—the technical staff and producer Gene Yell deserve the applause on opening night in the British comedy "Miranda" by Peter Blackmore. This enjoyable comedy is perhaps better suited to tickle the British sense of the absurd combined with the real rather than the American sense of the obvious and much that is amusing in this play to the Britisher would be lost to the American.

This comedy is perhaps not top flight, but the evening was made extremely enjoyable by the excellent job of casting and the most unified effort of the season on the part of the whole staff of the Garrett County Playhouse.

Diana Wheeler, in her first appearance of the season, was enchanting and entirely convincing in the title role of Miranda.

William Lang, who in succeeding weeks has played parts that were a bit too old for him, was cast as a young painter in this play. His amusing interpretation of the "true artist" gives him a better chance to show his talent. He seemed more at ease in the part of Nigel and exhibited a natural comic wit.

Much substance was given to the comedy by William Pappas and Helen Camp in the supporting roles of Charles the chauffeur and Nurse Cary. These two performers, as the weeks go by, show amazing versatility and to them go the laurels of being the most thoroughly British characters in the play. They were both excellent.

DeAnn Mears again gave a confident and polished performance, but still reminds one more of a New Yorker than anything else. Neil Flanagan seems to have a very special talent for playing comical husbands. In the role of Sir Paul Marten, once more showed a marvelous sense of comedy in a part that gave him many amusing opportunities to show off his special talents.

Harvey Jean Peterson and Jo Ellen Briscoe, performing for the first time this season, were also very good.

Knox Reunion Scheduled

The annual Knox reunion will be held Sunday, July 27 in Brenneman's grove at Bittinger. Friends and relatives are invited.

Mr. Fleming was graduated in 1955 from Polytechnic High school, Baltimore. He is a senior at the University of Maryland majoring in physical education.

The contract was awarded to the Goldberg firm with their low bid of $157,309. The Baltimore and Ohio will share the costs of construction which will place traffic over their main tracks to the west at this location. The bridge construction is but a part of the reconstruction of Route 219 which will ultimately be totally improved. However, with the building of the 4 span steel and concrete overpass, a hazardous crossing will be eliminated. The steel spans will be 49 feet, 66 feet, and 66 feet and 43 feet each with a roadway width of 30 feet. Traffic will not be interrupted during this construction period.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

Middle East Crisis—On Tuesday I took the Senate Floor and spoke on the Lebanese situation. I supported the President's position in dispatching a contingent of United States forces to Lebanon to protect American lives and by their presence there to encourage the Lebanese government in defense of Lebanese sovereignty and integrity.

The news of the landing of U. S. Marines in Lebanon gives us pause. The situation is fraught with danger, but I believe that the danger would be greater should we not take a firm stand now. If we are firm now, I am convinced another World War can be avoided.

We must face up to the Middle East problem. We cannot bury our heads in the sand like ostriches and refuse to see and meet the situation. In the Middle East, we must act now in the way that will be best for the people of the United States of America for the future. We must look ahead.

We have pussyfooted here, backed off there, and compromised—all in the good cause of peace. That's all very well, but let us not fool ourselves. From the way things have been going, I would say that, if we are not to succumb, sooner or later we must take a firm stand, and it seems to me that the sooner we do this the better. None of us wants war; and we are anxious that steps be taken to stave it off.

Outer Space Race—You can anticipate more Soviet experiments in the race to the moon. Our own Air Force, among other services, seems to be making considerable progress in missile work. But the question is: "Are we narrowing the gap between Soviet progress in outer space work and our own delay progress?" Remember, there is indeed a gap—a serious gap. The Reds have been able to hurl a mammoth ton-and-a-half satellite into outer space. But the best our lower-powered missiles could send up has been a mere 34-pound satellite. This difference in engine thrust is enormous . . . . When you're behind in a race, it is essential to catch up with and pass your opponent—not by an inch, but by as wide a distance as feasible.

We must not be second best! The recent cruel Soviet mistreatment of U. S. Airmen demonstrates again the sort of Red mentality we are dealing with. We must be alert. We dare not fail to be vigilant.

The Farmers Are Smiling—The corn is hip high. Cattle and hog prices are up. Farmers have come out of the slough of despond and are the nation's chief optimists. A typical Farm Subsidy Bill has just taken a walloping in the House. Now the Senate Committee has reported a Farm Bill that is a horse of a different color. It is the first step in reducing price supports and breaking the shackles of acreage control. It sounds too good to be true. I shall walk clear around it and look at it from all sides.

Grantsville Wins One, Drops Another

In the final frame, Grantsville loaded the hassocks on Tracy's single, an error and Jim Keister's walk. Then Dorcil Kline, who had replaced Ralph Dickel on the rubber, walked home what proved to be the deciding tally. John Keister's sacrifice fly scored the insurance run.

Joe Wengerd was Grantsville's big gun with four hits. Junie Perry and Dawson banged a triple and single each. Fay Often, Gene Zumpano, Kline and Frank Buskirk collected a pair of hits each and Cokie Robertson blasted a triple for the Old Germans.

Hyndman stopped Grantsville in Saturday's game by the score of 4-3 in ten innings at Grantsville with Bob See as the victor over Robert Keister, who suffered his first loss in six outings.

Children's BIBLE STORY

ABRAHAM'S GREATEST TEST OF FAITH

HELLO BOYS AND GIRLS!

Have you ever watched a potter molding clay? How he kneads it, presses, wets, dries, trims, polishes, and finally bakes it in the oven; and what a gloriously beautiful vessel it becomes! In like manner, boys and girls, God desires to mold us. How? Through some of the hard experiences which come to us day by day. Are you troubled by some problem that is making you unhappy? Regardless of what it may be, keep looking up, and you will find that the Lord permitted this test to come to you because He desires to develop some nobler traits of character in you that will prove a blessing not only to yourself, but to all with whom you come in contact.

In today's story we will learn how God tested Abraham when he was 120 years old. His son, Isaac, for whom he had waited so long was greatly beloved by all, and he was his parents' pride and joy.

One day God commanded Abraham to, "Take now thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest ... and offer him .. for a burnt offering." What a test! You see God wanted Abraham to experience how it felt to give up his only son, so that he would better be able to understand how God the Father felt when He made His decision to give up his only begotten Son, Jesus, and offer Him up for the sins of this world. And why was Abraham's faith so severely tested so late in life, you ask? Because Abraham had failed to trust God on several previous occasions. You see he was to be the father of the faithful, and so God had to bring him over the same ground until he learned the much needed lesson of faith, much in the same way that you have to take the same subject all over again at school when you fail to pass in it. In other words, he had to learn the hard way. Yes, boys and girls, you can make life easier and happier for yourself and for those about you, by doing the right thing to begin with.

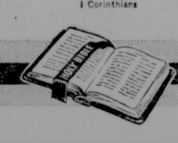
And so, difficult as was God's command, Abraham obeyed. Together with Isaac, he journeyed to the appointed place. When the plan was revealed to Isaac, who was then a young man in the full vigor of his young manhood, he could easily have refused to permit himself to be offered up as a sacrifice, but he did not do this, for he had early in life learned to obey God's commands. And do you know that because Isaac so willingly obeyed God, the Lord never subjected him to any further great tests in life?

Just picture the touching parting scene between the heart-broken father and his beloved son, as the last words of love are spoken, the last tears are shed, the last embrace is given. When at last Abraham raised his hand, "and took the knife to slay his son ... the angel of the Lord called unto him out of heaven, and said, Abraham, Abraham: and he said, Here am I. And he said: Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now I know that thou fearest God seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son, from me." As he looked he saw a ram in the thicket, and he "offered him up for a burnt offering in the stead of his son." You see, this ram represented Jesus, Who was to die in our stead. Because Abraham obeyed God, all the nations of the earth were to be blessed in him, that includes you and me. How? through Jesus, the Messiah, Who was to be born from Abraham's seed.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	16	13-20
Monday	Matthew	18	15-20
Tuesday	Acts	2	41-47
Wednesday	Acts	6	1-6
Thursday	Acts	20	17-35
Friday	I Corinthians	10	23-33
Saturday	I Corinthians	9	19-23



Folks are curious. "What is it for .... What does it do?" They usually want to know about everything they come across.

But ask them, "What's the Church for .... What does it do?" and they're likely to stop short.

You can tell them the Church is the oldest institution in your community. It stands for God, for right-living, and for the way of Christ.

Its aim is to help develop Christian character .... to share a soul-lifting gospel with each person.

It strengthens the community's ceaseless struggle against crime .... it serves families and individuals in times of trouble, sorrow, or sickness. It rejoices with them in their happiness.

Once you're aware of the Church's far-reaching program, its challenge is irresistible.

Community Justice

Lesson for July 27, 1958

SUPPOSE you hired somebody to put up a fence on your place, and you had a choice between two men. One of these would put up a fence that would sag and break; but he would be prompt and obliging about coming to make it right. The other man would put up a fence that will last for years without attention. You would have no hesitation which man to put on the job. The better fence-builder is the man who puts up a good fence, not the one who neatly patches up a bad one. Now justice, wherever you find it, is like that. Justice is more than making good a wrong that has been done. Justice at its best is keeping the wrong from being done.

Dr. Foreman

You Be the Judge

Justice reigns in community life, not when all suits at law are settled right—though even that would be remarkable. True justice—the mark to shoot at—will reign when human relations, including group relations, in that community, are such that law-suits will never be necessary. Such a goal is impossible? Well, yes . . . but so is the goal of a perfectly healthy community, so is the goal of a perfectly educated community; but doctors and teachers keep working — "working themselves out of a job," and so it is that in the best community there will be the least patching-up to do, in homes, court-rooms, hospitals or on the mourners' bench.

Remembering then that justice means simply right relationships between man, between group and group, let us note a few cases, none of them imaginary. It is plain in every case that injustice exists. The problem is: From the Christian point of view—that is, in Christ's eyes—what would now be the just thing to do? And could you suggest a better just thing that perhaps might have been done if someone had thought of it in time? You be the judge.

Case of the Seventh Church

There is a community barely large enough to support one church. There were six different denominational churches in it, and no member of any one of these would attend any of the others. Along came the representative of a seventh denomination to start still another congregation. When the ministers already "there" (though not one of the six lived there) protested, asking him if he didn't think the gospel was already pretty well represented, he replied with dignity: "The gospel is never really presented till we present it." Is there something wrong here, and if so, what can be done, or what could have been done, about it?

Case of the Underpaid Cook

In a small southern town there was a Negro girl whose name makes no difference with the case. She worked for private families as a cook—and she was a very poor one—for five dollars a week. This was low wages but at that time it was what even the better cooks there received. The girl lived in a draughty crowded shack with her own and several other families, who, being of the race they were and living in the state they did, could afford nothing better. This girl first contracted tuberculosis and spread it around where she worked; and then she got in trouble with the law for prostitution; and finally died in an institution, after costing the state quite a bit of money. What do you think could have been done to prevent some of this, and why do you suppose it was not done?

Case of the Embarrassed Government

The United States Government is hoarding enormous ware-houseFuls of butter and many other products, which it has bought to keep farmers in business. It would like to sell these in the world market, perhaps at auction; but when it tries to do so, it runs into strong opposition from other countries with which our government would then be in direct competition. Is there some injustice here, and if so, what can be done about it now, and what could have been done to prevent it?

"We feel like millionaires--

Because – our new home has everything – including ELECTRIC HEATING!"

"For a long, long time we had talked about building a house, just a good little house without deluxe features. The plans were pretty well set until by happenstance we visited some friends who were enjoying an all-electric home.

"We were simply amazed by its comfort and cleanliness . . . actually we were flabbergasted when they told us how little more it cost them to run it than did their first house with its gas appliances and old fashioned central heating. "Later we got together with our architect to learn how much more it would cost* us to change our plans so our house, too, could be all-electric.

"Talk about pleasant surprises, we found it would actually be cheaper to make it all-electric . . . no chimney, no ducts, no pipes, no radiators. Just a little more insulation.

"We gave him the OK to get on with the job. The results . . . even better than promised. Total bills were lower . . . comfort and convenience were higher . . . work to keep the house in order reduced by half.
"No wonder we feel like millionaires!"

LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY

* Is there a question in your mind how much it costs to run an all-electric home? Let us answer your question by giving you figures, from your own neighborhood, as shown by our meter records. Call our office. No obligation, of course.

Along The Potomac

DeWITT S. HYDE

A major portion of the work of the House last week was devoted to consideration of a bill (H.R. 3) designed to lay down guide lines for the interpretation of congressional legislation by the courts and the people. The bill is made necessary, I believe, by such Supreme Court decisions as that in the Steve Nelson case where Federal law has been held to take the place of and render inoperative State law on the same subject.

The bill, as passed by the House, concerns itself with acts of Congress dealing with powers which may be exercised by the States until the Federal Government sees fit to act in the same field. In such instances, whether or not the Federal law occupies the field to the exclusion of State law is a question of the intent of Congress. H.R.3 says that such is not the intent unless Congress expressly says so in the law or unless there is such a conflict between the Federal and State law so that the two cannot be reconciled or consistently stand together.

It was argued that this bill would throw into uncertainty all the existing laws in this field. The answer is that their status is uncertain with or without this bill. Can anyone say, with respect to such State and Federal laws that have not been to the Supreme Court, what their status will be. If anything, this bill will make such laws more certain of accurate interpretation.

A report has just come to me giving the present status of projects in the 6th Maryland District under the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act. The most advanced is the Little Youghiogheny Watershed project in Garrett County. Little Antietam Creek and Little Beaver Creek projects in Washington County have been authorized and planning for the Upper Rock Creek project in Montgomery County is now 29 percent complete.

Widows, or widowers, of deceased Federal employees who died prior to February 29, 1948, and heretofore not eligible for annuity benefits, may now be qualified for annuities under Public Law 465, 85th Congress. Applications may be obtained from the Retirement Division, Bureau of Departmental Operations, U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Bold Relief of Our Times

The daily conduct of the American people has become grist for the propaganda mills of unfriendly nations. Our slightest transgression, imprudent actions, irresolute policies, and partisan squabbles have been employed, with considerable impact, to portray the U. S. in an unfavorable light. Any uncommon or eccentric behavior pattern is depicted as typically American.

While at the Brussels Fair on the Fourth of July, former President Herbert Hoover placed this phenomena in bold relief in these words: "There can be no interpretation of the American way of life in its effect upon other nations without reference to the false legends, misrepresentations, and vicious propaganda which haunt the free world. . . These misrepresentations and this propaganda are inciting physical attacks upon American citizens, upon our officials, and abuse of our country . . ."

It can be quickly demonstrated that the Russians are avid readers of American newspapers and periodicals. The Congressional Record and government proceedings are also required reading for the manipulators of communist propaganda. Indiscriminate and intemperate comments, capable of misinterpretation, are "circled in red" for special attention. These, and detrimental items, are carefully assembled for mass dissemination at the most propitious moment.

At international conferences, the Soviet Union and its satellites, with alacrity, cite parts of Government documents to embarrass U. S. representatives. The United Nations Economic and Social Council has been a frequent forum for subtle attack upon our institutions and traditions. Once uttered, the worldwide facilities of the communist empire give these damaging indictments the fullest possible coverage.

Obviously, if this disadvantageous trend is to be righted, all citizens, members of the Congress, public officials, journalists, reporters and commentators included—have a responsibility to avoid exaggeration, partisan statements and criticism not supported by clear evidence. To do otherwise is to provide, unwittingly, propaganda which may be used to our detriment. Moreover in terms of the national welfare, our presently confused and disjointed propaganda, information and psychological warfare activities must be up-graded and coordinated at a high level of government. And, in all of this, national as well as individual discretion and restraint must be exercised.

God and Space .....

We get a little magazine called "Think," published by the International Business Machines corporation, which is just full of good thinking. An article this month on "God and Space," by Dr. Norman Pittenger, an Episcopal priest and author, was of particular interest.

The exploration of outer space is regarded as a very real possibility and as a result there has been a good deal of speculation along various lines as to results of this new possibility. One question has received little direct attention but the writer of the article feels it may well be the most important question of all. "What does all this mean for our religious beliefs? Are the traditional religious convictions of earthman adequate to the vastly expanded universe now opening up? Will we lose God in outer space?"

The writer answers with a quick "No," but he emphasizes it depends upon our ability and our willingness to think greater and deeper thoughts about God, His nature and His purpose, His ways with men and with the world.

When people realized that the earth was not the center of the universe there was considerable worry that religious values would be lost, but with the passing of time man's conception of God was expanded.

We face the same problem today. The writer says, "We are called upon to enlarge our idea of God, to make Him 'big enough' to include the creation and sustaining of an immeasurably huge cosmos.

"The thought should not be whether the world is too big for God, but whether our thought about God is big enough to affirm that with Him, size, space, time, in no way prevent but on the contrary disclose the unmeasured richness of His purpose, the constancy of His action, the trustworthiness of His care for all His creation. He is 'God the Father Almighty,' maker of heaven and earth.

"We need not be afraid of what we might find on other planets. We need only prepare ourselves to give thanks for still another disclosure of God's loving care for His creation."

Are Christians going to be big enough to accept this concept of God and space? Just give us a little time to think, and we believe they will be.

Schools To Get Equipment For Radiological Detection

The Garrett County Civil Defense organization, headed by Fred Tichnell, Oakland, has been successful in obtaining radiological detection instruments for both Northern and Southern High schools.

These instruments are valued at more than $2,000 and are expected to be on hand when the schools open for instruction early in September.

The purpose of the program is to assist high schools in incorporating radiological defense education into their science curricula and to provide a geographical distribution of instruments that will enhance a radiological monitoring capability in the event of such a need.

Mr. Tichnell said a total of six thousand kits of instruments are being distributed throughout the United States. Distribution of the kits was worked out by the U. S. office of Education. Maryland is receiving 82 kits.

Two radiological dosimeters, self reading type, 0-200 mr; 1 radiological dosimeter, self reading, gamma only, 0-20 r; 1 radiological dosimeter, self reading, gamma only, 0-100 r; 1 radiological dosimeter charger; 2 comparison standard source for food and water; 1 manual of instructions on instrument usage.

Tichnell said a handbook for science teachers developed by the U. S. Office of Education would be distributed by September. The handbook would include laboratory demonstrations and exercises that have been designed and tested in high school science classes by teachers utilizing these instruments.

The standard course for food and water, it was explained, was a low intensity harmless radiation source that requires no licensing by the Atomic Energy commission. The geiger counter is sufficiently sensitive to measure the rate of radiation emitted from this source. The Dosimeter is capable of measuring cumulative dose and the dosimeter charger is used to return the dosimeter to zero reading.

The other instruments are of the high range type usable only with radiation sources of higher intensity. They would be usable for display or for monitoring in case of emergency.

Conservation Group Will Meet Tuesday

Members of the Garrett County Conservation Association will meet at the Oakland Fire hall on Tuesday evening, August 5, at 8 o'clock, daylight time.

Officers and directors particularly were urged to attend the meeting in order to make complete plans for the September session. Ernest Vaughn and Edwin Barry of the Game and Inland Fish commission plan to attend the September meeting so officers felt it was necessary to discuss thoroughly the fishing situation in the county and have definite recommendations ready for presentation. The public is invited to both meetings, the officers said.

Will Induct Five

Five young men of this county were ordered to report for induction into the armed forces at the Fairmont induction station on Tuesday, August 19.

They were listed at the local selective service office as Carroll Orlando Beitzel, Accident; Isaac Dale Frazee, Friendsville; Frederick Joe Bowser, Swanton; Terry Ralph Sweitzer, Deer Park; Raymond Harding Selders, Gormania.

United Auto Workers voted 93 percent in favor of strike action if necessary.

CYNTHIA NACE

Cynthia Nace, 17 year old member of the Monte Vista 4-H Club, won top honors in the 4-H Dress Revue held recently in the Methodist Church Social room. Sue Porter, 16, Monte Vista Club; and Susan Bowman, 16, North Star Club, were runners-up. Nancy White, 16, Monte Vista Club was named alternate.

Miss Nace modeled an attractive skirt and blouse combination of chino cloth and cotton. The slim skirt, in olive drab, had a back kick-pleat and pockets with pointed tab detail and button trim. The skirtwaist blouse, in a coordinating print, featured shoulder yoke, button closing, top-stitching trim, and elbow-length roll-up sleeves. Miss Nace completed her outfit with olive shoes, clutch bag and beige gloves.

Sue Porter make a striking picture in a red and green Tarpoon Plaid school outfit. She combined several patterns which resulted in the popular blouson and slim skirt. Miss Porter chose white shoes and a straw basket purse as accessories.

White metallic jersey and a floating piece of chiffon is descriptive of the lovely party dress shown by Susan Bowman. The slim street length party dress featured the Italian Line in front while the back dipped into a V. A chiffon drape accented the neckline and followed around the back to continue as floating panels. A godet added width at the lower back hemline. Miss Bowman wore white strap heels, white gloves, and carried an evening bag to complete her costume.

Nancy White appeared in a cloud of pink lace, net, and taffeta in a gown which she designed and made for the high school prom. The full circle skirt had rows of net and lace sewn all around. The empire bodice featured rows of net hidden by lace. A net stole and rhinestone jewelry added the finishing touch.

Garrett county will be represented in the State Dress Revue to be held during Club week by Miss Porter and Miss Bowman. Miss Nace will be unable to participate because she will be serving as a Page-hostess during Club Week. Due to summer employment Miss White will not attend 4-H Week.

Other 4-H'ers participating in the Style Revue and their final placings were: Blue, Jackie Brenneman, Helen Emory, Patty Shawley, Bittinger Club; Jill Jones, Marjorie Swartzentruber, Monte Vista Club; Ruth Ann Harvey, North Star. Red, Carolyn Brenneman, Karen Shawley, Bittinger Club; Connie Crowe, Linda Oursler, Monte Vista.

"Sweetpea Paradise" was chosen as the theme of the Style Revue. Mrs. Cecil Edwards, McHenry, and Mrs. Robert Rodeheaver, Oakland, served as judges for the event.

Rev. J. E. Johnson Has 90th Birthday

Rev. J. E. Johnson, retired Methodist minister of Oakland, quietly observed his 90th birthday anniversary on Wednesday, July 16, at his home.

Mr. Johnson is considered in good health for his age, is hard of hearing but otherwise possesses all his faculties.

Mr. Johnson was born in Ritchie county, W. Va. and has been a minister for some seventy years. He retired from active duty about fifteen years ago. Mr. Johnson has been a resident of Oakland for more than thirty years.

Released From Jail On Payment of Fine

Andy L. Day, of near Deer Park, who was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail last week on charges of assault and battery on the person of Delbert Friend, was released from jail upon payment of $25 and costs.

The alleged assault occurred as the result of an argument over a fine point of personal etiquette, and resulted in a bruised eye for Delbert.

At the time of the hearing, Andy declared that Delbert, who lives with him, had the morning of the assault emptied his chamber pot upon the floor of the kitchen.

Delbert stoutly denied this, however, and claimed that actually he had taken the jar to the kitchen door and emptied it on the porch.

Day had served about a third of his sentence.

"Picnic" Will Be Fourth Production At Summer Theatre

"Picnic," a summer romance, will be the fourth production of the Garrett County Playhouse. This William Inge drama is a modern play which had a long run in New York and was recently made into a movie.

William Lang will lead the Playhouse case as Hal, the young vagabond. He has a talent for trouble.

JoEllen Briscoe will play Madge, a girl of eighteen. Janice Rule created the original role on Broadway and Kim Novak starred in the movie. Neil Flanagan will appear as Alan, Madge's rich boy friend. Helen Camp will play Madge's tom-boy sister, Millie.

DeAnn Mears will portray Rosemary, while William G. Pappas will play opposite her as Howard.

"Picnic" is considered a memorable theatre experience with the characters mixtures of the comic and the poignant.

The play will be presented for the Garrett County audiences next Tuesday through Saturday.

"January Thaw," a New England romp, is playing the balance of this week through Saturday. In spite of the rain last week's total attendance was 857. Over 250 attended Saturday night's performance and some thirty patrons were turned away.

Gene Yell, manager, suggested that persons wanting to see the play especially on week-ends should be sure to make reservations in advance.

He announced that new rest rooms had been installed for the convenience of the public.

Program of Medical Care To Be Cut

Word that the appropriation for the medical care program for the State of Maryland had been drastically cut was received this week by Dr. Arthur Jones, county health officer.

As a result Dr. Jones announced that economies would be necessary in all parts of the state and that this would affect Garrett county more than any other section of the state since this county has a much higher proportion of population receiving medical care either through welfare or direct application to the health department than any other county.

For the remainder of the fiscal year ending July 1, 1959, he said many recipients of medical care would not be able to receive this service.

Dr. Jones said the proportion of persons receiving this aid was twice that of other counties and that some 1,100 persons were involved here. The amount counties receive is not pro-rated by the state but is distributed on the basis of need. However, he said that the period over which the service would be given would be shortened.

Loses Finger In Mowing Accident This Morning

Oliver Niner, 29, of Deer Park, lost the index finger of his left hand and a portion of the ring finger of his left hand in a mowing accident this morning on his farm.

He was brought to Garrett County Memorial hospital where he was given surgical treatment. The left middle finger also was lacerated.

WORK PROGRESSES—Despite recent rain, much progress has been made on the Route 219 relocation south and east of Oakland. In the photograph above, a fill is being created in preparation to construction of an overhead bridge at Weber's Crossing. The view is looking north toward Oakland. To the right, work is shown within the corporation limits viewing to the south from Ninth street. When completed, the grade crossing at Weber's will be eliminated and through traffic diverted from the central portion of Oakland. —Photos by The Republican.

110 Democrats At Kick-off Dinner

One hundred ten county Democrats gathered last night at the William-James hotel for the kick-off dinner of the current Democratic campaign, and to hear John Foley, Democratic candidate for Congress from Montgomery county.

The November election will be won by the party which does the best job at the precinct level of getting out the vote and organizing its campaign, those present were told by Thomas B. Finan, of Cumberland. Finan represented J. Millard Tawes, candidate for governor; Thomas D'Alesandro for U. S. Senate; Louis Goldstein for comptroller; and C. Ferdinand Sybert for attorney general.

Finan urged complete support of the entire Democratic ticket.

Mr. Foley spoke on the progress under Democratic administrations at the state and national levels. He called the Democratic party the liberal party, the party of the people and the party which "always finds itself cleaning up the messes domestically and internationally left by their Republican predecessors."

George M. Browning who co-chairmaned the dinner with Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner, both members of the State Central committee, welcomed the guests. He presented Dr. Baumgartner who served as toastmaster and introduced guests. The invocation was by Rev. James Mehring, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church. Dr. Baumgartner declared the election of Bernard I. Gonder for the State Senate was quite essential.

The dinner was the first campaign affair in Western Maryland and served as the kick-off of a stepped-up campaign in the entire area. It was the feeling of those present that another similar dinner should be held when all state-wide candidates visit Garrett county this fall.

New Postage Rates In Effect Tomorrow

A last-minute warning that new postage rates will go into effect tomorrow, August 1, was issued today by Postmaster Donald M. Browning Oakland.

Mr. Browning cautioned that regular first-class letters will require 4 cents postage an ounce; air mail letters 7 cents an ounce; air mail postal cards 5 cents each and regular postal cards 3 cents each.

Where mail users still have on hand supplies of 3 cents stamps, 2 cent postal cards, 4 cent air mail postal cards and 6 cent air mail stamps, they may be used by the addition of an ordinary 1 cent stamp.

Plenty of these are on hand at the local post office, plus large supplies of new 4 cents stamps, 7 cent air mail stamps, 5 cent air mail postal cards and 3 cent regular postal cards.

Stamped envelopes are also in good supply in the needed denominations of 4 cents for regular first-class letters and 7 cent air mail letters.

Phone Users Able To Make Direct Calls To Other Towns

Beginning yesterday, telephone customers were able to dial Accident, Friendsville, Bittinger and Kitzmiller subscribers without having to call the operator. The calls may now be made direct to the parties involved by merely dialing the first two letters of the exchange plus the key number, and then using the numbers indicated.

Accident exchange is VAlley 6; Friendsville is SHadyside 6; Bittinger is CHestnut 5; and Kitzmiller is GLenview 3. For calls in either direction between Oakland and Accident, Friendsville and Bittinger, these figures are used. From Kitzmiller to Oakland the person should dial "9" then the desired telephone number. From Bittinger to Grantsville or Springs the customer should dial "8", and when the operator answers give her the number or the details of the call.

Clarence Stem, local manager, said the changeover was causing some difficulty in Oakland because of the party line system that had been in effect until Wednesday.

The calls to persons on a party line have been changed. Instead of using the figure "8", persons are now asked to use "119". Those using the "8" figure now are using the first call for VAlley are getting nowhere. Mr. Stem said his office had been busy all day yesterday attempting to intercept these calls and informing the people of the proper procedure.

Oakland telephone users making local calls may still use the five digits without the preceding DE since there has been no change. However, Stem indicated that sometime in the future this would also be necessary in order to get complete calls.

Young Woman Dies After Taking Poison

A 19-year-old Garrett County woman died Saturday night, July 26, in Potomac Valley hospital in Keyser, W. Va., as the result of swallowing rat poison on July 20.

The woman, Mrs. Rachael Mae Wilt, resided on Savage river road and had been a patient at the hospital since last Thursday.

Cpl. Evan Moody of the West Virginia state police, said Mrs. Wilt drank the poison while sitting alone in a car on a parking lot in Piedmont, W. Va. When her husband Paul Wilt, returned to the car and found that his wife had taken the poison he took her to a physician for treatment.

Police said the doctor treated the young woman and advised her to go to a hospital for additional treatment. Mrs. Wilt was taken to Potomac Valley hospital four days later but died Saturday night.

Miss Madalyn Bazzle, coroner for Mineral county, said an inquest would be held in Keyser Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Wilt was a native of Franklin and was a daughter of Mrs. Velma Michaels Ross, Franklin, and the late Lawrence S. Ross. She was a member of the Church of God, of Piedmont.

Surviving besides her mother and husband are a brother and two sisters, Miss Linda Ross and Raymond and Kenneth Ross, all at home in Franklin.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Church of God in Piedmont. Rev. C. H. Elrod, pastor, officiated and burial was in Philos cemetery, Westernport.

Garrett Gets 150 Of 600 Turkeys

One hundred fifty of the 600 wild turkeys stocked in woodland areas in five Maryland counties in late March and early April were placed in this county. This fact is included in an article in the July issue of the Maryland Conservationist, publication of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish commission, written by Chester M. Kerns, chief of game management.

These wild turkeys were adult birds raised at the Game and Inland Fish department turkey farm at Belle Grove, Allegany county.

From the farm production of birds each summer about 200 young hens and a few held-over gobblers are selected to form the breeding stock for the following year. Most of the hens are placed in open top wire pens in the deep woods during the late winter mating season. Wild gobblers are attracted to these pens, fly over the fences and mate with the wing clipped hens. During the nesting season the eggs are removed daily by game management personnel and transported carefully to the turkey farm.

The September stocking of birds each year prior to the hunting season consists of surplus young gobblers raised during the summer season. The weights of these turkeys, according to Mr. Kerns, will average about seven pounds and they are at least 12 weeks old.

Besides the 150 wild turkeys stocked in Garrett county were 200 in Allegany county and 100 in Washington county. The other 150 went to two Eastern shore counties, 100 going to Worcester and 50 to Dorchester.

Mr. Kerns explained that his department has received a number of requests to stock wild turkey in agricultural areas of relatively small broken woodland areas. To thrive and multiply naturally turkeys must have at least 10,000 and preferably 15,000 acres or more of almost unbroken woodland.

Electric Fences Control Grazing

Portable electric fences are being improved to give better service in controlled grazing of pasture, and in other farm uses. Bob Appleman, Extension Dairy Specialist of the University of Maryland, explains that controlled grazing, as commonly practiced by dairymen, involves fencing off a small area of pasture to be grazed for short periods, generally a day to a week. The system encourages animals to graze the forage in a particular area quickly and uniformly, and results in loss from trampling and contamination.

Electric fences provide a fairly inexpensive means for grazing conrol. But to be entirely satisfactory, the fences must withstand frequent testing by livestock, and be readily movable. They also must be effective in all kinds of weather, because farmers use them from spring until late fall.

Loss of the electric charge, according to A. V. Krewatch, Extension Agricultural Engineer, under humid or wet conditions is a problem. This less is caused mainly by surface leakage across the insulators, which can partially short-circuit the fence. This leakage is carried by a surface film of moisture and dirt on the insulators.

Ordinary porcelain insulators are not altogether satisfactory in wet weather, or when the humidity of the air is 75 percent or more. Under humid conditions insulators of polyethylene have about one-tenth the surface leakage of porcelain.

And a safety note from Krewatch. . .be sure the controller for your electric fence complies with all safety codes and safe limits of total energy. Controllers which do not meet safety requirements are dangerous to both humans and animals. Under no circumstances should homemade controllers be used.

NEW FEATURE—One of the new features at the Garrett County Agricultural Fair this year will be a free aerial exhibition nightly by the Aerial Earls. The fair will be held at McHenry August 11 through August 16.

Water Needs For Fire Fighting

Farm Safety often hinges on the amount of water available on your farm. According to Guy Gienger, extension agricultural engineer, a report of an inadequate water supply is recorded on reports of fire losses, all too often.

Rural fire authorities of the National Fire Protection Association recommend that at least 3000 gallons of water be immediately available on every farm for fire fighting purposes. The water must be useable at all seasons and always kept clean.

To make the best possible use of the water supplies you have on hand, notify your fire department of the location of all water supplies around your farm. Make sure firemen know about all wells, brooks, ponds, stock tanks, and cisterns.

Be sure the approaches to the water supplies are well marked, and solid enough so the fire pumpers can get close enough to draw water without getting mired.

Make certain that the supply of water is deep enough and that there is a clear area for the pumper suction line, so that the fire hoses will not get fouled with debris or brush.

These are but a few, simple precautions to take now, to save a building from fire, and to insure the safety of your family.

United States Senator from Maryland

Rainmakers, Front Center!—The National Science Foundation Act has been amended by legislation just signed into law which provides for a program of study and research in the field of weather "modification," giving particular attention to areas that have experienced flood, drought, hail, lightning, fog, tornadoes and hurricanes. It is a continuation and expansion of the program conducted by the Advisory Committee on Weather Control.

Communism in the United States—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said recently that for every member of the Communist Party in the United States there are ten Americans who are knowingly or unwittingly promoting the objectives of the Communists.

The Middle East—It seems to me that in the present world situation, brought on by the indirect aggression of Communists in Arab countries, it would be well for us to remember the advice of Teddy Roosevelt: "Speak softly, but carry a big stick!"

Atomic Energy Progress—The two Houses of Congress have completed their work on the bill which authorizes additional funds for the Atomic Energy Commission, and the bill has been sent to the White House for the President's signature. It authorizes appropriations of $386,679,000 for AEC construction projects. The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee doubled the amount requested by the President.

The President has already signed into law another bill authorizing additional funds for two existing projects of high priority: One a research program to achieve a controlled thermonuclear reaction; the other for further research in the field of high-energy accelerators.

Scholarships for Scientists—President Eisenhower has expressed general approval of a bill designed to help train scientists and other space-age experts. While the President recommended 10,000 scholarships a year, the Committee bill provides for 18,000 to 23,000. It calls for a four-year, $660,000,000 program of Federal aid to States and help for scholarships. The scholarship section calls for a $70,000,000 program for four years—$17,500,000 a year—to pay for national defense scholarships which would be worth from $500 to $1,000, depending on the need of the student. Special consideration is provided for those applicants who wish to major in science, mathematics, or modern languages.

Price-Labeling of New Cars—Effective October 1, the new car which you buy will have its price tag, pasted on the windshield or on a side window. Under the new law which has been signed by the President, manufacturers will be required to label cars. Dealers will have to see to it that the following information is displayed: (1) Make, model and serial number; (2) Final assembly point; (3) The dealer to whom the car was delivered; (4) The type of transportation by which the car came from the factory; (5) A list showing each piece of equipment or accessory attached to the car at the time of shipment; (6) The amount which was charged the dealer for actual transportation; and (7) The manufacturer's suggested retail price.

Maryland's 29th Division—This past week we took up with Secretary of Defense McElroy the proposed reduction of Maryland's 29th National Guard Division to a 3-group unit. We have strenuously protested the reduction. We understand that the decision as to which divisions were to be made into standard 5-group pentomic units and which were to be reduced was based on a certain rather complicated yardstick which we consider inequitable and illogical. The Secretary assures us that the whole matter is re-opened and will be the subject of thorough study in the Department of the Army Staff.

Bainbridge Naval Training Center—This week I am scheduled to talk with the President about reactivating Bainbridge, about the transferring of certain operations to this Maryland base.

Misleading Ads of Savings and Loan Firms—The advertising of a few unscrupulous savings and loan firms prompted my introduction of legislation which would prevent misleading interstate advertising by such firms. Hearings by a subcommittee on Banking and Currency, to study my proposed legislation began last Thursday. The hearings opened with my formal statement, followed by testimony from an array of witnesses.

Things Are Looking Up All Over—(1) The Labor Department reports that private home "starts" in June rose to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,090,000. This marked the second straight month in which the rate has passed the million mark.

(2) For the second consecutive month, June benefit payments and initial claims in Maryland, a barometer of unemployment, registered a decline from the preceding month. Robert B. Kimble, Executive Director of the Department of Employment Security, has announced.

(3) The Department of Commerce has reported that personal income rose in June to a seasonally adjusted rate of 351.8 billion dollars. The Department said that the June rise reflected increases in wage and salary payments.

Uncle Sam's Appetite is Returning—There is a parallel between the nation's economy and the man who ate too much. We, as a nation, in the first five years of the Eisenhower Administration, stuffed ourselves with all kinds of goodies, luxuries and necessities—automobiles, TV sets, electric dishwashers, etc. When a man who has eaten too much sits down to his next meal, his appetite is likely to be a little less keen, but if you wait a few hours you will find him hungry again. There are evidences that the nation's appetite is returning.

Maryland Christmas Tree Growers Plan Meeting in County

The Maryland Christmas Tree Growers' association, Inc., will hold its annual summer meeting at the Spoerlein plantation near Accident on Saturday, August 2. The time is 1:30 p. m.

Growing Christmas trees is a relatively new and thriving farm enterprise, according to Harry W. Dengler, Maryland Extension forester, with good possibilities in western Maryland. Problems of insect and disease control, fire, theft, selection of the proper species and the methods involved in producing a high quality product are a few of the factors involved in a successful Christmas tree venture, he says.

Enemies of the tree plantations will be highlighted at the meeting with emphasis on control of the European pine shoot moth, a destructive pest in many sections of the state. Thomas McIntyre, entomologist, Northeastern Forest Experiment station, Beltsville, will be the speaker. Demonstrations, a question and answer period and a business session are also scheduled.

A representative from the Federal - State inspection branch of the USDA will provide a grading demonstration using the recently adopted U. S. standards for Christmas trees as a guide.

John Adams, Jr., Oakland, is president of the Maryland Association. New and prospective Christmas tree growers are welcome to attend. Information about the meeting and association may be obtained from R. Thomas Thayer, Jr., Oakland, secretary-treasurer of the association.

Hardesty Reunion

A reunion of the family of the late L. W. Hardesty will be held in Cathedral Park, near Aurora, W. Va., on August 12. Friends and relatives are welcome.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Correct the "Aggressive Tendency" of the Supreme Court

The leadership of the Senate will decide tomorrow whether or not the pending Jenner-Butler bill, S. 2646, will be submitted to debate and vote prior to adjournment. This measure, pertaining to a series of the more celebrated decisions of the Supreme Court which admittedly have created a twilight zone of public and judicial confusion, has been a target for attack from unknowing practitioners of the law, self-ordained custodians of civil rights, and from the usual claque of left-wing organizations. It is probable that most members of the Senate, reflecting the diverse opinions of the Nation itself, would want to speak on this controversial issue.

During an era when it is widely believed that the United States has lost the initiative in world affairs, there are many who feel deeply that these decisions of the Supreme Court have enhanced the red cause of international communism in America. Even the Administration was alarmed by the most recent case involving passports for questionable communists and fellow travelers, and has proposed legislation of the same objective and purpose as S. 2646. In the light of these amazing high court pronouncements, it can be reasonably suggested that communists are returning from the underground with a cloak of respectability woven from the fabric of inconsistency, irrelevancy, ineptitude and insensibility.

Far from "upsetting the balance of power distributed between the three branches of government," as one critic wrote, S. 2646 is designed to restore the balance of power which has been upset by usurpation of legislative power by the Supreme Court. Nor is there anything in the bill which will "punish people innocent of subversion for simply exercising their human rights," as another faultfinder alleged. In the past 18 years, since the Smith Act was enacted, not one person has been prosecuted, under the Act, who was not a functionary of the Communist party. Nor as one ADA luminary protest, does S. 2646 seek to substitute the Congress for the Supreme Court. This is a fallacious charge, for the "independence of the judiciary" really means the freedom of our courts to deal with those matters over which they do have jurisdiction, and not carte blanche to meddle promiscuously in the affairs of the other coordinate branches of the Government.

As Professor Edward S. Corwin, a leading constitutional authority, has said: "The country needs protection against the aggressive tendency of the Court. . . . S. 2646 would offer that protection, and if brought to a vote, I predict it will be passed.

U. S. launched its biggest and most important satellite into orbit on July 26. It weighed 38.43 pounds.

Rolf - Anderson Nuptials Held

Bethel Methodist Church, Mt. Lake Park, was the scene of a wedding at 2:30 p. m. July 5 which united in marriage Miss Amy Catharine Anderson of 368 E. Erie St., Painesville, Ohio, and Mr. Jack Marvin Rolf, 964 Brichford Road, Mentor, Ohio.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Anderson of Loch Lynn and Mr. Rolf is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Rolf, Red House.

Rev. Randall Prince, pastor of the church, officiated before an altar adorned with bouquets of white carnations and gladioli and flanked by candelabra.

Mrs. Gordon Mealy, church organist played traditional wedding music and accompanied Harrison Davies, Kirtland, Ohio, who sang "If I Could Tell You," "I Love You Truly,' and "O Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of imported nylon and Alencon lace. It was styled with a sweetheart neckline accented by scallops of Alencon lace and a bouffant skirt. Her fingertip length veil of imported illusion was held by a tiara of tiny imported seed pearls. She carried a white Bible with rose buds and white ribbon streamers.

Mrs. W. D. Anderson, sister-in-law of the bride acted as matron of honor, while Mrs. Donald L. Savage, Oakland and Mrs. William Odegard, Painesville, were bridesmaids. Susan Bolyard, Loch Lynn was flower girl. The attendents wore identical dresses of blue crystallette featuring short sleeves, bouffant skirts and cummerbunds with matching headpieces. They carried sprays of pink carnations. The flower girl's dress was of pink featuring a choir boy yoke trimmed in lace and a full skirt. She carried a white basket of pink rose petals.

William Rolf, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Serving as ushers were David Anderson, Painesville, brother of the bride, and William C. Odegard of Painesville. Franklin Boteler, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

The bride's mother chose a navy blue nylon dress trimmed in white with white accessories. Mother of the bridegroom wore a white nylon dress flocked with tiny blue roses, and white accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The Misses Carolyn and Ella Jean Rolf, sisters of the bridegroom, were in charge of the guest book while Mrs. J. L. Wilkins, Baltimore, served punch and Mrs. Eileen Boteler, sister of the bridegroom served cake.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rolf are graduates of Southern High School, class of 1956. Miss Anderson was graduated from Morgantown Business College, Morgantown, W. Va. and is employed by the Ohio State Employment Service.

Her husband, who is employed as an inspector at Bailey Meter Co., Wickliffe, Ohio plans to attend Fenn College, Cleveland, in the fall.

The couple spent a few days in Washington, D. C. and Hyattsville, Maryland. Mr. and Mrs. Rolf are now residing at 368 E. Erie St., Painesville, Ohio.

Many Entries Are Assured For 37th Tennis Tourney

The thirty-seventh annual tennis tournament for the Western Maryland championships, which get under way at Mt. Lake Park next Tuesday, August 5, will be "bigger and better than ever," judging from pre-tourney entry lists. Especially will this be so among the women's events.

It is expected that sixty or more persons will be entered in the events. Among them will be Colonel Lewis Wetherall, winner of the National Public Parks championship and doubles champion with Fred McNair of the greater Washington area; Gordon Barnes, Alex Keiles, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Zygmunt Nagorski, Jennings Randolph, Jr., Christiane DeMaisoncella, Dorothy Kott, Franco Fiorio, of Washington; Mickey Pardew, Alan Lovelson, Evelyn Rice, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Temp Gillespie, White Sulphur Springs; Jo Bader, Charles Entsminger, Ed Alcorn, Fred Kellmeyer, Asa Maness, Charleston; Herbert Stansbury of Beckley, president of the West Virginia lawn tennis association; Ned Ragland, Jr., and Allen Wein, also of Beckley; John Harlor, Martha Stauffer, Keyser; Vaughn Hardesty, Tom Nally, Billie Pollard, Oakland;! George Resh, Hampstead; and Roger McCoy, Clarksburg.

Drawings for the tourney are scheduled for Monday evening, August 4, at the Allegany cottage and play will begin Tuesday morning. There will be competition in men's, women's singles and doubles and probably mixed doubles.

The tournament is sponsored by the Mt. Lake Tennis club and is sanctioned by the U. S. Lawn Tennis association.

Last year a group of nine men purchased the courts from A. D. Naylor, but whether or not it will be possible to continue using the courts for another year is a question. The State Roads commission has condemned a small section of the courts for right-of-way and easements to the new highway. Officers of the tenns club were of the opinion that additional ground might be purchased in rear of the present courts and that play would be continued in future years.

Tennis enthusiasts were hopeful that the rainy season would be over by next week. The tournament was rained out for the first time in 1953, but in all other years it has been possible to complete the competitive games.

A number of social activities are planned for tennis week including an open house, infomal parties, a corn roast and a tournament dance on Saturday evening, August 9. Admission to social events will be free to every tennis entrant. The dance is open to the public at $5 per couple, plus tax.

Meyersdale Man Has Close Call

Dr. W. W. Woods, well known Meyersdale dentist, had a close call with death or serious injury recently while vacationing at his cabin at Deep Creek Lake.

As a result of the accident in which he was involved Dr. Woods spent three days in the Garrett County Memorial hospital at Oakland after the incident which occurred Thursday, July 10.

According to reports, Dr. Woods was in his motor boat on Deep Creek Lake when the motor stalled. He was alone at the time. Dr. Woods jumped overboard to see what was the matter and determine whether he could fix it. While he was swimming around in the water another boat came from nearby.

The dentist decided to crawl into the rescuer's boat by means of a rope which was also attached to Dr. Woods' boat to be towed. In the meantime the operator of the other boat backed up and Dr. Woods was caught in the boat's propeller blade.

The major injury occurred to his left leg, which was badly lacerated and torn and bled profusely. To make matters worse the rescuer made off for help, apparently because he was excited, leaving Dr. Woods adrift in the lake. The rope for Dr. Woods had been attached to the latter's boat and he made off with the boat also.

To reduce the bleeding Dr. Woods used his swim trunks to fashion a tourniquet. After almost an hour help came and he was rescued and rushed to the hospital. Ninety stitches were required to close the wounds. Several arteries were cut and tendons and muscles were damaged.

Independents Extend Record of Victories

The Oakland Independent baseball team extended its winning record to four games without a defeat as it overcame Rowlesburg Sunday 6 to 5 at Rowlesburg.

Toby Colaw's home run smash in the 9th inning provided the Oakland team with the margin of victory. The winners collected 12 hits from Rowlesburg's pitching. The Independents jumped on Rowlesburg's starting pitcher Hooten for four runs in the third inning on successive hits by R. Colaw, DiSimone, Baker, T. Colaw and a walk to Deckman. The Oaklanders added a score in the fourth on a single by Deckman and a hit by Baker.

Rowlesburg tied the score in the seventh inning, shoving across five runs. Colaw's circuit blow was the only other score.

Deckman had three hits with DiSimone, Baker and T. Colaw getting two each. Bolyard, Beckman and R. Colaw had singles. Toby Colaw was the winning pitcher, striking out 12 batters and allowing only six hits.

The previous Sunday Oakland defeated Masontown 3 to 1. The team will play at Bruceton on Sunday starting at 2:30 daylight time.

Grantsville Holds 2nd Place In League

The Grantsville Sluggers moved into sole possession of second place in the Pen-Mar Baseball league Saturday by defeating the front-running Hyndman team 5 to 4 at Hyndman and held on to their position by winning over the Flintstone Farmers Sunday 17 to 0.

Bobby Dawson, who took over on the mound for Earl Gracie in the sixth inning, allowed just one hit. Four of Grantsville's five tallies came as the direct result of circuit blasts. John Keister hit a four-bagger in the first inning with one on base and Junie Perry delivered a four-bagger in the third, also with a man on, to take the lead after Hyndman had scored twice in the first and once in the second.

The Sluggers capped the victory in the fourth when Bob Keister carried home the mail after singling, going to second on Don Wengerd's sacrifice and hitting the plate after Llewellyn slashed out a bingle.

In Sunday's contest Robert Keister was the pitcher and he scattered seven hits, struck out 11 and failed to issue a pass. Grantsville amassed 12 safeties and took advantage of nine bases on balls. Junie Perry had a perfect day at the plate with three two-base wallops. Joe Wengerd banged a pair of doubles and single and drew a pass. John Keister also hit two doubles and a single and walked twice. Jim Keister got two singles.

Grantsville's record is now 17 wins and 5 losses. Hyndman, league leaders, has also won 17 games but has lost only 4. Barrelville is in third place with 15 wins and 6 losses.

Review of the Play

By CHARLES BRINER

The Garrett County Playhouse presentation of January Thaw is a delightful comedy that all ages will enjoy. The applause and laughter of the opening night audience is the indication that this is a wonderful show that should not be missed.

Herbert Gage, ably portrayed by Neil Flanagan, is an author who purchased an old home in Connecticut, where he hopes to write a best seller. The numerous interruptions by his family, his maid, a fire which he as a volunteer fireman assists in extinguishing and finally the arrival of the former owners of the home who have been away a number of years, makes this play one of the best comedies ever presented by Gene Yell at the Playhouse. The other Gages in this fast moving show are Jennifer Yell, as a convincing teen-ager known as Sarah; Kay Brown, an equally charming teenager, as Paula; Diane Wheeler, a lovely and about to be married Barbara; and playing the wife, Marge, is DeAnn Mears who suffers from lack of heat and food in a most realistic manner. The maid and cook Frieda, played by Jo Ellen Briscoe, humorously shows the independence of the modern help problem. Al Hadley gives a convincing job as George Husted, shy and jealous suitor of Barbara.

Too much praise cannot be written about Helen Camp and William Pappas, who as Mathilda and Jonathan Rockwood, have the audience howling at their dress, acting and presentation of their roles as the former owners who dislike the modern restoration of the old home, especially the modern plumbing as compared to the olden days. Once again they show their ability to play any part in a most excellent style.

William Lang, cast as the Rockwood's young son Matt, does a creditable job and our local lad, Aza Stanton, turns in a brief but satisfactory performance.

Last but far from least is the credit due D. G. Buckles. This is the fourth top directing job turned in by Mr. Buckles. In addition to directing the play, he appears in the show as the lawyer, Mr. Loomis, and also Uncle Walter. His acting is every bit as good as his direction.

The entire cast deserves the reception accorded them by the audience who came to be entertained and left highly satisfied. This is the show to take children to see.

NEW ATTRACTION—One of the new attractions at the Second Annual Garrett County Agricultural Fair will be the Rambling Hoedowners, featuring western music, comedy and square dancing. This show will be presented Tuesday evening, August 12. The Hoedowners are considered Pennsylvania state champions and are accompanied by a five-piece western band.

The Beginning...

It was a beautiful summer day and the willows hung in a pale green fringe above the water, and Bill and I were very young, and very much in love.

But there seemed to be so many obstacles in our path. Bill wanted to be a doctor, and it took such a long time. I was to go away to Teachers' College in the fall. We began to feel depressed.

Then it occurred to us to ask the advice of Mr. Thornton, our new minister. He hadn't been at our church very long and he was young for the responsibilities he had assumed. But as we sat in his office, I knew right away that here was someone who could help us face our problems.

Well, I can't say his advice made us happy. He said that Bill should go on with his education and I with mine, and that God would give us courage.

Time proved him right. I told him that, the day he married us. Ten years have passed since then. But on that Sunday afternoon, Mr. Thornton truly put the Church into our lives. We're never going to take it out.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Guarding Freedom

Lesson for August 3, 1958

AN OLD prisoner named John came into the warden's office at the penitentiary. "Why don't you ask for a parole?" asked the warden, for this was a model prisoner. John said he was not interested. All his people were dead by that time, and most of his friends. No job could be had on the outside. John had no use for a freedom that meant no more than the privilege of starving to death.

Dr. Foreman

Freedom that is nothing but taking off the chains, opening a gate, freedom that is only never hearing the words "You must,"—without ever feeling "I can;" this is freedom nobody wants.

Freedom is Basic

This should be particularly interesting to Christians; for freedom is at the very center of the Christian life. Christ has set us free for freedom, Paul writes. But Christian freedom does not mean that we can now do whatever we like. Freedom does not mean we are never under orders. It does not mean we should never accept any man's authority. It does not mean that we shall run around, each man working out his own little rebellion. A Christian can take orders from other people, and if he is in a subordinate position (as most of us are to somebody), it is usually his Christian duty to take orders and to carry them out as best he can.

Christian freedom means that whatever other authorities have the right to tell us what to do and what not to do, our topmost authority is God. Christian freedom means that we have no right to consent to, or to obey any brand or sort of tyrant or dictator who sets himself up as final judge and controller of other men. Christian freedom means that when a man, or men, ask us or order us to do what we know is contrary to the will of God, we have to say as Peter and John did to the police court in Jerusalem, we must obey God rather than men.

The Price of Liberty

"Eternal vigilance," our revolutionary ancestors said, "is the price of liberty." That is to say, freedom always has to be guarded. Let us give a thought to two enemies of Christian freedom, one outside us, one inside.

One is the state or the community around us. This turns out to be an enemy of freedom when a Christian is discouraged or prevented from speaking out in any way which might seem to criticize the community or the state. That was what got Amos into trouble. The chief priest warned him not to preach any more there in Bethel: "It is the king's sanctuary, and it is a temple of the kingdom," he said. In other words, the church belonged to the king and the king could not be criticized, much less condemned. The Lord had commanded him to speak, not the king; and he insisted on being heard. So in our time there are people in politics and out who say that ministers have no business criticizing the government, or the "American way of life." True ministers know their call is from God, not the government, not any other organization whatever. In Atlanta, Georgia, a group of ministers put out a statement condemning segregation as practiced there. If they had thought of the state, or the public in general, as their authority, they never would have dared open their mouths.

Threat From Within

More subtle than attack from without, is the attack on freedom from within. There are in our country far more persons who are slaves to their own sins than persons who are slaves (in body or mind) to the state. Christian freedom is a precious thing, because freedom is what makes the difference between ourselves and the lower animals. If a man lets himself drift into sin far enough, he reaches a point of no return, like a man in a rowboat floating down toward Niagara Falls. When a man forges his own chains, he may even admire the chains as his own handiwork. But a man who cannot and dare not say NO to himself has failed to guard his freedom against his worst enemy —himself.

Along The Potomac

DeWITT S. HYDE

The final version of the Pentagon reorganization bill, compromising the differing views of the Senate and House, has been approved by Congress. It is a start toward a streamlined Defense Department although the President was denied two important goals he sought. They were, his desire to channel all contacts between the Armed Forces and Congress through the Secretary of Defense, and his wish for authority to merge, transfer, or abolish some service functions without a check by Congress.

Enactment comes at a time when the United States has assumed a major risk in the Middle East and it is important that the President feels that the new law will be of help to him. I would like to point out, however, something about the Middle East venture that should give every American a real sense of pride regardless of his feelings on the move itself. I refer to the demonstration of readiness of our Armed Services.

When we remember how long it took to place anything like 10,000 men in Korea, the contrast between that troop movement and the swiftness with which we moved men into Lebanon, and soldiers from bases in Europe to Turkey, is striking. Our success in placing troops where we want them in a minimum of time, strengthens our feelings of national security, and I am sure that potential aggressors were deeply impressed with the risks they must take in face of such flexibility.

I hope that the adventure into Lebanon will turn out to be no more than a military exercise, and the men of our Armed Forces are to be commended on the speed and efficiency with which they carried out their assigned task.

Some people have critically alleged that our intelligence people did not know of developments in the middle East. It seems to me quite apparent that there must have been some very good information on the subject, information that made it possible for us to move swiftly.

All of us, I am sure, are pleased with the House Ways and Means Committee for favorably reporting a bill permitting the exclusion from taxable income of contributions above a specified sum paid by employees under the railroad retirement system. I am hopeful that Congress will approve the measure.

HOW ISAAC GOT HIS WIFE

HELLO BOYS AND GIRLS!

Have you ever seen an Indian "wishing well"? Wherever that custom may have originated, it is interesting to note that way back there in the days of Abraham, a prayer was offered at a well and immediately answered. However, we must bear in mind that God always answers every sincere prayer no matter where it is offered.

In today's story we see Eliezer, a trusted servant of Abraham resting with his camels by a well of water. Did you know that the orientals called water, "the gift of God"? And so it is, for we certainly could not live without it. And why was Eliezer so far from home? Because his master, Abraham, had sent him to pick out a wife for Isaac from among those who believed and obeyed God, for those among whom Isaac then lived were idolaters. As Eliezer waited in the evening for the women to come to draw water from the well, he prayed: "O Lord God.... let it come to pass that the damsel (girl) to whom I shall say, Let down thy pitcher, I pray thee, that I may drink; and she shall say, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink also; let the same be she that thou hast appointed for thy servant Isaac." In other words, God was to do the choosing of Isaac's future wife, and she was to be willing to do more than she was asked to do. "Before he had done speaking....behold Rebekah came out." She was Isaac's second cousin, and believe it or not, she said and did exactly as Eliezer had prayed that the one whom God appointed to be Isaac's wife should do. Just think, boys and girls, what that one unselfish, courteous act did for her, and also for future generations! It not only got her a wonderful, godly husband who dearly loved her, but God had promised that the Messiah, Jesus, was to come through Isaac. And do you know what Eliezer did when God answered his prayer? The Bible says that "he bowed down his head and worshipped", and thanked God.

You can just imagine how happy Rebekah's family was when they learned who Eliezer was, and how wonderfully God had answered his prayer. They, too, believed that God was leading in the choice of a wife for Isaac, and they consented to Rebekah's marriage to him.

Do you think that your father and mother should have something to say as to who your boy friends and girl friends should be? We have just learned from the Bible that this is the only wise course to follow. And it stands to reason, for fathers and mothers have lived much longer in this world than their children and certainly should have more experience than they, and have better knowledge of human nature. Besides, they have your interest at heart. Boys and girls who refuse to listen to their godly parents in this respect are not only breaking the commandment which says, "Honor thy father and thy mother," but are doing themselves a great injustice, and bringing upon themselves much needless unhappiness, and sometimes life-long grief and misery. And so let us learn the lesson from this true story and consult with our parents, and pray to God for guidance before we form any close friendships, and permit our affections to go out to those of the opposite sex.

Maryland 4-H Club Week Plans Move

State 4-H Club Week plans are well underway now as the week draws nearer and some 1,200 club members will "invade" the University of Maryland College Park campus. Date of the 36th annual Club Week is August 4-9.

Several 4-H Club boys and girls of the county plan to attend.

Contestants in the state 4-H public speaking contest such as Ralph Buckel, Jr., Bittinger, are polishing up the talks they will give during the week. A girl and boy will be selected state winners.

Sharpening up on their modeling ability are the 4-H Dress Revue contestants who will compete Friday afternoon for the Maryland title and the trip to National 4-H Club Congress in December. Garrett county will be represented by Sue Porter and Susan Bowman.

At the University's State 4-H Club office arrangements are being made for the clubbers to hear University officials, International Farm Youth Exchange delegates to other countries, and extension specialists. This year marks the tenth anniversary of the establishment of the National 4-H Foundation and the IFYE program. It will be observed in an assembly Wednesday morning.

Four H'ers will meet each morning for classes in home economics, agriculture and leadership. Extension specialists on the University staff will do the teaching.

All members will be busy with varied activities throughout the week. They will have a dance and party, campfires, a candlelighting service, a 4-H pageant, a band concert and tours to Washington and vicinity.

Not least in their activities is the Indian Tribal meeting—which brings out the "how-how's" and the keen competition in sports and stunts. Each clubber will be a member of a tribe—in an Indian nation headed by a nation chief.

Theme of the 36th Club Week will be "If I knew You."

Hoover's Six Points ....

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, who has demonstrated the highest qualities of leadership in a position of decisive importance to the security of our nation, has been one of America's greatest public servants.

Although a smear target of Communist conspiracy he has repelled all attacks through his high character and extraordinary ability. In his new book, "Masters of Deceit," he says American freedom is gravely jeopardized by forces of Communism, internal and external. He contents that our basic strength in this crisis must come through an awakening, through the education of our people to the positive values in our American way of life. He set forth six aspects of our democratic faith:

1. A belief in the dignity and worth of the individual, a belief under assault today by Communism which regards the individual as part of the class, the mass, and a pawn of the state;

2. A belief in mutual responsibility, of our obligations to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, care for the less fortunate;

3. A belief that life has a meaning which transcends any man-made system, that is independent of any such system and that outlasts any such system;

4. A belief in stewardship, a feeling that a great heritage is our sacred trust for the generations yet to come;

5. A belief that the moral values we adhere to, support, and strive toward are grounded in a reality more enduring and satisfying than any man-made system.

6. A belief which has matured to a firm conviction, that in the final analysis love is the greatest force on earth and is far more enduring than hatred.

These beliefs are inspired by mankind's one great source of direction—the Bible. It is heartening to have them expounded by a man like Hoover.

Call Issued For Football Practice At Southern High

Dick Travis, athletic director and football coach at Southern High School, today issued a call for all boys in grades ten, eleven and twelve who are interested in playing football on the Highlander team this coming year to report to the school gym on Thursday, August 14, at 1:00.

"A thorough physical examination and issuance of equipment will take up most of the time on this date," he said.

Coach Travis will be assisted by Ed Quattro who coached the Junior High football and basketball teams last year. Quattro also coached varsity baseball last spring.

"Prospects for the coming year look somewhat brighter than they have for quite sometime, "Travis said. With several veterans and a host of boys who played Junior High Football last year the forthcoming season should draw good crowds to the Highlander field this fall.

Not Much Change In Registration Totals

Registration figures have not changed appreciably since the primary election. Republican new registration was far ahead of the Democratic new registration, but so were Republican deaths.

According to figures released by Russell L. Smith, chief registrar during July his office registered 10 Republicans and one Democrat, but lost by death 9 Republicans and 1 Democrat. This gave a net gain of 1 to the Republicans.

In June there were 3 Republicans and 10 Democrats registered, 4 Republicans and 3 Democrats cancelled, 13 Republicans and 8 Democrats removed by death.

The figures as of August 1 are Republican voters, 5,900; Democratic voters, 3,418; Independents, 28; Progressive, 1; Socialist, 4, for a total of 9,351.

Persons eligible to register who have not already done so may register, transfer or affiliate at any time up to Tuesday, September 23. After that the books will be closed to new registrations until fifteen days after the general election in November. Mr. Smith said the Board of Election Supervisors would provide special registration days in other parts of the county prior to the deadline.

Five Found Guilty Of Larceny Charges

Five persons were placed under arrest this week on charges of larceny of two fishing poles and other items from Ogilvie Halsey, at his stand at Deep Creek Lake. They were listed as Tony Moore, James Fike, Denver Sweitzer, Ray Sweitzer and David Parrish.

At a hearing before Trial Magistrate Boyd Sanders, Sr., on August 2 they were found guilty. Moore was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction. Parrish, who also was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction took an appeal and was released under $500 bond. Ray and Denver Sweitzer and James Fike were given a year's suspended sentence in the House.

Deputy Sheriff Bruce Close said that Okey Powell, who had been in jail for several months on a forgery charge, would be tried on Tuesday in the Circuit court.

DEMOCRATS KICK OFF—The Democratic campaign for the November general election got underway last week with a dinner meeting sponsored by the Democratic State Central Committee and attended by over 100 party members and candidates. City Council Does Reverse on Water And Sewer Policy

Rescinds Resolution That Was Passed In September of 1956

The Mayor and Town Council of Oakland did a complete reversal on a policy of furnishing water and sewerage to persons outside the corporate limits at their monthly meeting Monday night.

C. C. Mason appeared before the council asking for water and sewerage priviliges for proposed residences on a street to be made near the high school paralleling High street to the south.

Before granting him his request by a vote of four to three the council proceeded to rescind a resolution which was passed on September 10, 1956 which had stopped all such extensions.

The resolution used these or similar words: numerous requests have been made for extending and providing city utilities beyond the town corporate limits and it is resolved "that no further extensions of these utilities beyond the corporate limits be considered except in case of public institutions financed and supported by public funds and taxes, and industrial installations." The resolution was rescinded with Robert Maroney, Carroll Miller, Eugene M. Flinn and John Wolf voting in favor; Mayor Russell L. Smith, Dr. E. I. Baumgartner and Henry W. McComas against.

Then when it came to granting Mr. Mason his request the vote was again 4 to 3, except that different ones were lined up on the two sides. Against granting the permission were Mayor Smith, Carroll Miller and Henry McComas. In favor of the grant were Dr. Baumgartner, Maroney, Flinn and Wolf.

Later a motion passed which stated that "any person or persons having dwellings outside the corporate limits desiring to connect to existing water and for sewer service, shall do so at his own expense. There were five in favor of this motion and two against.

It was noted that the motion on the resolution in 1956 was seconded by Mr. Maroney while he made the motion to rescind the resolution at Monday's meeting.

Other Business Conducted

Bert Summers and Earl Wise, of the Sterling Processing company, appeared before the council in regard to the water rate set by the council at the last meeting. The company's contract expired in March but the renewal was to be at a rate not to exceed the cost of producing the water. The company representatives argued that the present rate was more than the cost of production. The matter

Over Ten Inches Of Rain Fell During Month of July

As was generally known the rainfall during July was particularly heavy, but still no record was set. However, it was the heaviest since 1912.

During the past month 10.28 inches of rain fell. This amount came as the result of continual rains rather than ones of any great size. There were only two rains of any size during the month.

But back in July 1912 there was a total of 12.54 inches and Ralph E. Weber, veteran weather man, said he remembers that year and remembers that there were several heavy rains during that month.

During the past week rain fell Friday, Saturday and Sunday, but the weather began to clear on Monday and there have been three days without rain. All three days started with a heavy fog.

"Lost" Vacationer Turns Up Just As Search Is Begun

A searching party had just gotten under way Tuesday evening for a vacationer who was supposed to be lost when she turned up at the Garrett County Playhouse. She had tramped from five to seven miles over Marsh mountain, from the breast of the dam, and arrived there after dark.

The woman was identified as Mrs. A. G. Yankovsky, of Arlington, Va., who was spending the week with her husband and children at the Ward Ashby home on Deep Creek Lake.

The family had gone to the breast of the dam and while the male members of the family were fishing she had taken a hike. At dusk Mr. Yankosky became a little worried and told some people about his wife's disappearance.

Ward Ashby, forester, started to organize a searching party. He notified the Oakland fire department and an alarm was sounded. However, before any of the firemen were able to leave Oakland the word came in that Mrs. Yankovsky had appeared at the playhouse and used the telephone to notify her family that she was all right.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Yankovsky are big game hunters, Mrs. Yankovsky, employed with the department of the army, is 51 years of age. She said the hike was enjoyable. She had hiked over some of the thickest brush and through one of the wildest sections of the county.

Gas Production Holds Up Well

County Commissioners Get Check For $20,658.21 As Their Share Of Total

Natural gas production in Garrett county over the past three months ending June 30, held up well, according to the report received this week by the County Commissioners. The total was $20,658.21, and although some $3,500 less than for the previous 90-day period, was one of the larger ones to be received.

The number of cubic feet produced in the period totaled 1,137,973,000, more than twelve million cubic feet per day. The marketable gas was valued at $295,117.30.

The gas company company's check was the amount for the seven percent tax on the marketable gas which was just $3,454.56 less than for the previous 90-day period. The largest check received for any 90-day period was $28,573.82.

The breakdown of the latest tax receipts showed $8,263.28 as the purchaser's proportion of the tax (2.8 percent) and $12,394.93 as the producer's proportion of the tax (4.2 percent).

Thirty-four wells were listed this time, two less than the previous report. Eliminated were the Shahan and Shaffer wells which showed quite small production three months ago. The two new wells added for the first time three months ago, the Turney and Arnold George wells, continued to produce satisfactorily. The Turney well showed production of over 90 million cubic feet, while the Arnold George well showed over 131 million cubic feet. The White Face well on the property owned by the County Commissioners showed over 37 million.

Biggest producing wen this time as for the last two times was the Herman and Hanlin well with more than 254 million cubic feet. The Mitchell Rush well showed 157 million cubic feet. Other big producers were the Barbara Miller well with 110 million, the other Miller well with 96 million, the Earl Knox well with 53 million, Bowser well with 21 milion, the Ford-Fike well with 20 million and the Collier well with 25 million.

The check was the third one on the new year for receipts. Last year's total which ended September 30 showed $85,619.57 The first $50,000 went toward expenses of the school bond indebtedness. The next $25,000 went toward expenses of the Garrett County Memorial hospital. Any amount above $75,000 went into a fund for new school building repairs or additional new construction. The total for this year now is $69,800.65. If the check for the final quarter totals about the same as this week's check, the total will surpass last year's figure by several thousand dollars.

Since the first check for the tax on the marketable gas was received by the Commissioners in July, 1951, the county's governing body has received $351,128.93.

Mrs. Charles E. Paugh, Sr., the former Miss Mary K. Williams, has resumed her position as dietitian at the Garrett County Memorial hospital, it was announced this week by Henry W. McComas, hospital superintendent.

Mrs. Paugh served as dietitian from the time the hospital opened on March 13, 1950, through March 31, 1956, at which time she gave up her duties to become a homemaker. She and her husband lived in Washington, D. C., for several years but have now returned to Garrett county and will reside at McHenry.

log. He will make his entry with the superintendent or clerk. The exhibitor must be able to identify his exhibit as to which class it will go in. All exhibits must be on the grounds by 7 p. m., Monday, August 11. The exhibits will be accepted from 9 a. m. through 7 p. m. Livestock entries will be accepted until 10 a. m. Tuesday, August 12. No exhibits will be removed from the grounds until 9 p. m. Saturday, August 16.

Additions to Premium List

Mr. McHenry made several statements that were additions or corrections to the premuim book: in the fruit department an entry consist of a plate of five which means that you would need five apples, five peaches, etc. Due to an oversight eggs were omitted from the premium book. There will be a class for eggs, both white and brown. An entry will consist of one dozen eggs in a square type box. Prize money will be $2.50 for first, $2 for second and $1.50 for third.

What Constitutes a Class

McHenry said many questions had arisen as to what constituted a class. The best example to explain the regulation which says an exhibitor may only enter one exhibit per class would be in the plants and flowers department, he said. The large group would be potted plants. The next grouping would be African violets. The classes would then be white single, white double, pink single, purple single and purple double. This means that an exhibitor could enter one white single, one white double, one pink single, one purple single and one purple double.

was tabled until engineers could determine the cost of producing water.

Willis Shaffer, president of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, asked permission to erect a banner across one of the town's streets indicating the location of the free parking lot area and also asked that the alley between Pennington and Center which ends at Gilmore, be extended to the Swallow Falls road. Permission of property owners was to be obtained before definite action was to be taken on this matter. The free parking space had no bearing on parking meter receipts. It was reported that $1,077.38 was collected during the previous month which included five Tuesdays.

Collections totaled $11,433.32 with $5,711.81 from water, $3,876.83 from taxes and $1,844.68 from miscellaneous.

Expenses amounted to $9,160.34 including $1,083.09 for street labor, and $2,159.25 for capital outlay for streets. The latter item included a payment on the grader.

Council agreed to erect an additional street light on the old Deer Park road. Two permits were granted, one to Kitzmiller and Edgar for Mary H. Bolden for a split level dwelling 26 by 76 of frame and brick, corner of Pennington and Gilmore streets, at approximate cost of $12,000; and to Robert Ruckert for dwelling of colonial type brick, 60 by 22, at approximate cost of $22,000 on golf course road.

Councilman McComas asked that it be put in the minutes that he go on record as opposed to building any more streets in town until a protective cover has been put on existing streets.

It was announced that the water and sewerage committee and any other interested persons would meet with Hubert Custer of the State Roads commission and a representative from the district office, in regard to changes in water and sewer lines on Oak street between 5th and 9th. This section of Oak street is to be widened to 40 feet and will connect with the new route 219, now under construction at the east edge of town. Sunday movie tax amounted to $47.95.

Culling Can Be Done Quickly At Night

There are several quick methods of culling poor producing hens, or hens that have stopped laying altogether. Since time and labor are at a premium these days on all farms the method most likely to fit in with other jobs, or the method which will get the job done quickest will be the best one to use points out Wade Rice, University of Maryland extension poultry specialist.

Many poultrymen makes a practice of culling at night with a flashlight. This seems to work especially well with Leghorns over daylight culling when birds are more flighty. Poultrymen take the hens with shrunken combs from the roost, and handle them to determine the condition of the abdomen. Some poultrymen cull by examining the crops of the hens. Birds out of production are not likely to have full crops, while the crops of the layers are full of feed. This job is helped along by having enough empty crates nearby, in which to put the culls.

Many poultrymen have a catching hook in each pen. If a hen looks to be out of production . . . one whisk, of the hook, and she's out of the flock. It's a handy idea to put culled chicken in the broody coop for the moment. Culls are like any other chicken for meat, in that you'll want to feed and water them properly so they'll keep up their flesh and weight necessary for the best market price possible.

So . . . Cull your birds in the way that'll save you most time and effort . . . but cull that flock regularly to save feed eaten by nonlayers, and the house space they use.

Points Out Vitamin Value In Vegetables

Keep vegetables from wilting if you want the most vitamin value from them, University of Maryland extension nutritionists advise homemakers.

Many vegetables, especially those that are deep green, offer a good measure of both vitamin A and vitamin C when harvested. What happens between harvest and the time vegetables reach the family meal table decides how much vitamin C they still have to offer. If they have wilted, it's a safe bet that not much of this fragile vitamin is left. Even if they are revived or "crisped" in ice water or in the refrigerator, their vitamin C is not restored.

Market vegetables that are limp or wilted may still "rate" for vitamin A and minerals, but not for vitamin C. Those that show signs of bruising, probably have lost considerable vitamin A as well as vitamin C. As for home garden vegetables, it pays to treat them gently, wash as necessary and get into the refrigerator as promptly as possible, says Mrs. Judith Pheil and Miss Janet Coblentz.

Green vegetables which are naturally high in vitamin C include green peppers, broccoli, raw cabbage, collards, garden cress, kale, kohlrabi, mustard greens, spinach and turnip greens. Those to be cooked need to be in good condition beforehand, then should cook in a covered pan in a small amount of boiling water until just tender if they are to offer highest vitamin value.

The total of 5,916 books, magazines and records loaned for home use in July from the library and the bookmobile has set a new high in circulation. 101 new borrowers were registered, including both summer visitors and year-round Garrett County residents.

Many more parents than ever before are bringing their children to the library during the summer vacation to develop interest and skill in reading. Such parents will be interested in seeing two magazine articles which have appeared within the past week, "The Family that Reads Together" by Peter Putnam in the August issue of Woman's Day, and "The Time for Reading is Now!" in the August 3 issue of This Week Magazine. These two articles are on exhibit now, along with a number of books suggested for family reading.

Meeting On Flood

The plan was worked out locally and submitted in February, 1956. This was a cost sharing program whereby the government would furnish some $300,000 while the Mayor and Council and the County Commissioners each pledged work to the amount of $20,000 in stream clearance and other work.

Since that time local persons have been working on the problem of securing easements from property owners which would make it possible to construct dams that would hold back water only during flood danger. Mr. Smith pointed out that the government would not build dams unless easements are assured by the local government.

Up to now it has been impossible to secure easements from property owners, Mr. Smith said, and there is danger that the money available from the Federal government will be diverted to other projects. He said the government had available $643,000, which had already been appropriated, for the local project, and that it was now possible that all the cost of the work be provided by the federal government.

The first dam in the series would be placed on Wilson run. Others were planned for Broadford, on the Little Youghiogheny, and other sections. Dams would be constructed of earth and would not interfere with the properties involved, except when there was high water.

Opportunity To Help

The people have another opportunity to help Garrett county become a unified area. The second annual Garrett County agricultural fair is about to start. Located in the center of the county it has the potential of bringing every part of the county closer together.

The cooperation given it last year shows what can be done. Indications are that this year will be even more positive in its actions. The persons who head the county fair have spent precious hours and days, but there isn't one in the outfit with a selfish motive. They are all wanting it to be truly a COUNTY affair.

All of us can help to bring these endeavors to a successful conclusion. Give the fair your cooperation and support. It will build a better Mt. Top area. We hope everyone is interested.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

Peace Or Propaganda? — Let us hope that the United Nations summit conference on the middle East will be more than a propaganda free-for-all. However, should the approaching summit meeting turn out to be merely another propaganda broadcasting medium, we hope that our side has learned something from past experience to the extent that it will be prepared to beat the Communists at their own game.

After the deluge of talk—the charges and counter charges—may there be some progress made toward peace and justice in Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq, and the surrounding area. The free world wants action toward peace and justice, not more Soviet "wind".

Teamwork In The Senate — Sometimes one hears complaints about bickering and stalling in the Senate. Well, let's see. There are 96 Senators, all individuals, elected to work for legislation according to their consciences in representing the people of the 48 States. Far from being excessively argumentative, there is an amazing degree of unity, particularly after differences on details are ironed out. For example, after the amendments to the Defense Department reorganization bill were disposed of—either approved or rejected—the Senate passed its version of the reorganization legislation by an absolutely unanimous vote, 88 to 0. Again, the Reciprocal Trade bill breezed through 72 to 16, after the Senate knocked out by a vote of 63 to 27 an amendment which would have impaired the Chief Executive's discretion. In other words, once the details of key amendments are resolved, one may expect a patriotic meeting of minds on fundamentals of issues.

One Million Man-Hours On Shipbuilding Job—Maritime Administrator Morse tells us that it appears virtually certain that the Maryland Shipbuilding and Drydock Company will get the contract to convert two Grace Line freighters into container ships carrying cargo cranes with automatic controls. The conversion job, for which the Baltimore firm was the low bidder, will mean approximately a million man-hours of labor. The contract should be awarded around the end of August, after certain details are double checked by the Maritime Administration.

Indian Head Production On The Upgrade — Following our talks with Secretary of the Navy Gates and Acting Chief of Ordnance Quinn, the Commanding Officer of the Indian Head Naval Powder Factory was authorized to employ 117 additional workers—92 powdermen, mechanics and engineers and 25 chemists—for work on orders for Talos and Terrier motors. The Maryland factory makes propellants and assembles them in missile motors. I hope that this is only the first of employment increases at Indian Head.

Parkway Along The Potomac — In order that the southern end of the George Washington Memorial Parkway might be completed, I introduced an amendment to the Supplemental Appropriations Bill which would make $2,000,000 in Federal funds available for the purchase of land for that part of the parkway which is to be in Prince George's County. (The land purchases for the Montgomery County part of the parkway are already either finished or under contract.) Earlier in the week, in a committee room in the Capitol, I met with 50 Prince George's County residents interested in the parkway project, and heard their arguments, pro and con. Those in favor of the appropriation far outnumbered those against. My amendment would restore the funds which had been knocked out of the bill in the House of Representatives. After introducing my amendment, I appeared before the Senate Appropriations Committee to give it my full support. We do not want this great parkway to stop in a "dead end."

Want A Job In Outer Space? — But wait! Before you visualize yourself volunteering for some spectacular experiment out yonder in thin space, let me hasten to explain that stenographers, clerks, and other customary office staff workers will be needed for the new "outer space" agency. The Government agency, to be set up in about 90 days, will be known as the National Aeronautical and Space Administration. In addition to the office staff, some engineers and other technical persons will be needed. If you are interested in applying for a job with this agency, fill out the regular Government application blank, Form 57, and send it to Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, Director, 1512 H Street, N. W., Washington 25, D. C.

Older Workers Found Jobs In New Program—Back in July, 1957, the Department of Labor initiated a special program designed to help older workers find jobs. The Department announces that to date some 750,000 jobs have been located for older workers.

Who Is Labor's Best Friend? — Average wages now are 20 per cent higher than in 1952. Labor now gets 71% of the national income—more than under previous Administrations! Social Security covers 12,000,000 more workers than in 1952. The number of families with less than $2,000 annual income has dropped 1,700,000 since 1952. "And what about inflation?" The cost of living increased nearly 50 percent under Truman. That's right! The prewar dollar lost 48 cents in purchasing power through 1952; the dollar lost only 4 cents in purchasing power during 5 years of THIS Administration. The average annual unemployment for the peacetime years between 1933 and 1952 was 13 per cent of the working force; the average annual unemployment for the years 1953 through 1957, under THIS administration, is only 4%. The gross national product is up almost 100 BILLION DOLLARS over what it was in 1952.

Listen Americans!

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

One of the chief reasons for inflation—the diminishing of a dollar's purchasing power—is a continued increase of wages in industry without compensating improvement in productivity per man hour worked. And since it is a factor involving the welfare of every American, young and old, we ought to understand it clearly. Let's take a case in point: Every year since 1947 the wage rate in the automobile industry has advanced. In 1948 the average hourly earnings were $1.60. In 1949 it was $1.70, and it has gone up an average of 10c an hour each year since then.

The average now is $2.50 an hour. Many workers make considerably more. Some make less. The wage increase of all auto workers averaged 56% for the 10 year period just ended. The cost of labor to the auto manufacturers must also include "fringe" benefits which have been substantially increased in the same period.

A few years ago I had an analysis made of the selling price of a $1500 automobile. It was found that direct and indirect labor costs added up to approximately $1200, or 80% of the selling price. Raw materials in this $1500 car of a few years ago were actually valued at only $22 in their raw state—without the addition of labor costs in producing, processing, transporting and marketing.

The wage hikes at the auto plants, and at their suppliers, have not permitted the auto industry to pass along to the buying public the normal consumer benefits from increased productivity. In the 10 years that wages rose 56%, the manufacturer's price of automobiles soared from $1100 to approximately $1900, on the average. And the local delivered price of cars went up correspondingly. The manufacturers haven't gotten rich at these prices. The average profit on each dollar of sales in American industry is under 4%. That rate will barely keep the investment money coming for the expansions and production improvements necessary to compete in the market. The U. S. News & World Report investigated the profit situation and said in its April 25 issue: "The total amount of profit included in the price of a car is actually less than in 1948."

Harold J. Ruttenberg, a former labor union research director, and now president of his own well drilling equipment company, has made some penetrating and important observations concerning wage raises and inflation in a speech delivered to the National Industrial Conference Board and reprinted in the May issue of Reader's Digest. He speaks as a man who once was intimate with such labor associates as Philip Murray.

"During the 1930's," he said, "when wage inequities were being eliminated, working conditions modernized, wages raised and hours shortened, I asked my elders in the labor movement a simple question: 'What do we do when these failings of management have been corrected?' The answer was direct, simple and continues as union policy to this day: 'We shall keep right on asking for more. Our job is to get as much for our members as we can squeeze out of the companies. It is an easy job, as, once we get a new and better contract, we have no further responsibility. It is entirely up to management to find the means to pay the rising wage bill every year'."

This is a philosophy which, if backed by wrong-headed laws and continued, could ruin our great record of progress benefiting all Americans. Mr. Ruttenberg says: "This program of more pay and less work, already obsolete in the late 1940's, is today untenable."

The Right to Work

Prominent in many of this year's political contests is the principle of "right-to-work." Senator Knowland's campaign in California exemplifies the degree to which this issue can be accentuated by opposing forces. But, is the basic proposition of compulsory versus voluntary unionism, or open versus closed shop, generally and clearly understood?

The Taft-Hartley Act contains two provisions around which the controversy circles. Section 8(a) (3) permits an employer and a labor union to enter into a collective barganing agreement requiring membership in the union within 30 days after the beginning of employment, or after the effective date of the contract as a condition of continued employment, or after the effective date of the contract as a condition of continued employment. In other words, the closed shop which requires union membership as a condition of getting a job is outlawed, but the union shop which requires an employee to join the union within thirty days after obtaining the job is permitted.

Section 14(b) of the Act permits the states to prohibit completely all forms of compulsory union membership, including that which is granted under section 8 (a) (3). It is this provision and the state "right-to-work" laws which have drawn the sharpest fire of autocratic labor leaders and their partisans. Presently, 18 states have laws prohibiting compulsory union membership, some of which were enacted as long ago as 1944, more than 3 years prior to the passage of the Taft-Hartley Act. Yet, efforts to undermine the foundation of these statutes continue.

Curiously enough, the Supreme Court only recently reaffirmed the principle that no one can lawfully interfere with an individual's right to work. The constitutionality of state laws has also been upheld by the Court. Still on the books of Maryland (Article 100, Section 64 of the Maryland Code) is a little-known provision, adopted in 1935, which outlaws, as contrary to public policy, any agreement, expressed or implied, between employee and employer," . . .whereby either party thereto undertakes or promises to join or to remain a member of some specific labor organization or organizations. . . ." Again, the Free State would seem to be in the forefront in the preservation of fundamental rights.

As Samuel Gompers, the founder of the American labor movement, once put it, "No lasting gain has ever come from compulsion." On the question of "right-to-work," all Americans might heed Gompers' admonitions.

Church Women View Leprosy Problem

A study of ministry to the people with leprosy was held when the United Lutheran Church Women of Zion church, Jennings met on August 3. Mrs. Herman C. Myers led the discussion. Mrs. Clyde Smith and Mrs. Harry E. Miller were in charge of the opening devotions. Seventeen attended.

The topic was introduced by a question and answer period on phases of the disease. Letters from workers on the fields in India and Africa were read.

The quarterly thank offering was received. A short skit, "The Thankful Spirit," was presented by Mrs. Kenneth Buckel, Mrs. Donald Hetrick, Myrtle Custer, Mrs. Audra Durst, Mrs. Kermit Bittinger and Leota Baker. Offerings were presented as a solo number, "Now Thank We All Our God" was sung.

Mrs. Joe Resh presided at the business session. The group decided to prepare rolls of bandages to be send to New Windsor for distribution to Leprosy Missions. "Light for Today" a devotional guide, will be sent to Zion's military personnel again this year.

The annual fellowship picnic of the U. L. C. W. will be held Friday, August 8, at the home of Mrs. William Bender, route 40. Mrs. Kenneth Buckel will be in charge of entertainment and Mrs. Donald Hetrick, the refreshments.

Mt. Lake Having One of Best Tourneys In Number of Years

Play advanced to the fourth round in men's singles at the 37th annual tennis tournament for the Western Maryland championships. The tennis club was having one of its best tournaments in years with 47 entries in men's singles and 22 entries in women's singles.

Five players had advanced to the fourth round, with Phil Neff, seeded No. 1 player, and winner of two legs on the men's challenge cup, winning against two opponents. Doyle Royal advanced by defeating Middlecamp in straight sets, 7-5 and 6-4. Royal was seeded No. 4. Jack Eaton, seeded No. 7, also was victorious and Newton Meade, seeded No. 2, of Philadelphia, won his way to the fourth round by easy victories over his early round opponents. Keiles, Earle Brown and Whittaker were others to advance. Meade who has a high ranking in the middle states, was expected to go far in the tournament.

Two matches were played yesterday in the women's singles. Sosie Hublitz, last year's winner, was scheduled to play against her first opponent at 10 o'clock today. Margaret Disco, Martha Stauffer, and Wanda Naylor were the other seeded players in women's events.

Cumberland players were eliminated from the Western Maryland tournament. Maurice Bernstein lost to Earl Brown of Washington. Mrs. Ton van Strien was defeated by Martha Stauffer, Baltimore. Middlekamp, former Cumberlander, lost to Royal in a third round test.

Play was set to continue all day today and tomorrow, depending on the weather, in order that final matches would be played Saturday afternoon.

Awards will be presented to the winners and runners up in all events following the completion of the championship matches Saturday. A tennis dance is scheduled for Saturday night at the National Guard armory. Other social events are being held throughout the week.

Fewer Strip Mines Produce More Coal

While there are fewer strip mines in Maryland coal fields than there were in 1955, their tonnage has increased in the past two years. The report of the Maryland Bureau of Mines for 1957 shows there were only 30 open pits in operation. In 1955 there were 34.

The strip mine tonnage has nearly doubled, however, from 238,569 tons in 1955 to 432,042 tons in 1957. Garrett county's strip mine production has nearly trebled while having the same number of operations for the past three years—14 of them.

The tonnage has gone from 123,998 in 1955 to 356,729 last year. Allegany county dropped from 104,751 tons in 1955 to 72,313 tons last years, along with a decrease of four workings. It was the increase in this county's strip mine tonnage that brought up the state's total to a three-year high of 759,884 tons from the 1955 production figure of 522,908.

Each strip mine operator, under the law must file an application, which must cover four acres of coal to be stripped and be accompanied by a bond representing $100 per acre. The operator also pays a filing fee of $200. The operator files an operations report within 30 days of removing the first overburden. Within six months after it is finished the operator must file a completion report. When all backfill regulations are complied with the director of the bureau of mines issued a release of the bond.

Georges Creek Coal and Land company, 12,000; Old Hampshire Coal company, 7,930 tons; Schell Mining company, Inc., 153,614; Romadale Coal Coroporation, 14,491; J. R. Thrasher Contracting and Stripping company, 38,210. Other strip mine operations for which there were no totals: Burrell Brothers Coal company, Harvey and Evans, North Branch, D. and D. Coal Company, Fairview Coal Company, Aladdin Fuels.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

More About Trade and Tariffs

It is likely that the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act will once again be extended by the Congress. The main point in controversy, however, is whether or not the Act should be specifically extended for 5 years or less. The House of Representatives has already approved a 5-year extension, and hearings have now begun in the Senate.

Lost somehow in all of the debate on this issue is the important fact that most of the governments with which we negotiate have absolutely no guaranteed tenure. Britain and France, our principal trading partners, have regimes which can fall when a single issue is defeated in their parliaments. Though the pending measure calls for the making of agreements over a 5-year period, the actual tariff reductions could extend for 5 years from the date on which the agreement is made. Commitments carrying through a 10-year period, binding 5 Congresses still to be elected, might well be involved.

The process then is not primarily one of reciprocal trade, but a further delegation of the powers of the Congress to the President. This is the nub of the problem. The Constitution assigns to the Congress the fundamental responsibility for tariff and trade matters. It therefore seems mandatory that the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act include some provision for further Congressional action prior to the expiration of 5 years, should circumstances so warrant.

Much also is being said about the escape clause procedure, a safeguard for American industry, as a deterrent to foreign trade. Some urge that it be abolished. In truth, there have been only 87 escape clause proceedings since the program started, and in only 25 of these did the Tariff Commission recommend remedial action. Of these 25, the President took action in only 10 cases. Yet, on the other hand there are few trading nations which have not discriminated against American imports through monetary controls, currency restrictions or import limitations in order to secure other products necessary for their economic life.

Obviously, we must engage in a policy of free trade, fully compatible with the concept of free enterprise and forever mindful that the historic rights of the Congress and the Executive must be carefully preserved. Foreign competition should be permitted and encouraged. But, at the same time, our objective should always be the creation of new commercial frontiers for American products with a resulting increase in gainful employment for our own people.

The first U. S. shot for the moon has been set for August 17.

Review of the Play

Today there are two outstanding American dramatists whose plays depict aspects of the contemporary American scene. These authors are William Inge and Tennessee Williams. The former, a native of Kansas, finds his source of material in the great lively American Middle West. The latter, a Southerner, prefers to develop characters a bit decadent and with plots somewhat on the sordid side. Both, however, have been Pulitzer prize winners. It is perhaps Inge who is contributing the most to the modern American Theatre by his excellently well written and moving dramas.

"Picnic," which might be called a summer romance, is this week's presentation at the Garrett County Playhouse, and is William Inge's Pulitzer and Critics Circle award winning play.

"Picnic," is a raw and vital slice of American life. It is the story of the vagabond stranger who came to the small town in Kansas and whose presence changed the life of all those with whom he came in contact. It is the story of the girl who perhaps loved him too well. It is the people in a small town brought to life by the personality of a man who might be compared to a strong force of nature. Portions of "Picnic" may seem brutal and a bit shocking but withal a theatrical experience which the viewers will not soon forget.

Gene Yell, the producer, and D. G. Buckels, the director, are to be congratulated for the splendid production they have given this prize play. In this reviewer's opinion it is the best thing they have ever done. A well written and well knit play helps to make for a superior performance.

The cast, too, must be commended for an overall splendid job of acting. Perhaps it is the fact that the play is written in the American Middle West idiom that makes it ring true—and which makes it possible to be portrayed with more ease.

In the role of Hal, the vagabond, William Lang is most convincing. This is the fattest role he has had so far this year and he makes the best out of it. He has somewhat underplayed the sexy overtones of the part which tends to make for a better performance. There is just enough swagger and bravura to make his interpretation outstanding.

De Ann Mears, who in previous weeks has played some rather sophisticated and brittle parts, this week gives a complete change of pace performance—and has transformed herself from a most attractive young woman to a frustrated, tired, middle aged school teacher.

William Pappas again turns in an excellent characterization as Howard Bevans, the somewhat indecisive small town "good time Charlie" who finally marries the old maid school teacher. His scene in the third act with Miss Mears was both poignant and tender. It is very pleasing to note the great degree of maturity this fine young actor has achieved since last year. The best to him for the future.

Neil Flannigan, who this week loses the girl, does well in a role that could easily be overacted. This young player can be counted on each week to give a performance that is well studied and true to life.

By now it should be evident, even to the most obtuse, that this week's reviewer was well pleased by the Playhouse presentation of "Picnic". He was, and recommends it highly to all who have not as yet seen it. It should cause the "SRO" sign to be hung out at Deep Creek for the rest of the week.

To Open Florist Shop In Oakland

The store will be located at 20 Alder street in the Matthews building, in the room formerly occupied by the late A. T. Matthews, attorney. It will be known as Jan Florists.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell have taken a course in flower arrangement and floristry in recent weeks. They have observed and interviewed florists in neighboring cities. They attended the Middle Atlantic Florists Association convention and design school at Old Point Comfort, Va., early in July and are members of that association.

Since that time Mrs. Bell has worked with Criswell's Florists of Martinsburg, W. Va., obtaining practical experience in this line of work. Mr. Bell is secretary-treasurer of the Stanley and Kray Coal companies at Crellin and plans to continue to work in that capacity. He has been a resident of this county all his life and Mrs. Bell has been a resident here since her marriage to Mr. Bell sixteen years ago.

Steelworker to Try 16-Mile Lake Swim

Gus Brickner, of Charleroi, Pa., a steelworker and grandfather, who has been frustrated in his attempts to swim the English Channel, will try to conquer Deep Creek Lake this year, he has announced.

Brickner, who swims each New Year's Day, failed to make the distance across the channel last year when his legs became paralyzed, six miles short of the goal. Brickner said he was supposed to try again July 7 but the crisis in France kept him from leaving.

"I picked Deep Creek Lake," Brickner said, "because it's never been conquered. It's cold mountain water."

Brickner will go into the water about 6 a. m., Friday, August 22, in the Green Glade section. He figures the greatest length of Deep Creek Lake is 16 miles and expects the swim will take about eight or nine hours.

Brickner has inspected the course and will train there a week before the test day. At Glendale Bridge, about midway on the he will be faced with heavy winds and choppy water. To get in shape he swims four to 10 hours a day, does a half hour of calisthenics, walks for two hours and eats "everything."

He said he would use a crawl stroke all the time, figuring he never got any rest on his back and wouldn't get anywhere that way. Brickner will be accompanied by his trainers, Roger Gillot and Metro Smereczniak.

Americans exploded in mid-Pacific a nuclear warhead attached to a missile reaching perhaps 50 miles in altitude.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	8	12
Monday	John	1	1-5
Tuesday	Matthew	5	14-16
Wednesday	Ephesians	5	8
Thursday	I Thessalonians	5	5
Friday	Daniel	6	10-23
Saturday	Malachi	3	10

Over the altar of a church in Philadelphia this huge window tells the story of the life of Christ. But it speaks only to those who gaze upon it reverently.

Through the centuries the Holy Bible has revealed to men the Light of the World . . . but only to those who will read it and hear it preached.

Every day a wondrous light seems to shine in the faces of those whose hearts have been touched by God. And amid the turmoil of our worldly confusion we are transfixed again and again by the warm glow of someone's Christian countenance.

These too are windows of God.

This light could shine from our faces as well. That's why the Church seeks us all.

Along The Potomac

With Your Congressman
DeWITT S. HYDE

An incentive for our self-employed and certain professional people to set aside funds for their retirement has been provided by the House. The bill would permit these persons to take deductions from gross income for voluntary contributions to private pension plans - retirement annuities or trust funds. They would, of course, pay an income tax - just as everyone else - when they begin to draw their retirement income.

Treasury officials do not oppose the principle of the bill, although they do object to limiting it to a selected group or taxpayers. They argue it ought to apply to everyone, and, when revenues permit, they woul dsupport such a measure. I agree, but I believe the principle should be established by law. Once that is done, we can work for its liberalization and the gradual inclusion of everyone.

Two items in the House-passed Supplemental Appropriation Bill are of interest to the people of my Congressional District. In the bill are funds which I hope will permit construction of the Garrett County Airport and a $3 million appropriation for planning and other expenses incident to the construction of the new Bureau of Standards buildings at Gaithersburg.

Congress has sent to the President the bill to extend Federal assistance for education in impact areas and two bills of mine have already been signed by the President; one amends the charter of the National Union Insurance Company of Washington and the other authorizes the Commissioners of the District of Columbia to facilitate arrangements for the Shrine convention.

Although no hearings have been scheduled on my bill to permit the citizens of the District of Columbia to vote for President and Vice President, the Committee studying the bill has received two favorable reports on it.

Hearings were held last week on my bill to make Volunteer Fire Departments and Rescue Squads eligible for donated surplus property.

We are approaching "fair time" in the 6th District and I would like to call your attention to the county fairs in Hagerstown and McHenry: August 11-16; Cumberland: August 18-23; and Gaithersburg: August 19-23.

Government

Lesson for August 10, 1958

WHEN a preacher tells the truth about liquor from the pulpit, that isn't news. But when a preacher in a New Jersey church took out a bottle of liquor from the pulpit, and told his congregation where he got it, that was news. It was a college town and there were laws closely regulating the sale of liquor, only the police paid little attention to the laws and the public paid rather less. Preachers aren't supposed to know where illicit liquor can be had; but this one did. He made things so hot for the police department that finally he was offered the job of mayor—and he took it. His congregation gave him a leave of absence, and he went to work trying to get the laws enforced. His enemies made it hard for him. He himself was "tailed" (as the detective stories put it) day and night; if he drove one mile above the legal speed limit, some policeman was right there to give him a ticket. But he outlived the embarrassments and he outfought the underworld and he showed that you can have good government if you want it. And then he went back to his preaching again. People listened more than they used to, for now they knew this was a man.

Dr. Foreman

Politics and Religion

A vice president of the United States stepped off the train in a big city. Even a vice president rates at least one reporter, and so there was one there. He asked the V.P. his views on a matter in the public eye at the time, but the high official did not oblige. "I came here," he said, "to speak to a men's Bible class. Politics and religion don't mix." "Politics and religion don't mix" is what every shady character in or on the fringes of politics would like us all to believe. Men who view public office as a chance to build up their private fortunes are only too glad if the church people will look the other way. Religion that is worth anything, religion that resembles and is drawn from the religion of the Bible, is interested in political questions. We cannot escape from government of some kind.

Eyes to See

Norman Thomas, a Presbyterian who was a sort of perpetual and never successful candidate for President, years ago, was talking to a room full of students for the ministry. "Don't use your pulpit for a political platform," he said. "If you feel called and impelled to go into politics, get out of the ministry at least for the time being, and do your fighting in the political arena." Mr. Thomas was warning against a real danger. It is true that what a minister is trying to do, and the way he tries to do it, are different from what (let us say) a good congressman is trying to do and the way he tries to do it. It is also true that most ministers are not trained in political science and still less fitted for the sort of scramble that most legislative bodies are. Nevertheless: the minister, and the church generally, ought to be able to see the moral issues involved in public affairs, problems and decisions. Most "political" questions, local or national, affect human beings; and whatever affects human beings is a concern for all Christians.

In There Fighting

The church, as an organization, should never turn itself into a political pressure group. A church no better than a political party need not be surprised if it receives no more respect than a political party. Nevertheless Christian people, helped by their ministers and their churches, ought to be, and are, in there fighting for better government, juster laws, better law enforcement. In our Congress and Senate there are many convinced and committed Christians. At a great Christian men's convention last year the most effective speaker (many believed) was none of the visiting spell-binding preachers, but the Christian governor of the state. Every branch of government can use, and sorely needs, Christian men and women who will try to apply in public affairs the sturdy faith that is in them.

PHILIP WYLIE STATES WHY WOMEN GO FOR HEELS

Philip Wylie speaks his mind and tells why women go for heels. And then—there are still some other women who are genuinely in love with the heels of their choice.

Delores Rosalie Robinson
Swanton, Maryland
vs.
Robin Kenneth Robinson
No. 4861 Equity In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The Bill states:

That she was married to the said Robin Kenneth Robinson on the 14th day of September, 1952, in Garrett County, Maryland, with whom she resided until the 20th day of September, 1952, at which time the said defendant deserted the said plaintiff while they were residing in Garrett County, Maryland; that although the conduct of your oratrix toward her said husband has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Robin Kenneth Robinson, without just cause or reason abandoned and deserted her and has declared his intention to live with her no longer, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months, is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that one child was born of said marriage, to-wit, Dennis William Robinson, age five years, who resides with said plaintiff; that your oratrix is a resident of Garrett County, Maryland, and has resided therein all of her life, but the whereabouts of said defendant is unknown to your oratrix.

The bill then prays for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii of the plaintiff from the defendant, for general relief and for an order of publication.

It is thereupon this 23rd day of July, 1958, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiff by having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 15th day of August, 1958, giving notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, warning him to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 30th day of August, 1958, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Children's BIBLE STORY

(This story is based on Genesis 25)

HELLO BOYS AND GIRLS! Have you ever seen twins who didn't look alike? Most twins, as you know, can hardly be told apart ever by their parents. In today's story, however, we will learn about twin boys, Jacob and Esau, who were totally different in looks, in disposition, in character, as well as in their outlook on life. Esau, the older boy, was self-willed. He didn't like to be corrected or restrained in any way. Day by day he developed unlovely traits of character, for all he thought about was the present, and how he could please himself. He gave little thought to the future. He chose the life of a hunter, for he liked excitement and the wild freedom of the chase. He was his father's pet, "Because he (his father) did eat of his venison (deer's meat).

Jacob, the younger brother, was his mother's favorite, because of his kind, thoughtful helpfulness around the house. He preferred to stay at home and help his mother with her heavy responsibilities, which was a great comfort to her. His affections were deep and strong.

Esau being the older, was entitled to the birthright, which included not only the inheritance of the father's wealth, but also the spiritual leadership of his family; and from his posterity the Messiah was to come. However, to obtain the birthright he had to put God first in his life and seek to do God's will at all times in all things. But Esau was not religiously inclined, and, therefore, did not care for the birthright. Jacob, on the other hand, loved to serve and obey God, and constantly wished that the birthright somehow would fall to him. But instead of letting God work things out, Jacob thought of ways and means of getting the birthright away from Esau. His opportunity came one day when Esau came home from the chase all tired out and hungry. He asked Jacob for a dish of lentils that he was preparing. Here was his chance, Jacob thought. So he said to Esau: Sell me this birthright." Esau felt so faint from hunger that he imagined he was going to die, so he answered: "What profit shall this birthright do to me?" And to satisfy his momentary desire for food, Esau agreed to the deal. The Bible says that he "despised his birthright."

Do you know, boys and girls, that you also have a birthright? What is your birthright, you ask? It is your share of God's eternal riches which He is even now preparing for those who love Him. Jesus said: "In my Father's house are many mansions...I go to prepare a place for you." No artist can picture that glory land, no pen can describe the beauties of that inheritance, for the Bible tells us: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him." Shall we, like Esau, foolishly sell our glorious inheritance for some forbidden momentary gain or pleasure?

THE REPUBLICAN

Register and Vote .....

We used a cartoon last week quoting some words of President Eisenhower: "Be sure to register now and vote on election day, November 4. Your vote won't register—if you don't. The right to vote is the ultimate guarantee of liberty and freedom to people throughout the world."

We wish there was some way to imprint this on the minds of people in indelible ink. Our Sunday School lesson last week was on justice in government and we were told that order in government was something of God. The class discussed what a common citizen could do to assure justice in government.

It was agreed that people must first take an active part in elections and that a person of course must be a registered voter in order to be active; that they must go to the polls voluntarily without having to be coaxed by compelling someone else to drive him to the polls; that a person must never believe that his vote doesn't count; that it is the responsibility of voters to elect to office the highest type people available.

Our Christian task is to work in government and with those who govern that both the institution and its administrators may be useful instruments ofGod's will.

It was decided that our job is not only a civic responsibility but also a spiritual one. Would that all people might realize this.

People eligible to register who have not already done so may do this at the Board of Election Supervisors office until Tuesday, September 23. After that date the books will be closed to new registrations until fifteen days after the general election in November.

So once again may we stress the importance of being a registered voter; and the great importance of exercising that privilege of casting your vote. It is the indifferent and disinterested voter who elects the majjority of the rascals now in office.

Problem of Completing Flood Control Project Is Aired

Much interest in the need for flood control to safeguard the properties of a number of Oakland business places was evidenced at a meeting last Thursday evening in the City Council chamber, but just what was to be done about the matter was still undecided.

Some twenty-five business men and other interested persons gathered upon invitation of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, to discuss the proposed flood control project that was approved several years ago but which has been held up since that time for lack of easements for property which would be involved in dam construction.

All of the proposed dams would hold a certain amount of water but would be constructed mainly to hold back large quantities of water in case of floods from continued rains. Under normal conditions the property involved could be used by the landowners for pasture land, crop land, etc., just so no buildings were constructed.

In calling the meeting to order Mayor Russell Smith said that he and the council felt they had exhausted all of their resources in attempting to get the consent of the 100 or more property owners involved and needed assistance. They said they felt it was also the responsibility of the business people who had been affected by floods throughout the past years.

During the discussion it was brought out that some of the landowners were outspoken in their opposition. Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, president of the town council said that a group had met with the Mitchell heirs, and that they were not interested, would neither sign an easement nor would they sell. The Mitchell heirs have property that would be involved in proposed dam No. 1. They cited the Winters brothers as being uninterested in providing easements necessary for proposed dam No. 3. They also reported they had received no response whatever from Earl Wonderly, Anna Lower, Otis Cuppett, Earl Harsh, Boyd Friend, Elbert Hershman or Claude Beckman about providing easements for proposed dam No. 5.

Walter W. Dawson reported that property owners of proposed dam No. 2 would cooperate and that

Authorities Seek Elderly Person

Authorities have been looking for an elderly man ever since last Saturday when he attempted to gain entrance to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Greely O. Janoske, near Red House.

According to Gloria Sterringer, 15, baby sitter for the Janoskes, the man carried a gun. She heard him trying doors and thought at first it was the dog. Then she spied him through a window. He appeared to have long hair.

The baby sitter called the Janoskes and her parents and the parents notified police, but by the time the authorities arrived the man had disappeared.

Officers thought they had a man cornered Monday night, perhaps the same person, when someone saw a light in the Backbone Mountain Inn. A search of the premises, however, failed to reveal any stranger.

Jury Awards $3,000 In Condemnation

A Garrett county circuit court jury awarded the Pattisons and others $3,000 in a condemnation proceedings argued before Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley on Monday.

The suit concerned the coal and mineral rights underlying three pieces of ground on which the new state road between Bloomington and Deer Park is to be located. Some 17 acres were involved in the three parcels.

The State Roads commission had never offered a price for the coal and mineral rights but contended that no more than 64 tons of coal were involved. The Pattisons contended through their attorneys that some 45,000 tons of coal were affected.

Anybody Lost These?

Has anybody lost a swarm of bees or a calico cat? Both may be obtained or recovered at the property of Mrs. B. H. Sincell, on Second street, Oakland. The bees have swarmed in a plum tree in back of Mrs. Sincell's home. It measures about 18 inches long and 8 to 10 inches in diameter.

Sue Hershberger New Farm Queen

Miss Sue Hershberger, 16, who will be a senior at Northern High school this fall, was named farm queen of Garrett county in the annual contest held Tuesday evening at the Garrett County Fair. Miss Hershberger is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hershberger, of Grantsville.

Second place winner in the contest was Judy Buckel, of Bittinger, while Charlene Lee of Grantsville, was named third. Others competing in the contest were Nancy Durst, Ruth Stanton, and Sheila Warnick.

The event was sponsored by the Associated Women of the Garrett County Farm Bureau. The winner will compete in the state contest to be held at the State Fair at Timonium, on August 30.

Miss Hershberger is active in the Methodist church in her community, being a member of the choir, assistant organist, Sunday School pianist and a member of the Youth Fellowship. She serves as a life guard and is a member of the Girl Scout organization where she won the best camper award.

At Northern High school she is a member of the band and also plays the accordion. She is state historian of the Future Nurses of Maryland. Miss Hershberger also is an accomplished tap dancer and participates in the Dixon revue in Cumberland.

Miss Hershberger will appear on television in Baltimore today where all county farm queen winners are being asked to participate in a program. At this time she will meet Gregory Peck, movie actor, in person. She planned to return in time for the farm parade this evening at the fair.

Injunction Case To Get Airing Today

Eighteen witnesses have been called in the trial scheduled to get under way this morning in the Circuit court, wherein Browning, Inc., grocery and hardware store in Oakland, seeks an injunction against the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, to prevent the construction of curbing along several hundred feet of the Browning property in front of the store.

Browning declared in his petition that there had not been a curb there for several years, that the curbing was removed by order of the council and state officials, that other business places in the area are not curbed and declared the council had singled out Browning's to "discourage and hinder" business.

He further claimed that route 219 was part of the state highway system and that the council was without legal authority to order such curbing.

In the answer of the Mayor and Council filed July 15, the city declared there had been a curb in front of part of the property and that the curbing had been removed by Mr. Browning upon request to the council. The city further declared the curb would not hinder access to the property.

They said the action was a valid exercise of the police power and control by a municipal government and that the property had not been transferred to the state of Maryland for use by the roads commission except insofar as maintenance of the street was concerned.

The mayor and council claim that a traffic hazard has existed for a considerable period and that it was becoming increasingly dangerous.

Called into the case by the town were Corporal Sam Conrad, of the Maryland State Police, and policemen Leslie Baker and Henry Arnold.

Browning, through his attorney Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., Westernport, has summoned Arthur Savage, Willard Elliott, Floyd B. Leighton, C. E. Sharps, Carlton Callis, Willis Shaffer, Ralph Pritts, Ray Teets, garage and motor equipment operators; and Mayor Russell Smith and all members of the city council, Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, Eugene Flinn, Robert Maroney, John Woit, Carroll Miller, and Henry W. McComas.

Teaching Positions For 1958-59 Term Have Been Filled

With the appointment of two new teachers and the transfer of two, all vacancies in the teaching profession have been filled, in preparation for the opening of the 1958-59 school term on Tuesday, September 2.

The Board of Education, in regular session on Tuesday, announced the following changes:

Resignation of Joseph Loreti, who had been transferred from Northern to Southern High, was accepted and appointment of Robert P. Jackson, teacher in Harford county for the past two years confirmed. Mr. Jackson will teach chemistry and physics at Southern High school.

Appointment of Mrs. Charleen Dryfield, graduate of Fairmont State Teachers college, was confirmed. She will be assigned to Accident elementary, Mrs. Wonderly will be transferred from Accident to first grade at Crellin, and Miss Mona Lou Evans will be transferred from Crellin to Southern High school where she will instruct in physical education.

Williard L. Hawkins, county this year was smaller than at any time for many years.

Approves Construction

The board approved the use of state school construction fund for the building of a general education room for the Center street school. The firm of Altman and Altman, Uniontown, Pa., was employed to design the building. The schedule calls for completion of the addition when school opens in September, 1959.

The board also approved the following changes in bus routes for the coming year: extension of Stuart Rice's bus to Nicely road; extension of W. P. Construction Of Band Room At Standstill At Present

Work on the new band room at Southern High school is virtually at a standstill at present due to lack of steel, Lawrence Hardesty, contractor, said he had made every effort to get steel shipped. He was in Pittsburgh Wednesday hoping to find the cause of delay in shipment.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said the building could be completed in about thirty days provided weather conditions are favorable and building materials are on hand.

When the new band room is completed it will be open for public inspection. At the same time the public will be invited to visit the new offices of the Board of Education in the Annex building, which have been in use since June 15.

TOP MONEY WINNER—Probably winning more premium money than anyone else at the Garrett County Fair this week is John Wildesen, shown above with two of his entries in the livestock classification. On the left is "Midget" and on the right is "Stormy." That's John in the middle. It is expected that when the total is in John will approach or equal his record for 1957, when he came off with close to $200 in prize money. Shot Aimed at Dog Fatally Wounds Boy

Donnie Eugene Bowser, Corinth, died shortly after having been struck in the head by a .22 caliber rifle bullet. The shot had been fired at a stray dog by Ersel J. Shaffer, on whose farm young Bowser was visiting, according to Preston county officers.

Although accidential death has been ruled, a warrant charging voluntary manslaughter will be issued for Shaffer, officials said. Shaffer has signed statements concerning the shooting and acknowledging that he fired the shots. The youth died about 7:15 p. m.

Bowser was said to be a frequent visitor to the Shaffer farm, located about two miles from Corinth, just west of the Maryland line on West Virginia route 7.

Shaffer told the sheriff's office in Kingwood, West Virginia police and the coroner that the boy had told him about a dog in the yard. Shaffer said that he had stepped to the edge of the porch, seen the dog also, and had gone into the house for his rifle. Returning with the rifle, Shaffer said he came off the porch and fired at the dog, missing. He fired again and the dog dropped. When he went over to the dog he discovered that the boy also had been hit.

The man told officials that the youth was still breathing. He said he immediately rushed to the telephone and called for a doctor and an ambulance. Although quite a distance to the nearest phone, Shaffer said the boy was still breathing when he returned. He said he put Bowser's head on a pillow and did all he could, but when he returned from a trip to the house for water, the breathing had stopped.

No autopsy was deemed necessary. The body was taken to a funeral home in Terra Alta.

Weather Is Kind

Although there were a number of hours of rainfall during the past week, the weather was kind to activities.

Although rain fell Thursday and Friday night, it did not interiere seriously with the annual tournament. Play in all events continued without interruption.

Weather was clear Saturday and Sunday but some rain fell again on Monday. Temperature was in the upper 80's Tuesday and Wednesday, with a sprinkling of water Wednesday night. Today began in a very unsettled manner with a thunder storm brewing. There was hope that it would dispel and that fair weather would continue for the balance of the week.

Forger Sentenced In Two Separate Counts

A confessed forger, Joseph Lewis Cupplo, Jr., was sentenced to four years in the Maryland House of Correction on two charges, in the Circuit court here Tuesday, Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley presided at the trial.

Cupplo who had been in the county jail for the past several weeks, waived his right to indictment by the grand jury and asked for an immediate trial.

He pleaded guilty to the second count of two indictments. One was for forging a check of $81 at the Fair, and one for forging a check for $81 at Rolyan's Hardware. Judge Fraley sentenced him to two years in each case, the sentences to run consecutively and not concurrently.

Another person charged with forgery in two cases was found not guilty.' He was Okey Powell who was accused of forging a check for $15 at Englander Pharmacy, and a check for $25 at Smouse's Store. The clerks at both stores testified they were unable to identify the person. The check passed at Englanders was made out to Junior Powell and was signed by Bill Powell. The check passed at Smouse's store was made out Buck Cole and was signed by Junior Powell.

2nd Annual Fair Is In Full Swing

County fair officials said the show was much improved over the previous year. They considered the exhibits as outstanding particularly in the livestock division, flower and food exhibits and in the arrangement of the various booths.

There was a total of 342 exhibitors as compared with 245 for last year, indicating the growth of interest in this annual event.

Tuesday was Farm bureau day with judging of everything except livestock. Wednesday was children's day along with adult dairy judging, 4-H and F.F.A. dairy judging, and the first annual pet show.

Today is farm and city day which will feature a parade of floats, livestock, novelties, etc., at 7 o'clock. Prizes are being offered. Following the parade Tussey's Mountain boys will present a Hillbilly show.

Tomorrow, Civic club day, will feature a tractor drivers' contest of 4-H and F. F. A. boys. Royer's Wild West Show will be presented at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Saturday will conclude the week's events with the Royer Wild West Show being presented again at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Officials reported good attendance for the first three days of the fair with interest among the spectators and exhibitors high. Larger crowds are expected for the weekend.

Funbeam's attractions are on the grounds all week and there is a free aerial exhibition each evening by the Aerial Earls.

Mothers of Athletes Form Booster Club

Tentative plans were made this past week to form a Mothers' Booster Club for the athletes of Southern High School.

At a meeting to which mothers of football players were invited, Dick Travis, Athletic Director and Kenneth Johns, principal, outlined proposals for forming such an organization.

Mothers present were enthusiastic about the proposed organization Mr. Johns said, and indicated that another meeting would be called later to elect officers.

Meanwhile, plans were made to hold a bake sale at the West Maryland Power Company on Saturday, August 26. Proceeds from this sale are to be used to help pay insurance for boys participating in football this year. Total cost of the insurance is $10.00 per boy.

Anyone desiring to contribute baked goods is asked to contact Mrs. Samuel Butler, DEerfield 4-3559.

Pre-School Meetings Are Scheduled By Board of Education

Plans for three pre-school meetings of the Garrett County Board of Education and staff have been completed. All cafeteria workers will assemble at the Dennett Road School for a two day workshop August 25-26. This meeting is under the direction of Robert Martin, Administrative Assistant for the local school board, and Miss Eleanor Weagly, State Supervisor of School Lunch Programs. The program for the two days will be given over to such practical problems as management, cafeteria accounting, food purchasing, menus, use of surplus commodities, and above all, how to operate in the black with the reduction in surplus commodities and the increase in prices of foods. What to do with the heavy demands for free lunches is also an increasing problem for all school cafeterias. All cafeterias must be self supporting. No county funds of any kind go into their operation.

The second conference on schedule before the opening of school is an all day's meeting of principals and office staff Wednesday, August 27. This meeting will be held in the new offices of the school board, and will deal with discussions of such matters as:

1. Most efficient way to use the school library.
2. Good practices in the teaching of spelling.
3. Study of last spring's test results in the fields of math and U. S. history.
4. Types of scheduling for the daily school program in order to insure full time allotment for all basic subjects.
5. How to step up the scope of subject matter covered in all basic subject areas during a given year.
6. Promotion of greater interest in Adult Education throughout the county.
7. Study ways for school improvement.
8. Important matters of school policies and administration.

The third meeting will be held Thursday, August 28, at Southern High School and attendance on the part of all teachers is required. Dr. R. G. Steinmeyer, prominent head of the department of political science from the University of Maryland, will be the principal speaker. A number of group meetings will be held during the day headed by supervisors and selected principals and teachers. All teachers will report to their respective schools Friday, August 29 for a day of preparation for the opening of school Tuesday, September 2, 9 A. M.

Neff Retires Tennis Bowl In Tournament

Phil Neff, a government attorney and Washington area tennis veteran defeated Newton Meade, of Philadelphia 1-6, 7-5, 4-6, 6-2, for the men's singles championship last Saturday in the Western Maryland tournament at Mountain Lake Park.

His victory in the 37th annual tourney was Neff's third, giving him possession of the Carr Memorial bowl.

Meade, regarded as one of the stronger players in Philadelphia competition, fell victim to Neff's waiting game. By the fourth set, although trailing 2-1, Neff had worn his man down and made him easy prey for his wide range of chops, drop shots and twists. Meade won two matches on Friday to make his way into the finals.

Sosie Hublitz, of Washington, repeated her performance of last year and won the women's singles event, defeating Margaret Disco, Forest Hills, N. Y., 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.

In a men's doubles semi-finals match Jack Eaton and Edward Alcorn, Pittsburgh, defeated Frank Hartz and Ralph Whittaker, Richmond, 6-8, 6-4, and 6-3, but lost out in the finals to Col. Louis Wetherall and Ralph Adair of Washington, 6-4, 9-7. In advancing to the semi finals the Alcorn pair outlasted Earle Brown and Jack Sloat 28-26 to win the longest doubles match in the history of the championships. They won the first set 12-10 but dropped the next to their Washington opponents before winning the 54-game third set.

Sosie Hublitz and Janet Thomas, Pittsburgh, defeated Carla Daniels and Mrs. C. Nagorski, Bethesda 6-4, 6-2, to take the women's doubles tinals.

All-Stars Receive Two County 4-H'ers

Two Garrett County 4-H'ers were elected to the All Stars at the annual Club Week ceremonies held at College Park. They are Judy Buckel, Bittinger, and Susan Bowman, McHenry. They were taken into the society at the consecration service August 8.

The All Star chapter in Maryland was organized in 1921. Each year the chapter selects for membership a few young men and women, active in 4-H leadership, widely known over the state for their personal character, high ideals, unselfish service, and ability as leaders, as demonstrated by their personality, initiative, sense of duty, and willingness to acquire leadership qualities.

In the Club Week consecration service, members of the All-Stars file in slowly, bearing lighted candles and form a large circle. The All-Stars leave the circle to lead the newly elected person to the "Big Chief".

The 1958 Inter State All-Star conference will be held in Tennessee. Members from eight states will take part. The states to be represented will be New Hampshire, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia. The event will take place August 14 through August 17 in the Great Smoky Mountains.

Maryland All-Star conference will be held October 4-5 at Carvel Hall, Annapolis.

Flood Control

A committee of volunteers agreed to present the matter to landholders. Volunteers included Floyd Leighton, B. I. Gonder, Edward Smouse, A. G. Gortner, Harold Harned, John McIntire, Carlton Callis, Merle Willard and Thomas Cain.

It was explained that six dams were planned originally. These were to be located as follows:

No. 1 dam, back of the hospital.

No. 2 dam, Casteel property west of U. S. route 219.

No. 3 dam, Winters farm at 8th street.

No. 5 dam, Earl Wonderly farm.

No. 6 dam, Mt. Lake Park on Broadford.

No. 7 dam, Deer Park, across from Ball Park.

Dams Nos. 1 and 2 were placed first on the list in importance and William W. Nace, soil conservationist, stated that it was cheaper to build them together. William Rutledge, soil conservationist from the regional office, said he felt sure that money for structures 1 and 2, and probably No. 3 would be available immediately through the Agricultural Conservation department of the federal government.

Dr. Baumgartner pointed out that the land of the Mitchell heirs would not be involved in a permanent pool; and that water would get on this land only occasionally. The land is presently pasture land. Failure to get easements here would be fatal to dam No. 1, Baumgartner said.

Nace remarked that in all undertakings of this kind, the securing of easements was one of the main and difficult problems. Money is available from government for construction of the flood control projects, but no money is available for easements from this source. There is so much money available each year for projects of this kind and communities that get easements will get the money.

Originally this was a cost sharing program whereby the government would furnish some $300,000 while the Mayor and County Commissioners each pledged work to the amount of $20,000 in stream clearance and other work. This is no longer required, Mr. Smith stated. An channel work in the Little Youghiogheny river has been discarded as unnecessary to the project.

The work plan was submitted to Congress in February, 1956, and since its approval by Congress local persons named by the town council have been working on the problem of securing easements from property owners which would make it possible to construct the dams that would hold back water only during flood danger, but without any apparent success.

The town was given five years in which to complete its part of the work. Two of the five years already have passed and the government is holding some $643,000 which has already been appropriated for the local project, but which cannot be spent until all easements are secured.

Involved in dam No. 1 are the Mitchell heirs, Lowell Loomis, the County Commissioners, Carson Miller and Harry Bittinger. Involved in dam No. 2 are mostly the Casteel heirs. Involved in dam No. 3 are the Winters brothers, Cecil Miller, Wilbur Close, Richard Glotfelty, William Glotfelty, Emroy Bolden estate, and Carl Frazee. Names of those involved in dam No. 5 were named earlier in this article. Involved in dam No. 6 are A. D. Naylor, John Shaw, Erving Wolf, Arlington Fries, Homer Bennett and James Gower. Involved in dam No. 7 are Claude Hinebaugh, Etta Teets, Everett DeBerry and Edward Helbig.

Possibly 10 acres would be affected on dam one at high tide with the permanent pool being on the Casteel property. There would be 10 acres of permanent pool on dam No. 5, 21 acres of permanent water on Dam No. 6, and 11 acres of permanent pool on dam 7.

It was stated at the meeting that reasonable control for the town of Oakland during high water could be maintained if dams 1 and 2 were built. They felt no other location was possible in the case of dam No. 1. It was emphasized that benefits rather than liability were involved in all of the six dams, and that it was up to these volunteers to persuade the property owners that the granting of easements would not harm them to any extent but would provide protection for the town of Oakland.

Purposes of the workshop are the evaluation of the IMPA program, the identification of new objectives in the light of recent changes, and the training of new leaders among professional personnel.

Approximately 70 educators from the state will attend, according to H. Orville Berwick, field service representative of the Maryland State Teachers' association, the sponsoring organization.

Miss Viola Broadwater, member of the Grantsville school faculty, member of the Public Relations committee for the county teacher association, and consultant for NEA commission on defense, will serve as a recorder and represent this county. The other four teachers from this area will be from Bruce High school, Westernport, Allegany county.

4-H Club Members Had Big Time At Maryland Club Week

Over 1160 members of 4-H Clubs and leaders of local 4-H Clubs had a big time at the big pow-wow of 4-H'ers at the University of Maryland last week. The group included twelve Garrett County boys and girls and three of their leaders.

Two state winners of the public speaking contest were chosen. They are: Jerry Walls, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Walls, Bel Air, and Marlene Clark, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Clark, Cumberland. Their 4-H public speaking records will be considered nationally. Marlene won a set of silver, and Jerry, a watch. Ralph Buckel, Jr. of Bittinger represented the western shore district in the contest.

Another highlight of Club Week was the Dress Revue contest. Sixty garments were registered for the event Friday. They say there's only a "sprinkling" of the chemise. This statement made by a committee member verifies the sack is sacked in 4-H fashion too. Sue Porter, one of the entrants from Garrett county, was among the top ten in the contest.

Friday, the International Farm Youth Exchange program was emphasized in celebration of the 10th year of IFYE. "Youth Beyond A Dream" was presented in pageant form. There were 35 chorus members. . . . . all 4-H'ers and 11 speaking, song and dance personnel all 4-H'ers.

Twenty new assistant extension agents and extension trainees were in the midst of the fun, fellowship, and work of the 36th annual State 4-H Club Week, helping guide the Club week program.

Miss Lantz Bride of Richard Jackson

Miss Carolyn June Lantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Lantz, of Oakland, became the bride of Richard Wightman Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Raymond Jackson, of Wilmington, Del., last Saturday, August 9, at 2 p. m. The double ring ceremony was performed in St. Paul's Methodist church in Oakland, with the Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor, officiating. The altar was decorated with palms, white gladioli and white carnations in a candlelight setting.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white imported Italian embroidered organdy with fitted bodice and tiny cap sleeves. The Sabrina neckline was outlined in the embroidery. The full skirt, which ended in a cathedral train, carried out the motif of the bodice with wide bands of self-embroidery. Her finger-tip French illusion veil flowed from a tiara of tiny seed pearls. She wore nylon embroidered gloves and her only jewelry was a seed pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. She carried her mother's white prayer book to which was attached a white orchid nestled in baby's breath and white satin streamers tied in lovers' knots.

Mrs. John E. Castilow, Oakland, was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon, embroidered in pale yellow, with a yellow taffeta cummerbund ending in a bow at the back. Her matching ballerina hat had a filigree of seed pearls, tiny flowers and a nose tip veil. She wore white gloves and carried a colonial bouquet of white and pink roses, white and pink carnations, blue delphinium and ivy.

Bridesmaids were Miss Charlotte E. Hill, Ocean View, Del., and Miss Joyce Mitchell, Wilmington. Their ballerina length gowns were of white nylon embroidered in nile green with nile green cummerbunds ending in a bow at the back. They too wore gloves and carried bouquets identical to the matron of honor.

Junior Bridesmaid was Miss Patricia Ann Castilow, and flower girl was Miss Marla Castilow, nieces of the bride. Their dresses were of white nylon with full skirts ending in four tiers of lace. They were fashioned along princess lines with tiny puff sleeves. The junior bridesmaid's colonial bouquet was a miniature replica of the matron of honor. The flower girl carried a basket of assorted rose petals. They wore matching tiaras of demure sweetheart roses and white gloves.

Stewart B. Jackson, Wilmington, was best man for his brother. Ushers were Edward M. Hobbs, Jr., and William C. Lantz, Wilmington, the latter a brother of the bride.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Merritt Feather.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the Mt. Lake hotel. The bride's table was decorated with white roses and silver candelabra. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The base of the cake was surrounded with rose petals and ivy.

Mrs. Donald R. Lantz, Frederick, served the cake. Miss Jeanette Hinebaugh, Willard, O., and Mrs. Betty Foy, Crellin, nieces of the bride were hostesses at the punch bowls. Mrs. Robert Orr presided at the tea table.

The bride chose a mint green linen chemise with matching jacket and beige accessories and a white orchid to wear on her wedding trip through the Blue Ridge mountains and the Eastern shore of Maryland. Upon returning they will reside in Wilmington.

The bride is a graduate of Southern High school, Oakland and the University of Delaware, class of 1958. Mr. Jackson is a graduate of P. S. DuPont High school, the University of Delaware, class of 1957, and is a member of Theta Chi social fraternity. He served in the U. S. army and is currently teaching school in New Castle, Del.

Among the out of town guests were Miss Carol Hespenheide, York, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. James Hinebaugh, Willard, O.; Mrs. Stewart Jackson, Mrs. Peter Genereaux, John D. Hewlett, Wilmington; Mr and Mrs. James Mitchell, New Castle, Del. Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Lantz, Frederick; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Murphy, Ellerslie; Mr. and Mrs. James Hinebaugh, Jr., Willard, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelley, Ellamore, W. Va.; Mrs. David Hardesty and daughter, Mrs. Herndon Wilkinson, Keyser, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Staron, Four States, W. Va.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Rocks and a relentless sea . . . stone sentinels . . . waves broken into misty foam . . . then caves and clefts and briny pools of rounded sculpture.

Who wins the endless fray? Today it may be the rocks, tomorrow the sea! Yet man goes on building his cities, tilling his soil, believing in his God.

Is not this the parable of all life? Time, like an ocean, floods relentlessly over the shores of life. Today sure! Tomorrow uncertain. But we go on building and tilling—and if we understand the parable—believing in the One whose love and power control today and tomorrow.

There is Something in life more certain than the rocky coast . . . more persistent than the crashing wave. It is the call of God to faith. It is the firm, sure Message of the Church to a battered, changing world!

Nice Catches Being Made

A report by C. C. Edwards of the fish management division of the State Game and Inland Fish commission revealed that some nice catches were made in Deep Creek Lake.

Large bass, walleye and pickerel have been hooked. Some of the yellow perch have been between 12 and 16 inches in length.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Leviticus 19:33-37; Deuteronomy 23:7-8; 24:14-15; Matthew 9:9-13; John 4:7-9, 39-41; Galatians 3:26-28.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 10:10-18.

Minorities

Lesson for August 17, 1958

THE Bible is a man's book. But that's not all. The Bible is a property-owner's book, it is a book for the "dominant classes" of society. This does not mean it is not for everybody. But the fact is, the laws and the letters and indeed most of the Bible, you will discover when you read it carefully, is addressed to people who are in positions of authority. It is all the more remarkable, therefore, and a sign that the Bible is inspired by something besides wishes of the dispossessed—all the more remarkable that the Bible writers speak out clearly on behalf of the depressed classes, the little people, the people who could not speak for themselves, the people who probably could neither read nor write and of course had no Bibles themselves.

Dr. Foreman

The Stranger

In ancient times everybody belonged somewhere. People did not move about from city to city, from farm to farm, as they do here. In America, on the average, every family moves once every five years. In ancient Palestine a family would stay in one locality for 500 years, wars and pestilence permitting. Strangers were not (as with us often) interesting people, to be invited out and "cultivated." Strangers were under suspicion—what would a man be doing so far from home? The strangers in any land were a voiceless, voteless, disorganized minority. Yet God commanded the Hebrew majorities to remember that they themselves were strangers once in Egypt, and to take special care of strangers in their own land.

The Hired Man

Some hired men are stable members of the community. They contribute to its welfare in various ways besides doing their jobs well. But there are workers who drift about, sometimes in large numbers. Last winter many thousands of migrant workers were stranded in heatless sheds in Florida's sensational cold spell. Their work was gone, they had no place to live, no hope of earning anything until crops farther north began to ripen. Such workers are another minority group. They do not stay in any one place long enough even for the children to get started in school. If one of them dies it will be hardly mentioned in the paper. Whatever happens to them, many respectable people think, "Oh, it's only one of those tramp workers."

Does your community give any kind of recognition or help to migrant workers? Do cotton-pickers, bean-pickers, summer hired help, have any place to go in your community? Do Christians have any responsibilities for them?

The Disrespectables

Everybody is a sinner. But some people are outrageous sinners, and they are another minority. A pessimist might say that you have to be a pretty outrageous sinner to be worse-than-average enough to be noticed. Such were the tax-collectors or "publicans" of the New Testament. They were "bloodsuckers" and everybody knew it. For a present-day Christian, the minority corresponding to these "sinners" would be the classes the church generally gives up, washes its hands of, forgets: boys in reformatories, for example, men in the penitentiary, ex-convicts. Jesus was accused of having too much to do with such people. Is your church more like Jesus, or more like the Pharisees, in its attiude toward them?

No Lines Drawn

We have minorities outside the church. What about minorities inside it? Does the church have second-class members as certain states and countries have second-class citizens? St. Paul mentions what were then the sharpest lines dividing men from men—Jew from Gentile, slave from free man, male from female; and he tells us such lines do not belong in the Christian church. They should never be drawn. Any church setting limits or qualifications to its membership which were not drawn by Christ and his apostles, raises at once a fair question: Is this any longer a Christian church?

Commissioners' Meeting

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the Board of County Commissioners for Garrett County, Maryland, will be in session for the transaction of all routine business that may properly come before them on

MONDAY and TUESDAY
AUGUST 18 and 19

By order of the Board.
MRS. VIRGINIA FIZER,
Clerk.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my son, Simon R. Hoover, and his son Harold Hoover, who passed away July 15, 1952, also my dear husband, Isaac N. Bittinger, who left this life August 14, 1955.

Only God knows how I miss you all
But as the years go by I sometimes
Think how lonesome I am without you
But God knows best, He is my only friend
In time of need, I know he will be with
All till we meet on that beautiful shore

Sadly missed by
MRS. EFFIE M. BITTINGER
—Adv. 1t

IN MEMORIAM

Randall Eugene Lowdermilk, August 14, 1957.

With such abiding love
Has found the wondrous shining path,
Up to his home above.
Where loved ones but await,
For us to share their happiness
Beyond the heavenly gate.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 10 of Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and the State of Maryland to the plaintiff in this proceeding:

ALL the coal and other minerals in and under Military Lot No. 383, containing 50 acres, assessed to the Hubbard Coal Mining Company, and being part of that which was conveyed by Thomas O'Neil and others to the Hubbard Coal Mining Company, by deed dated June 29, 1918, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T. No. 74, folio 321, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The bill states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than a year and a day from the date of sale has expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 11th day of August, 1958, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having general circulation in Garrett County, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 3rd day of November, 1958, and redeem the property and answer the bill, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights or redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiff a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

Grantsville Grabs Lead With Two Wins

Grantsville's Sluggers took over sole possession of first place in the Pen-Mar Baseball league Sunday when they defeated Salisbury 8 to 2 while the Barrelville team finally caught up with Hyndman and scored a 6-3 victory. Hyndman had been leading the league all summer.

Bobby Dawson pitched a three-hitter as Grantsville reeled off its fifth consecutive win and took a half game lead over Hyndman. It was Dawson's seventh in a row. He fanned five and issued two passes.

Grantsville got 13 safeties. Junie Perry blasted a two-run triple and solo homer and batted in three runs. Don Wengerd smacked a three-bagger and two singles. Dawson rapped a double and a pair of singles. Johnny Keister and Ralston collected two hits each. Grantsville, in sweeping the series from Salisbury, scored eight runs in the four games played.

Grantsville has now won 19 games and lost five. Hyndman has an 18-5 record.

Grantsville's other victory on Saturday was against Wellersburg, 22 to 7. Grantsville scored in every inning and lambasted the offerings of four Wellersburg hurlers. Perry walloped a pair of homers. Joe Wengerd had three doubles and a single, Don Wengerd a double and home run, T. Cain three singles, Rabbit Keister, pair of singles, Gracie a triple and single and John Keister a three-base blast.

Benson, secretary of agriculture, said if Congress failed to produce an acceptable farm bill before adjournment a special session would be justified.
